Marin Trial Guarded

Despite the blast that destroyed a courtroom he had used, acting Presiding Superior Judge E. Warren McGuire went ahead with a scheduled trial in the Marin County Civic Center today.

McGuire used the bombed courtroom Monday in a calendar session at which he set the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25, to begin this morning — and it was that case at which he presided.

The courtroom was guarded by four uniformed and three plainclothes officers.

Walker, a black convict, is accused of assaulting a guard at San Quentin on Aug. 15, when he was to have been released.

Walker, who has two prior felony assault convictions and has been in state institutions since the age of 14, actually was discharged from prison, then re-arrested.

He was later released in $10,000 bail posted by North Beach Bonding, 369 Bryant St. here. Jeffrey L. Pollak, office manager, said the money was "fully secured" on Sept. 29, when the bail was arranged.

Two days later, he added, Walker himself came in and paid the bail premium of $1000. Pollack refused to say who had originally secured the loan.

Walker's attorney, Robert Birkie, announced in court this morning that one of his defense witnesses would be

George Jackson. Jackson is one of the three prisoners from Soledad Prison who are accused of murdering a guard there.

It was Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, who invaded Judge Haley's courtroom with guns August 7 in an attempt to free three convicts there. Judge Haley, Jonathan and two convicts died in the shootout that followed.

Santa Barbara, Seattle Hit, Too

By The Associated Press

Bombs exploded at three points along the Pacific Coast today, damaging an ROTC building at the University of Washington in Seattle, a National Guard armory at Santa Barbara, and the county courthouse in San Rafael. There were no injuries.

Damage at Seattle was estimated at $150,000. Authorities said it appeared that two bombs exploded with the force of 15 to 20 dynamite sticks. The blast at Santa Barbara blew a two-foot hole through a thick wall.

Santa Barbara police chief A. W. Trembly said:

"We certainly believe this bombing is connected with the Weatherman faction and other terrorist groups."

Seattle Police Capt. Marv Webbins said there apparently were two bombs, placed 35 feet apart in a ground-floor locker room.

The blast blew out windows, stripped plaster from the walls and tore off part of a locked exterior door and sparked a small fire in the building's basement.

"This has to be the work of a fanatic," said university Vice President Philip Cartwright. "I am shocked at such wanton destruction."

In Santa Barbara, Police Lt. Fred Baker said the blast and the two other bombings "would seem to indicate a conspiracy."

Trembly said detectives and FBI agents have several leads on the bomb, a large metal can containing an undetermined explosive.

"The person who planted the bomb was very inept and was probably more interested in getting away safely than doing any damage to the building," he said.

If the bomb had been placed higher on the wall, he said, it would have caused considerable damage, but, as it was, most of the blast's force was absorbed by the building's foundation.

"There are some odd things about the canister the bomb was placed in that may lead us to the bomber," he added.

Baker said there was no advance warning of the blast. Armory spokesmen estimated damage at about $2000. A spokesman said the blast didn't damage the arsenal's weapons, and apparently no attempt was made to steal them.

The explosions came just two days after the radical group Weatherman warned a "fall offensive" would soon be launched "from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The voice of the Weatherman warning—a tape recording—was identified as that of Bernardine Dohrn by her sister, Jennifer, a spokesman for the Youth International Party—Yippies—at whose New York headquarters the tape was played.

"Now we are everywhere, and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country," the tape said.

The recording, which generally attacked present American society, gave no specific plans.

Miss Dohrn and 11 other Weatherman members were indicted in April, charged with conspiracy to cross state lines to incite rioting.

Miss Dohrn dropped out of sight before March 16 when she failed to appear in court on charges of attacking three policemen during a Weatherman disturbance in Chicago in October 1969.

At 10:00 a.m., this date, Supv. [REDACTED], Bureau, Civil Rights Division, telephonically contacted this office and referred to our teletype of 10/8/70, in captioned matter in which we advised we were conducting no investigation. He stated that the Bureau had learned through sources that on this date President NIXON was making a statement to the public and in this statement was commenting that the FBI was conducting intense investigation of the three bombings on the West Coast, namely the one in Seattle, the one in Santa Barbara, and instant bombing.

Mr. [REDACTED] was advised we had answered earlier press inquiries that we were maintaining liaison only and offering coverage of out-of-state leads and facilities of the FBI Laboratory. He was also advised that Mr. [REDACTED] at present was with Attorney General MITCHELL and that it was not known whether the Attorney General had asked [REDACTED] if this office were investigating captioned bombing.

[REDACTED] requested we ascertain from [REDACTED] whether in fact he had so advised the Attorney General. After contacting you, I advised [REDACTED] that the Attorney General had not asked whether we were conducting investigation and as of now no comment has been made as to whether we are or are not investigating this case. He was further advised if the Attorney General asked if we were investigating this bombing in subsequent conversation, [REDACTED] would advise him we are investigating it, but otherwise would not volunteer information one way or the other.

Re Memo of Supervisor FLETCHER dated 10/9/70.

In addition to information provided in re memo, Supervisor [REDACTED] advised the writer this date that this office was not to attempt to take the case away from the Marin County Sheriff's Office and that our jurisdiction is derived from the presumption that the explosives utilized were transported interstate (Title 18, U.S. Code Section 837). Emphasis should be placed, however, on the prior kidnap and murder which took place at the same court house in which we are actively involved, as being the justification for actively investigating this particular bombing.

out that foiled the escape.

This morning's blast came after a San Francisco telephone operator received a call from an anonymous woman who said there was a "big bomb" in the courthouse and it would go off in five minutes.

Minutes after the operator relayed the information to the Marin County Sheriff's office, the explosion ripped the first floor level of the courthouse.

The courtrooms were closed at the time. There were no injuries. Sheriff's deputies were in the process of organizing a search of the building when the bomb went off.

Lt. Tom Lightfoot said it had been planted in a restroom adjacent to the courtroom of Judge Joseph Wilson. The blast ripped apart the wall separating the restroom from the courtroom.

A hole also was blown in the opposite wall of the restroom, damag ing a second courtroom. Lighting fixtures were shattered. Furnishings were in shambles.

Pipes were broken in toilets and water about an inch deep flowed through a hallway until repair crews turned off the flow.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, one of the first on the scene, speculated that the bomb was dynamite but gave no other details.

The operator who took the anonymous call described the voice as that of "an excited young woman."

The entire floor was sealed off to the press and public this morning while a team of state and county investigators made an inch by inch inspection and collected evidence.

Judge Wilson is the presiding officer of the Marin County Superior Court and has been conducting a number of hearings and preliminary examinations at San Quentin Prison in an effort to facilitate courtroom security as a result of the earlier shootout.

Just a week ago, however, Judge Wilson told the county board of supervisors his study panel had decided against holding criminal trials within San Quentin Prison walls. The proposal had been questioned in many legal circles.

"All of us have grave doubts as to whether it is possible for a fair trial to take place within the prison," Judge Wilson informed the board.

The supervisors held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss additional security measures for the civic center, temporary quarters for the bombed-out judges and repairs to the courthouse.

Marin Civic Center Blast Follows Phoned Warning

A powerful bomb early today wrecked a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center that was used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

It blew out two opposite walls of the room, damaged a courtroom next door, and caused spotty flooding of corridors in the new wing, opened last December.

No one was injured but a watchman had punched his timeclock at that location only six minutes before the bomb, believed to be dynamite, went off.

3 in West

The explosion was one of three that rocked West Coast facilities in about four hours.

The courtroom involved is officially assigned to Superior Judge Joseph Wilson, and was used on Monday by Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire during Wilson's vacation.

McGuire has conducted most of the preliminary stages of the trial of Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who survived the Aug. 7 Civic Center shootout in which Superior Judge Harold Haley was killed. Wilson also has sat on some of the Magee hearings.

Immediately after the explosion, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney Bruce Bales and four of the five members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors went into an emergency session.

McGuire and other superior court judges also went

Single Entry

It was McGuire who announced the conclusions, saying that the Marin courts would proceed with "business as usual" and that the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center would adopt a search-before-entrance policy.

"We're going to have to secure this Hall of Justice," he said. "We're going to need a security set-up which will allow entry only at a single point."

"Everyone is going to have to be checked in and out, searched, et cetera."

The new Hall of Justice wing is connected to the administrative complex of the Civic Center by pedestrian passageways on two levels. These, the judge said, will have to be sealed off.

"I assume this can be done rather expeditiously," He added:

"If the intent of this bombing was to intimidate or delay the courts, it is not going to be successful."

Phone Call

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m., roughly five minutes after an anonymous warning to a San Francisco phone operator.

Deputy Sheriff Ron Spurrell said the call was "from an anonymous, excited, young-sounding woman" who said:

"Listen, I won't repeat this. There's a big bomb in the courthouse in San Rafael going off in five minutes."

Spurrell alerted all men on duty to begin a search of the building — a routine procedure because there have been many recent bomb threats there — and the shakedown was just starting when the explosion shook the Civic Center.

The bomb had been planted in a women's room on the first level of the Frank Lloyd Wright architectural creation. The restroom is backed up against the wall of Judge Wilson's courtroom.

It exploded with such force that it blew the wall across the courtroom, blasting a hole in the opposite wall and exposing pipes and ventilation ducts there. The courtroom on the other side of Wilson's was also damaged.

Holes were ripped in the walls of a men's room about 50 yards across a lobby area, and plaster was shaken from the walls in corridors and courtrooms more than 100 yards away.

Water from broken pipes ran down the red-tiled corridors and gathered in puddles. Hours after the blast, water began dripping from other ruptured pipes so that it literally seemed to be raining beneath the graceful archway for auto entrance to the center.

Aug. 7 Violence

One puddle of water accumulated at the entrance to the courtroom, 70 yards down the corridor, where Judge Haley, three women jurors and a prosecutor were kidnapped to start the Aug. 7 shooting.

Judge Wilson's courtroom, freakishly, suffered little damage to the furnishings, although they were covered with powder from sound-proofing material.

Judge McGuire was to have presided this morning in the trial of Tommy Walker, a black convict accused of assaulting a San Quentin guard shortly before his scheduled release.

Marin Courtroom Bombed--Blasts in Two Other Cities

Plot Is

Suspected

By Robert Popp

The elegant Marin civic center in San Rafael was rocked early yesterday by a bomb that turned one courtroom into a shambles.

The explosion was one of three that went off on the Pacific Coast within an hour of each other.

The other two damaged an ROTC building in Seattle and a National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

TIME

Marin county Sheriff Louis Mountanos said the San Rafael blast occurred at 1:27 a.m. in the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center. Clocks in the building stopped at that moment. There were no injuries.

About 1:22 a.m., a San Francisco telephone operator called the sheriff's office and reported that she had just spoken to an excited young female who warned that a bomb would go off in the Marin courthouse in five minutes.

Deputies at the civic center had just begun a search when the blast shook the building.

Donald Frost, director of public works, estimated the damage at $25,000. He said the building was not, however structurally damaged, he said.

The explosion followed by only two months the civic center gun battle in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three other men were killed.

SECURITY

Marin supervisors, judges and lawmen held a series of conferences yesterday during which it was decided to tighten up on security for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building, which is located north of the main area of San Rafael.

More armed guards will be assigned to the hall. Persons entering certain courts will be searched and the Hall of Justice will be sealed off so that only one entrance will be available to the public.

Acting Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire, after meeting with the sheriff, declared:

"This action is not going to prevent the courts from functioning. We're going to have business as usual."

"If this was an attempt to intimidate or delay court action, it is not going to be successful."

Less than two hours after the judge made these remarks, a new bomb threat was telephoned to the sheriff's office.

A woman mumbled that there was "a bomb in a waste basket."

As a result, approximately 2000 persons at the civic center were hastily ordered out. They remained outside while the building was searched from 12:28 p.m. to 1:05 a.m.

Later, deputies arrested Patricia Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson drive, Mil Valley, on charges of making a false bomb report.

Mrs. Coy gave her name when placing the call, police said.

If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of three years in prison or one year in the county jail. She is being held in lieu of $5000 bond.

Adding to the day's tensions at the Hall of Justice was the start of the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25.

Walker, who is charged with assaulting two San Quentin guards before being released from prison, is free on $10,000 bail.

WITNESS

His attorney, Robert Birkie of San Rafael, has said that he will call George Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Three now being held at San Quentin, as a witness.

(Jackson and the two other convicts are charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad state prison. It was an apparent effort to force their release that led to the August gun battle at the civic center in which Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, was among those killed.)

The jury selection phase of Walker's trial began on schedule in Judge McGuire's court, which is two courtrooms removed from the site of the bomb blast.

DETECTOR

Unusual security precautions were taken. An electronic metal detecting device was used for the first time at a Marin courtroom doorway, and all persons entering the court were searched.

The bomb that exploded yesterday morning had been placed in a wall between a women's restroom and the court of Presiding Judge Joseph Wilson, who is on vacation.

The force of the blast sent the wall flying across Judge Wilson's courtroom. It slammed into the opposite wall and buckled it.

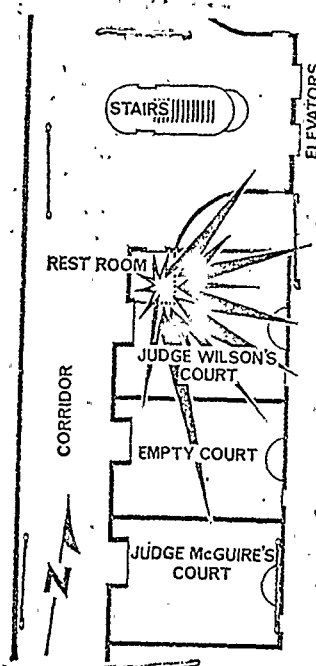

Lighting fixtures, chairs, tables, railings were tumbled and shattered.

FLOODING

The blast ripped through water pipes, causing some flooding, and sent two pieces of pipe flying 50 feet across a lobby into the men's room.

Investigators from the Sixth Army bomb squad and the State Division of Criminal identification and Investigation arrived and began sifting the rubble.

By the end of the day they had failed to identify the type of explosive substance used or the type of device that set it off.

Nixon Orders
FBI Action

By Hubert J. Bernhard

A group calling itself "The Weatherman Underground" claimed today it was responsible for the bombing of the Hall of Justice in the Marin County Civic Center yesterday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., meanwhile, President Nixon ordered the FBI to track down those responsible for the blast, and for other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

He also said he would sign immediately anti-bombing legislation that is expected to pass the Senate later today.

The bill would increase penalties for interstate transportation of explosives, and would permit the FBI to enter at once into the investigation of bombings on campuses that receive federal funds.

4 Letters

The "Weatherman" letter, typewritten and photo-statted white-on-black, was received by The Examiner this morning. It had been postmarked here last night.

A phone call that gave five minutes' warning of the bomb blast also came from San Francisco.

Three other letters, from different organizations claiming responsibility for the Seattle and Santa Barbara blasts and an abortive attempt at the University of California, were received by other agencies.

Those in Santa Barbara and Seattle noted that yesterday's attacks came on the third anniversary of the death of Che Guevara, Cuban revolutionary leader who was shot while trying to foment an uprising in Bolivia.

The "Weatherman" letter did not say this, directly, but above its Oct. 8 dateline was the phrase: "The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla."

'Dedicate —'

"Last night," it declared, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

"We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York, and to all black prisoners of war. Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika."

"We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of Q-Wing and the other inmates of Soledad Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air."

"And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters' — Jonathan Jackson and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela — still alive and free! — who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster."

Shootout Link

The final words were a plea for the freedom of "all political prisoners."

In the dedication to Jackson and the mention of Angela Davis, the letter linked yesterday's bombing to the shooting in the Marin Civic Center on Aug. 8 in which four persons were killed.

It was Jackson, one of those shot, who smuggled arms into the courtroom of Superior Judge Harold Haley, another of the victims. And Miss Davis is on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list, charged with having supplied him with the weapons.

Bandwagon

The Weatherman organization is a group of radical students that split off from the Students for a Democratic Society because they chose to follow a path of violence

greater than that of SDS.

In a New York press conference Tuesday, the tape-recorded voice of Bernardette Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, said the group was planning to launch a new "offensive."

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia of the Marin County Sheriff's office noted, however, that it was "strictly speculation as to whether this is valid or it's just someone jumping on the bandwagon."

"They're all looking for a vehicle — anything which appears to be a strike against the bastion of Establishment or law enforcement," he added.

Battaglia noted that the photostat technique would make it difficult, if not impossible, to identify the typewriter on which the note was written.

With a K

The other claims for the bombings came, in Seattle where a Naval ROTC at the University of Washington was hit, from "The Quarter Moon Tribe," and in Santa Barbara, where a National Guard Armory was blown up, from "The Perfect Park

Home Grown Garden Society."

Santa Barbara's group also mentioned the New York prison uprising and Soledad and dedicated the act to "Janice and Jimmy" — apparent references to Janice Joplin and Jimi Hendrix, rock singers who died recently of drug overdoses.

All the letters followed the revolutionary style of spelling America with a "k."

Another group calling itself "The Purple Sunshine Clan," claimed it had blown up a building at the University of California in Berkeley. That bomb, however, never exploded.

The special delivery letter to The Examiner arrived with 10 cents postage due. That received by the Associated Press in Seattle had 15 cents due.

By Stephen Cook

An angry Marin County judge says the courts have brought on an era of violent acts like yesterday's bombing of the Marin Hall of Justice by "pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice."

There were these other developments in the wake of the powerful early morning blast which caused an estimated $250,000 damage:

Marin Sheriff Louis Mountanos ordered his 61 patrolmen to begin immediately to work 12 hour shifts instead of the regular eight hours.

The sprawling Hall of Justice was emptied in a state of near panic yesterday afternoon after a new bomb threat. Deputies booked a Strawberry woman for making the threat.

The FBI and state criminal investigators joined Marin authorities in sitting the bomb wreckage in an attempt to determine what kind of bomb was used.

Superior Judge Samuel Gardiner said in a statement: "The courts brought this on themselves by pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice instead of maximizing the mass welfare and interests of the public."

Consequence

"As a consequence, rebellious elements feel they have a reasonably good license to do what they want to do. As a trial judge, I will nevertheless take the rules as they are given me by the rest of the democracy, including the higher courts."

Gardiner told attorney William Weissich in his courtroom, "If anybody throws any bombs in, we'll throw them right back out."

When Weissich replied he felt safe in Gardiner's court, the judge went on: "I am going to say out loud that the courts have produced this era of violence by their tolerance."

"I will indulge in the statement as often as I can for a while. The era of violence we have on us was brought on by the courts by their era of tolerance. That is my opinion. I am going to broadcast it."

'Better Security'

He said the courts would not be intimidated by the bombings. "We took a job and we'll do it. There's nothing that can happen that will change the courts except we'll get a little better security."

Deputies said the 12:28 p.m. bomb threat which sent employees and visitors screaming and running out of the Frank Lloyd Wright building came from Patricia L. Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry.

The woman, deputies said, announced on the phone, "My name is Patricia Coy. I have placed a bomb on the courtroom floor inside a wastepaper basket."

Deputies said the woman, who was booked on a felony count of making a false report of a bomb, makes daily calls to the sheriff's office. Her bail was set at $5000.

A search of the building was called off after it was determined it was she who had made the call.

Added Patrolmen

Lt. Thomas Lightfoot said the longer shifts ordered by Mountanos after meeting with county supervisors would have the effect of adding four additional patrolmen to each shift.

The bomb, placed in a women's restroom, wrecked a courtroom in the Hall of Justice that was being used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

No one was injured in the blast, one of three which hit West Coast facilities in a four-hour period early yesterday.

Marin Public Works Director Donald Frost, who estimated damage at a quarter million dollars, said the explosion did no structural damage to the building.

Weatherman LetterA Bomb About the
Marin County
Courthouse*Bombing*A Rush of Claims for Others

By George Draper

A letter signed, "The Weatherman Underground" claimed credit yesterday for the bomb explosion that shattered a courtroom at the Marin Civic Center.

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m. Thursday, closely followed by other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

A fourth bomb, a dud, was found on the campus of the University of California in Berkeley.

Letters claiming responsibility for each of these bombs were received yesterday.

While investigators were analyzing the letters, a number of telephoned bomb threats were received in the Bay Area.

No bombs exploded, but authorities were sufficiently nervous to order evacuation for limited periods of time of the Marin Civic Center, Mills College and the Student Union on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NAMES

In addition to the Weatherman Underground, the letters were signed with such unusual names as The Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, The Purple Sunshine Clan and the Quarter Moon Tribe.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, chief of investigators for the Marin sheriff's office, said there was no way of knowing immediately whether the Weatherman Underground letter was authentic.

"It would be strictly speculation to say it is valid or it is not," he said.

Police elsewhere were cautious about accepting the validity of the letters.

A Santa Barbara investigator, referring to the letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, said: "A lot of people claim the credit after a bombing."

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a spokesman for President Nixon said the FBI has been instructed to investigate the bombings in California and Washington state.

Mr. Nixon, in addition, cited the bombings as additional evidence of the need for prompt enactment of the administration's anti-bombing legislation. (The measure now is in Senate-House conference.)

The letters are interesting from many standpoints.

UNSOLVED

Some groups took additional credit for previous bombings that have yet to be solved by police.

At least two of the groups boasted that Thursday's bombings were in honor of the memory of guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara, who was killed in Bolivia on October 8, 1937.

The Purple Sunshine Clan, which claimed credit for the bomb that failed to go off in Berkeley, noted that "last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots."

(Twelve Weatherman leaders are under Federal indictment for these riots and 11 of them are still being hunted.)

The Quarter Moon Tribe, which employs a quarter moon with an arrow through it as an insignia, took credit for the Seattle bombing and sent the only letter written by hand.

The writing, done with a fine point pen, reveals a curious style. Each letter is formed by straight lines. There are no curves.

All the letters received in the various cities were photostatic copies. There were no originals. This, according to police, is a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

Finally, each of the four letters revealed a certain similarity of rhetoric directed against the Establishment and in each letter the action was referred to as "Amerika."

In the Bay Area, at least, the letters carried post office cancellations bearing different dates and times.

WEATHERMAN

The Weatherman Underground letters, for instance, were received by two newspapers and a radio station.

Two of these special delivery letters were postmarked: San Francisco, October 8. But one was received at the post office at 8:45 p.m. and the other at 11:30 p.m.

The Chronicle city desk received a copy of the same letter postmarked: San Francisco, October 9, 7 a.m.

HEADING

This letter begins with the heading:

"The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla, October 8, 1970."

The letter opens with a brief declarative sentence that — despite the $250,000 damage to the Marin courtroom — makes a tremendously exaggerated boast.

"Last night," it says, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

DEDICATION

The letter goes on to say that the bombing is dedicated to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York and "to all black prisoners of war."

"Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in Amerika (sic) into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika," the letter adds.

In conclusion, The Weatherman Underground letter salutes "a new breed of freedom fighters."

They are identified as Jonathan Jackson, who was killed along with three other persons in the August 7 shootout at the Marin Civic Center, and Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, a former philosophy teacher at the University of California in Los Angeles, is now wanted for murder for allegedly supplying four guns for the August 7 shootout.

CLAN

The Gazette in Berkeley received a letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan which, as it turned out, was somewhat presumptuous. The clan's bomb never went off.

In any event, the letter begins:

"This morning we blew up The Center for the Study of Law and Society, which has investigated black rebellion and Telegraph (avenue) riots."

"The power of youth in this country is emerging: dope and rock concerts; strikes and street riots; rocks and bombs."

"Last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots. Since then an underground has developed which is capable of bombing pig stations and liberating Tim Leary. Right on."

This letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan was ended: "From the folks who bombed the Oakland pig station."

PARK

Perfect Park is the name of a kind of People's Park at Isla Vista near the University of California campus at Santa Barbara.

The letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society was sent special delivery to the campus radio station — KCSB. It opens on a poetic note.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically with flaming napalm or gray-invisible pollution, mentally with televised, transistorized though control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually with smack (heroin) and with concentration camps called prisons."

MOVEMENT

The letter states that "everywhere the people are moving against Pig Amerika" and goes on to describe the success of this revolutionary movement.

"As the beast falls, a new culture of life arises: our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, their Bank of Amerika bafn- ing to the ground."

In Seattle, the letter mailed by the Quarter Moon Tribe took credit for Thursday's bombing of an OTC headquarters at the University of Washington.

"No longer will the death culture use campuses for bases of imperialism," the tribe warned. "We intend to disarm, dismantle, disable and destroy the military and pig might of Amerika, wherever we are, however we can."

The letter referred to "the crumbling Amerikan empire" surrounded by righteous guerrillas.

"As they tighten the noose," it proclaimed, "we tear up and trash from within."

SALUTE

The tribe concluded with a salute to "the energy of our sisters that pushed us beyond the music of Leila Khaled's laugh." She is the Arab female hijacker, recently released from a London jail.

Meanwhile, many bomb threats were reported but no more bombs exploded.

Some 950 students and teachers at Mills College hastily evacuated their homes and dormitories at 8:30 a.m. yesterday following a phoned bomb threat. The buildings returned to normal at 10 a.m.

At 2:23 p.m., the fire alarm sounded in the Marin Civic Center and 2000 nervous persons left the buildings there. A search revealed no bombs and the buildings were reopened at 4:15 p.m.

Another telephoned threat from a man identifying himself as a Weatherman forced the evacuation of the Student Union on Berkeley campus about 3:15 p.m.

UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
BOMBING OF COURTROOM
NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT,
CIVIC CENTER,
SAN RAFAEL,
MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA
OCTOBER 8, 1970

Sheriff Louis Mountanos, Marin County, California, advised October 8, 1970; that at 1:30 a.m., a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, doing extensive damage to courtroom number four, Superior Court and damaging the wall to an unused adjoining courtroom. He advised that a San Francisco telephone operator advised the Sheriff's Office that at approximately 1:25 a.m., October 8, 1970, she had received a telephone call from an extremely excited young woman who said that a bomb was set to go off at the Marin County Civic Center in approximately five minutes.

Sheriff Mountanos advised that the bomb had been in a restroom immediately adjacent to courtroom number four. Damage was estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. Type of device unknown and authorities continuing their efforts to determine the type of explosive utilized and type of device used to detonate this explosive. Authorities believe explosive was probably TNT. No injuries reported as result of explosion.

The letter received by UPI is signed "The Purple Sunshine Clan" and claims credit, prematurely, for bombing the Center For the Study of Law and Society and the Oakland Police Station.

The Laboratory is requested to make the following determinations:

1. Are there latent fingerprints on the letters and envelopes? If any, do they compare with known prints of Weatherman fugitives?
2. What is the type of chemically-treated paper used for the letters and for what type of copying machine is it manufactured?
3. Are the specimen communications on the same types of treated paper as samples of other Weatherman notes?
4. Are the typewriting on the specimen communications from the same typewriter? How do they compare with other notes received from radical elements?
5. What type of envelopes are the specimens submitted and where are they available?
6. What investigative or intelligence data can be obtained from the postage stamps? Could the postage stamps from both envelopes come from a single roll, sheet, or page and how do they compare with other stamps used in other letters from radical elements?
7. Does the reproduction process indicate that the specimens compare with others as to a particular copying machine being used?

This Day of the Heroic Surrender
October 8, 1970

Last night we blew up the Hall of Unjustices, New York County Civil Center.

We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin,
Solomon, and New York, and to all black prisoners in New England where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against the America.

We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of 10, 11 and the other inmates of Solomon Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air.

And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters -- [redacted] and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela -- still alive and free -- who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster.

Marin Security Steps

Marin Sheriff Louis Montanos was giving that county's Board of Supervisors a report on new security measures at the civic center yesterday when one of his deputies passed him a note saying that Angela Davis had been arrested.

Montanos was noticeably affected by the news that the woman accused of masterminding the fatal attempted escape at the civic center August 7 was in custody.

He halted only momentarily, however, before listing a new set of security measures around the sprawling county complex that includes weekend closing of both the Hall of Justice and the county administration building.

For the first time yesterday, bailiffs and matrons manned the three open entrances to the administration building and Hall of Justice, searching bags and briefcases and, in some cases, frisking visitors.

There were few objections from persons entering the building, and some were heard to comment that it was "about time."

Montanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce said deputies are working 12-hour shifts seven days a week guarding the complex designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Bruce said, however, that plans call for the development of a new security division in the sheriff's department, the cost of which has not yet been estimated.

Plans are also under way to issue identification cards to employees of the building.

Montanos said the weekend closing of the county administration building, which includes the county library, will be only temporary — possibly a matter of weeks.

The Hall of Justice was the target last week of a terrorist bomb that wrecked one courtroom.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, in charge of the inspectors division, urged yesterday that anyone who has noticed anything unusual — "however trivial" — before or after the bombing should contact the Marin sheriff's office.

2 More Bombings On West Coast

Time bombs exploded early yesterday at the University of Washington in Seattle and at the National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

Yet another bomb, placed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley failed to go off.

The timing of these three bombs, together with that of the one that exploded in San Rafael, indicated they had been set to explode at approximately one-hour intervals at four points along the West Coast.

FUGITIVE

The West Coast bombings came only two days after Bernardine Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, announced via a tape recording the launching of a "fall offensive."

"Now we are everywhere," her taped voice stated at a New York press conference held by the Youth International Party — Yippies — "and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country."

The Seattle explosion came at 2:45 a.m. in Clark Hall, where Air Force and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps offices are located.

WARNING

There was a telephone warning 25 minutes before the bomb exploded with the force of 15 to 20 sticks of dynamite. Officials estimated damage at $150,000.

Captain Marvin Webbing of the Seattle bomb squad said he believed two charges were placed 35 feet apart in a ground-level locker room and exploded almost simultaneously.

The blast ripped holes in the floor and ceiling of the room and smashed doors and windows throughout one wing of the three-story building.

At Berkeley, a woman called UC police at 3:03 a.m.

to say a bomb would go off in five minutes at the Center for the Study of Law and Society.

DISCOVERY

Officer Fred Hourel spotted the device in a heating duct on the outside and under the old two-story building.

It consisted of a two-inch-thick box filled with powder and rigged to go off with a time fuse. Bomb experts deactivated it at 4:15 a.m.

The Santa Barbara bomb exploded at 4:10 a.m. without prior warning.

It buckled part of the armory wall, broke some pipes and windows and rocked homes in the eastern part of the city.

LEADS

Santa Barbara Police Chief A. W. Trembly said last night that "we have some leads in which could conceivably lead to the arrest of the culprits" in that bombing, but offered no other details.

He added, however, that evidence found at the scene indicated the bomber was inept and more interested in getting away than in doing damage to the building.

The bomb, Trembly said, was placed on the ground outside the building and most of the force of the blast was absorbed by the building foundation. Had it been placed in some higher spot, he said, the damage would have been more severe.

ELECTRICAL

Investigators said the explosive substance was unknown but the charge, they said, was set off by an electrical device.

The Santa Barbara National Guard Armory serves as the base for the Headquarters Battery, 144th Field Artillery Battalion, which is attached to the 40th Armored Brigade.

Major H. G. Nichols, battalion executive officer, said no signs of ammunition were taken.

UNSUBS; BOMBING OF COURTROOM NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT, CIVIC CENTER, SAN RAFAEL,
BOMBING MATTER

On 10/8/70 (Thursday) at 1:30 AM, a bomb, which had been placed in the women's restroom adjacent to a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center, exploded causing extensive damage to the restroom, courtroom Number Four and the surrounding area. This bombing appeared to coincide with bombings occurring in the ROTC Building at the University of Washington in Seattle and the National Guard Armory at Santa Barbara. These bombings came two days after speaking for the Weatherman organization, warned of a "fall offensive" by that organization.

b7c

A member of the night maintenance crew at the Civic Center advised he noted a white male in his early twenties, cleancut, normal dress in the area at 10:20 PM. He also noted a white female in early twenties in the area on three occasions between 7:30 PM and 10:30 PM.

This case is receiving widespread publicity because it follows the recent kidnap and murder of Judge HALEY at the same Marin County Civic Center. President NIXON commented on these three bombings at a news conference indicating his interest in the matter and the Bureau has requested daily summary teletypes on the progress of the investigation.

All Agents are requested to contact security and racial informants for any knowledge regarding these bombings. Keeping in mind the general description of suspects, all Agents are requested to provide photographs to SA CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN of anyone meeting these general descriptions who have

In response to a telephone request from Inspector [REDACTED] the undersigned drove to San Rafael on October 8, 1970 and assisted in the investigation of the explosion which occurred in the Marin County Hall of Justice Building on October 8, 1970. At that time the explosion scene was examined and limited searching conducted for bomb parts and explosive residues. A few exhibits were recovered and brought back to the laboratory. This report will only cover preliminary studies since it is our understanding that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over this investigation and has independently studied the crime scene and will conduct complete laboratory studies. Since this report is based upon preliminary observations it should not be considered conclusive insofar as the explosive type and charge is concerned. FBI Laboratory analyses may definitely identify the explosive employed and the mechanism used for initiating the explosion.

From a study of the scene it is apparent that the explosive charge was placed in the wall between the women's toilet and the eastward side of courtroom #4. It appears that the charge was between 40 and 45 inches above the floor in the wall on the northern side of the toilet. This toilet was the third one from the southern end of the restroom which is opposite the public mall. The complete wall separating the restroom from courtroom #4 was demolished except for a few support beams. The location of the explosive charge could readily be determined by the bending of piping, metal stall partitions and other destruction which was plainly visible. The explosion was obviously a large one and it appears it required a relatively large charge. Considerable damage was also done to the wall between courtrooms 4 and 5 in an area opposite from the location of the explosive charge in the women's restroom. The wall separating the women's restroom from the elevator lobby was also extensively damaged. Further, the walls between the women's toilet and the vestibule and between the women's toilet and the holding cell were shifted out of alignment. A large piece of metal was found to have traveled completely across the planter bed in the elevator lobby and embedded itself in the wooden paneled wall in the area of the men's toilet. Another piece of similar metal had penetrated completely through this wall and was found inside the wall between the men's toilet and courtroom #3.

From the extensive distorted condition of various pieces of metal and the splitting of some of these pieces it is very apparent that a high velocity explosion occurred. Tests conducted on various pieces of metal recovered disclosed the presence of nitrates on most of them but such material would be found after the explosion of most commercial explosive preparations. In no case was I able to detect ammonium nitrate. This is a common ingredient in most types of dynamite and normally we can detect such residues when regular dynamite has been exploded. While extensive chemical analyses have not been carried out there are indications that the explosive employed was some type of plastic explosive such as C-4. This does not tend to imply that C-4 must have been used but the velocity of the explosion and the lack of residues certainly indicate this as being a strong possibility.

While at the explosion scene the following items were secured by the undersigned:

1. Metal door found embedded exterior wall of men's toilet adjacent to courtroom #3.
2. Metal door found on floor of women's toilet in handicap stall.
3. Bent metal found at various locations in women's toilet and courtroom #4.

On October 14, 1970, Inspector [] delivered to the laboratory the following two additional exhibits:

4. Metal door inside wall of courtroom #3 next to men's toilet.
5. Metal button found in women's toilet.

As previously mentioned, limited preliminary testing disclosed nitrates on most of the above except for Item 2 but no ammonium nitrate was detected. Examination of the bent metal door found on the floor in the toilet for handicapped persons in the women's restroom closest to the public mall showed this to be a 12x12 metal access door. The metal is approximately 1/16 inch thick. One side the door is painted blue and has a latching device screw head. The opposite or inner side of the door contained the lock catch itself and on the other end a hinge. In the center was a manufacturer's paper label. This particular door was apparently broken from the wall at the time of the explosion and it was bent but not extensively damaged. It is apparent that it was not close to the explosion itself. The pieces of metal which were found in the wall of the men's toilet and in the wall of courtroom #3 (Items 1 and 4) are two parts of a door identical to Item 2. They contain the same type of hinge, catch, manufacturer's paper label and painted surfaces. Together these weigh approximately the same as the metal door in Item 2 and correspond with the latter in all respects. They have been literally split apart and bent and twisted severely. In my opinion these two pieces of a metal door were very close to the explosive charge. While we have been unable to definitely prove the location of the access door into the wall behind the center toilet in the women's restroom, there was a type of pressure chamber connected to the piping at this location and there should have been an access door in the wall in front of this tank-type device. I, therefore, believe that it can be established that this door was opened and the explosive materials placed in the wall behind the third toilet in the women's restroom northward from the holding cell. It should also be pointed out that the small metal button found in the women's restroom (Item 5) is like the screwdriver notched button in the access door (Item 2) but missing from the metal door portion (Item 1). Further, a small piece of a spring was found inside the door of toilet stall #3. This door was bent almost in half and contained a large hole with a diameter of about 10 inches which had been blasted through the upper center of the door. The bottom edge of the hole was approximately 30 inches above the bottom of the door and these doors are mounted about 12-1/2 inches from the floor. The spring found in the toilet door is similar to springs used on the hinges in access doors mounted on restroom doors in the Hall of Justice Building. This spring apparently came from the hinge on the door in the wall which is represented by Items 1 and 4.

While in Marin County on October 8, Inspector [redacted] and the undersigned did search through the debris for clock or other bomb fragments. This search however was very limited and consisted primarily of a general observation of the scene and visual inspection of numerous buckets of debris picked up in the blast area. A further search was to be conducted the following day when the undersigned was not present and it is our understanding that this was carried out by the Marin County Sheriff's Office Identification Bureau personnel and Special Agents of the FBI. At that time other materials of significance were recovered.

The above-listed exhibits are being returned to Inspector [redacted]. If further studies by the CII Laboratory are desired, we will be most willing to carry them out but it appears presently unnecessary since the FBI is conducting independent studies and have in their possession additional recovered items.

Mr. [REDACTED], Identification Officer, Marin County Sheriff's Office, San Rafael, California, furnished enclosure to SA THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, 10/14/70.

[REDACTED] further advised he assisted [REDACTED] in conducting various examinations on two pieces of metal obtained from the scene of the bombing, on 10/14/70. It was noted both pieces of metal were 1/16" steel, with traces of blue paint similar to the color used on the utility panel access doors in all of the restrooms on the court floor level of the Hall of Justice. Both items also obtained portions of a manufacturer's label similar to labels on other panel doors. Both portions weighed out to about two pounds 12 ounces. They noted this weight to be within four ounces of a complete panel door.

Discrepancy in weight was attributed to the fact the screw button latch assembly was missing from the retrieved items, and they concluded both pieces were the panel door which had originally been blown from the restroom wall in the location of stall #4.

Further comparison of the two pieces indicated they had been ripped apart, vertically, midway between the two outer edges of the panel. Mr. [] advised this would seem to indicate the explosive device was probably placed directly behind this panel.

Mr. [] stated he is now in possession of both these pieces of metal and will make them available to the FBI Laboratory upon request. Residue examinations were made of both pieces of metal with only general nitrate reactions occurring. No ammonium nitrate was detected.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

On October 11, 1970, SA CHARLES L. KILLION, assisted by SAs THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN, [redacted] and [redacted]; and Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, conducted examinations of the scene of an explosion which occurred in the area of Superior Courtroom No. 4, Hall of Justice Building, Marin County Civic Center. Examinations continued on October 12, 1970, with SA KILLION being assisted by SAs RAYMOND N. BYERS and KENT Q. BRISBY, Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted].

A wall separates Superior Courtroom No.4 and a ladies restroom. The explosion completely destroyed this wall and extensive damage was caused throughout the courtroom and the restroom. The space within the wall was about 24 inches wide. Water pipes were within the wall.

Based upon the characteristics of the damage, a high explosive charge, such as dynamite, detonated in the wall between the courtroom and the ladies room.

Access to the restroom was from a public corridor. Six stalls were located on the common wall between the courtroom and the restroom. Other similar restrooms were examined and it was found that a hinged steel access door into the wall was located in one of the stalls. The access door was latched with one latch having a screw head slot which permitted opening the door with an object such as a screwdriver. The access door opening into the wall measured 10-3/4 inches high by 11-3/8 inches wide. The center of the opening was 63 inches from the floor.

Fragments of metal which appeared to be from clock parts, and numerous pieces of metal and debris were obtained for further laboratory examination. No identifiable blasting cap, battery or container parts were found.

Mrs. [redacted] stated she was at work on the night of October 7, 1970, in her usual area in the Civic Center. As is her normal procedure, she began work at 6 p.m. and the first area she cleaned was the private restrooms in the courtrooms. She completed the cleaning of those restrooms at approximately 8 p.m. at which time she began cleaning the restrooms located in the public corridor on the south end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building. She completed the cleaning of the two restrooms in that area approximately at 8:45 p.m. and she then went to the restrooms located on the north end of the courts' floor of the Hall of Justice. She first cleaned the ladies restroom located adjacent to courtroom number 4, superior court, and completed the cleaning of that restroom at approximately 9:15 p.m. She stated she emptied the trashcan in the restroom first, and as is usual procedure, she looked through the trash but saw nothing unusual in it. She stated she also emptied the container used for sanitary napkins and saw nothing unusual in that container. She then completed cleaning of the restroom and saw nothing of an unusual nature on the floor or in any area of the restroom. [] She stated that numerous phone calls have also been made to her home that were harassment type calls.

Mrs. [] advised that she does not know for sure but she suspects that the anonymous phone calls that have been made to her employer and to her residence were made by a [] a female in her early 30s, with whom Mrs. [] husband has been living. When told that the phone call to the police department was made by a person who sounded to be a male, Mrs. [] advised that she would not be surprised if her husband was the person who made the call inasmuch as in the past he has threatened that he would "get even with her".

$200,000 for Marin Courts' Security

Security of public buildings costs money. buildings in the Marin County government center.

The bill is going to be at least $200,000 in Marin County, scene of the multiple death shootout and the bomb-blasting of a courtroom.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has approved in principle the employment of 17 new deputy sheriffs to staff a new security division of the sheriff's office.

Longer Shifts

Until the new officers are on duty, all deputies in the department are working 12 hour shifts, seven days a week.

The supervisors approved the increase in personnel after having added seven bailiffs to the security forces of the courts earlier.

The judge and three others were slain.

The supervisors also voted to curtail the use of public

Schedules

The Hall of Justice will close at 5 p.m. each day and be locked during the week-end. The administration building, which includes the county library and provides meeting rooms for numerous groups, also will be closed at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

Supervisors said the administration building closing would be only temporary.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was in the court room of Judge ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN, JR., at Municipal Court, Department 3, Marin County. He advised that during the afternoon, he observed a female in court who resembled the photograph of a composite drawing of a female who was seen by a janitorial employee around the court house on the day preceding the bombing. This composite drawing of the female is dated October 10. [redacted] stated that this female remained in court from 2:00 p.m., until 5:00 p.m., and that during this time, she frequently left the court room for short periods. [redacted] stated that he particularly remembered this female because she took her shoes off and that he had ordered her to replace the shoes. She replied, "No baby, my feet are swollen". He further recalled that during the afternoon, she sidled up to a 45-year-old Negro male who frequents court and stated in a loud voice, "You know, I was raised by Negroes". [redacted] stated that he checked the court calendar in an effort to determine this female's name, hoping that her case would soon be heard and she would leave. However, her name was not on the calendar. He stated that he has not seen her on previous occasions in court. Further, she had nothing to do with the defendants on trial in court that day. The following is a description of the unknown female provided by [redacted]:

Height	5'7"
Face	Round
Dress	Green knit suit
Complexion	Fair
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Unknown, wearing round, modern sunglasses
Appearance	Sloppy

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was on duty in Department 3 and Department 5 at various times during the day. He advised that he observed nothing unusual or outstanding during his tour of duty on that day. Composite photographs of a drawing furnished by a maintenance employee were displayed to [redacted]. [redacted] explained that he has had seven years of art training and stated that the photograph of the male, dated October 10, is an excellent likeness of an individual he has observed in court involving theft of explosives from the Hutchinson Company in Greenbrae, California. He recalled this individual as [redacted] who comes up for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] pointed out that the nose, the mouth and the eyes and eyebrows all closely resemble those of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that he could not recall seeing [redacted] at the court house on October 7, 1970, the day preceding the bombing. [redacted] pointed out that two individuals were on trial in Department 3, Municipal Court, Marin County, on October 7. These individuals were charged with violation of California Penal Code Section 242, Battery. Due to the length of the court calendar, these two individuals were at the Marin County Court House between 5:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m., and had with them three friends. He described them all as Negro except one male Caucasian. He named these individuals as [redacted] (phonetic) and [redacted] (phonetic). He stated that these two individuals were reported to have been Black Panthers. However, he had no personal knowledge of their affiliation.

Sergeant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed on October 13, 1970, at Police Headquarters, Fairfax. A composite photograph dated October 10, 1970, of an individual seen in the Marin County Court House during late evening on October 7, 1970, preceding the bombing which occurred in the early morning hours of October 8, was displayed to [redacted]. He immediately remarked, "Where did you get the picture of [redacted]?" Further questioning revealed that he actually believed this was a drawing of [redacted]. He was informed that this was a picture of an unknown individual who was observed in the Marin County Court House. He commented that except for the length of the hair, he actually believed that it was a drawing made of [redacted]. [redacted] recalled that he had arrested [redacted] in March, 1970, on a charge of burglary of various bombing materials from the Hutchinson Company, a quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California. [redacted] recalled that he observed a car parked near the quarry with Minnesota license plates and after examining the car, was prepared to leave when he was hailed by an individual who later turned out to be [redacted]. He requested [redacted] to allow a search of the automobile and its trunk. The trunk of this automobile revealed boxes of dynamite, blasting caps, fuses, and various other material used in blasting. Further, [redacted] pointed out various locations near the quarry where he had secreted other blasting material. [redacted] recalled that he was not prepared to handle these various explosive materials but that [redacted] assured him that they were safe to handle and that he, [redacted], knew how to deal with explosives. In spite of [redacted] statement that they were safe to handle, [redacted] secured professional help from the Presidio of the Army to recover the secreted explosive materials.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is presently awaiting sentencing on charges arising out of the arrest on that occasion and that his case was heard by the Marin County Court authorities. FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 10/16/70

Lieutenant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed in conjunction with Sergeant [redacted] of the Fairfax Police Department. [redacted] advised that he lives two doors away from the [redacted] residence. He advised that in February, 1970, the Hutchinson Company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California, was burglarized and that the case has never been solved. Stolen at that time were various blasting material and explosives. Among the items taken were blasting caps used to set off dynamite explosions. These blasting caps were both electrical and fuse type. [redacted] stated that since the robbery, various explosions have been going off in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the [redacted] residence, both in a school yard and near a railroad track. [redacted] stated that he has recovered two copper blasting caps that were duds and displayed one of these blasting caps. He stated that the serial numbers on these caps corresponded with the series of those stolen from the Hutchinson Company in the unsolved burglary. It is [redacted] opinion that [redacted] was responsible for the prior burglary and may still have in his position an Atlas blasting machine which has not been recovered, as well as other blasting material which the company valued at $345.22.

Marin Trial Guarded

Despite the blast that destroyed a courtroom he had used, acting Presiding Superior Judge E. Warren McGuire went ahead with a scheduled trial in the Marin County Civic Center today.

McGuire used the bombed courtroom Monday in a calendar session at which he set the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25, to begin this morning — and it was that case at which he presided.

The courtroom was guarded by four uniformed and three plainclothes officers.

Walker, a black convict, is accused of assaulting a guard at San Quentin on Aug. 15, when he was to have been released.

Walker, who has two prior felony assault convictions and has been in state institutions since the age of 14, actually was discharged from prison, then re-arrested.

He was later released in $10,000 bail posted by North Beach Bonding, 369 Bryant St. here. Jeffrey L. Pollak, office manager, said the money was "fully secured" on Sept. 29, when the bail was arranged.

Two days later, he added, Walker himself came in and paid the bail premium of $1000. Pollack refused to say who had originally secured the loan.

Walker's attorney, Robert Birkie, announced in court this morning that one of his defense witnesses would be

George Jackson. Jackson is one of the three prisoners from Soledad Prison who are accused of murdering a guard there.

It was Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, who invaded Judge Haley's courtroom with guns August 7 in an attempt to free three convicts there. Judge Haley, Jonathan and two convicts died in the shootout that followed.

Santa Barbara, Seattle Hit, Too

By The Associated Press

Bombs exploded at three points along the Pacific Coast today, damaging an ROTC building at the University of Washington in Seattle, a National Guard armory at Santa Barbara, and the county courthouse in San Rafael. There were no injuries.

Damage at Seattle was estimated at $150,000. Authorities said it appeared that two bombs exploded with the force of 15 to 20 dynamite sticks. The blast at Santa Barbara blew a two-foot hole through a thick wall.

Santa Barbara police chief A. W. Trembly said:

"We certainly believe this bombing is connected with the Weatherman faction and other terrorist groups."

Seattle Police Capt. Marv Webbins said there apparently were two bombs, placed 35 feet apart in a ground-floor locker room.

The blast blew out windows, stripped plaster from the walls and tore off part of a locked exterior door and sparked a small fire in the building's basement.

"This has to be the work of a fanatic," said university Vice President Philip Cartwright. "I am shocked at such wanton destruction."

In Santa Barbara, Police Lt. Fred Baker said the blast and the two other bombings "would seem to indicate a conspiracy."

Trembly said detectives and FBI agents have several leads on the bomb, a large metal can containing an undetermined explosive.

"The person who planted the bomb was very inept and was probably more interested in getting away safely than doing any damage to the building," he said.

If the bomb had been placed higher on the wall, he said, it would have caused considerable damage, but, as it was, most of the blast's force was absorbed by the building's foundation.

"There are some odd things about the canister the bomb was placed in that may lead us to the bomber," he added.

Baker said there was no advance warning of the blast. Armory spokesmen estimated damage at about $2000. A spokesman said the blast didn't damage the arsenal's weapons, and apparently no attempt was made to steal them.

The explosions came just two days after the radical group Weatherman warned a "fall offensive" would soon be launched "from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The voice of the Weatherman warning—a tape recording—was identified as that of Bernardine Dohrn by her sister, Jennifer, a spokesman for the Youth International Party—Yippies—at whose New York headquarters the tape was played.

"Now we are everywhere, and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country," the tape said.

The recording, which generally attacked present American society, gave no specific plans.

Miss Dohrn and 11 other Weatherman members were indicted in April, charged with conspiracy to cross state lines to incite rioting.

Miss Dohrn dropped out of sight before March 16 when she failed to appear in court on charges of attacking three policemen during a Weatherman disturbance in Chicago in October 1969.

At 10:00 a.m., this date, Supv. [REDACTED], Bureau, Civil Rights Division, telephonically contacted this office and referred to our teletype of 10/8/70, in captioned matter in which we advised we were conducting no investigation. He stated that the Bureau had learned through sources that on this date President NIXON was making a statement to the public and in this statement was commenting that the FBI was conducting intense investigation of the three bombings on the West Coast, namely the one in Seattle, the one in Santa Barbara, and instant bombing.

Mr. [REDACTED] was advised we had answered earlier press inquiries that we were maintaining liaison only and offering coverage of out-of-state leads and facilities of the FBI Laboratory. He was also advised that Mr. [REDACTED] at present was with Attorney General MITCHELL and that it was not known whether the Attorney General had asked [REDACTED] if this office were investigating captioned bombing.

[REDACTED] requested we ascertain from [REDACTED] whether in fact he had so advised the Attorney General. After contacting you, I advised [REDACTED] that the Attorney General had not asked whether we were conducting investigation and as of now no comment has been made as to whether we are or are not investigating this case. He was further advised if the Attorney General asked if we were investigating this bombing in subsequent conversation, [REDACTED] would advise him we are investigating it, but otherwise would not volunteer information one way or the other.

Re Memo of Supervisor FLETCHER dated 10/9/70.

In addition to information provided in re memo, Supervisor [REDACTED] advised the writer this date that this office was not to attempt to take the case away from the Marin County Sheriff's Office and that our jurisdiction is derived from the presumption that the explosives utilized were transported interstate (Title 18, U.S. Code Section 837). Emphasis should be placed, however, on the prior kidnap and murder which took place at the same court house in which we are actively involved, as being the justification for actively investigating this particular bombing.

[REDACTED] further advised that this office was not being requested by the Bureau to actively investigate the attempted bombing of the Center for Study for Law and Society at the University of California, 10/8/70.

out that foiled the escape.

This morning's blast came after a San Francisco telephone operator received a call from an anonymous woman who said there was a "big bomb" in the courthouse and it would go off in five minutes.

Minutes after the operator relayed the information to the Marin County Sheriff's office, the explosion ripped the first floor level of the courthouse.

The courtrooms were closed at the time. There were no injuries. Sheriff's deputies were in the process of organizing a search of the building when the bomb went off.

Lt. Tom Lightfoot said it had been planted in a restroom adjacent to the courtroom of Judge Joseph Wilson. The blast ripped apart the wall separating the restroom from the courtroom.

A hole also was blown in the opposite wall of the restroom, damaging a second courtroom. Lighting fixtures were shattered. Furnishings were in shambles.

Pipes were broken in toilets and water about an inch deep flowed through a hallway until repair crews turned off the flow.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, one of the first on the scene, speculated that the bomb was dynamite but gave no other details.

The operator who took the anonymous call described the voice as that of "an excited young woman."

The entire floor was sealed off to the press and public this morning while a team of state and county investigators made an inch by inch inspection and collected evidence.

Judge Wilson is the presiding officer of the Marin County Superior Court and has been conducting a number of hearings and preliminary examinations at San Quentin Prison in an effort to facilitate courtroom security as a result of the earlier shootout.

Just a week ago, however, Judge Wilson told the county board of supervisors his study panel had decided against holding criminal trials within San Quentin Prison walls. The proposal had been questioned in many legal circles.

"All of us have grave doubts as to whether it is possible for a fair trial to take place within the prison," Judge Wilson informed the board.

The supervisors held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss additional security measures for the civic center, temporary quarters for the bombed-out judges and repairs to the courthouse.

Marin Civic Center Blast Follows Phoned Warning

A powerful bomb early today wrecked a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center that was used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

It blew out two opposite walls of the room, damaged a courtroom next door, and caused spotty flooding of corridors in the new wing, opened last December.

No one was injured but a watchman had punched his timeclock at that location only six minutes before the bomb, believed to be dynamite, went off.

3 in West

The explosion was one of three that rocked West Coast facilities in about four hours.

The courtroom involved is officially assigned to Superior Judge Joseph Wilson, and was used on Monday by Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire during Wilson's vacation.

McGuire has conducted most of the preliminary stages of the trial of Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who survived the Aug. 7 Civic Center shootout in which Superior Judge Harold Haley was killed. Wilson also has sat on some of the Magee hearings.

Immediately after the explosion, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney Bruce Bales and four of the five members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors went into an emergency session.

McGuire and other superior court judges also went

Single Entry

It was McGuire who announced the conclusions, saying that the Marin courts would proceed with "business as usual" and that the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center would adopt a search-before-entrance policy.

"We're going to have to secure this Hall of Justice," he said. "We're going to need a security set-up which will allow entry only at a single point."

"Everyone is going to have to be checked in and out, searched, et cetera."

The new Hall of Justice wing is connected to the administrative complex of the Civic Center by pedestrian passageways on two levels. These, the judge said, will have to be sealed off.

"I assume this can be done rather expeditiously," He added:

"If the intent of this bombing was to intimidate or delay the courts, it is not going to be successful."

Phone Call

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m., roughly five minutes after an anonymous warning to a San Francisco phone operator.

Deputy Sheriff Ron Spurrell said the call was "from an anonymous, excited, young-sounding woman" who said:

"Listen, I won't repeat this. There's a big bomb in the courthouse in San Rafael going off in five minutes."

Spurrell alerted all men on duty to begin a search of the building — a routine procedure because there have been many recent bomb threats there — and the shakedown was just starting when the explosion shook the Civic Center.

The bomb had been planted in a women's room on the first level of the Frank Lloyd Wright architectural creation. The restroom is backed up against the wall of Judge Wilson's courtroom.

It exploded with such force that it blew the wall across the courtroom, blasting a hole in the opposite wall and exposing pipes and ventilation ducts there. The courtroom on the other side of Wilson's was also damaged.

Holes were ripped in the walls of a men's room about 50 yards across a lobby area, and plaster was shaken from the walls in corridors and courtrooms more than 100 yards away.

Water from broken pipes ran down the red-tiled corridors and gathered in puddles. Hours after the blast, water began dripping from other ruptured pipes so that it literally seemed to be raining beneath the graceful archway for auto entrance to the center.

Aug. 7 Violence

One puddle of water accumulated at the entrance to the courtroom, 70 yards down the corridor, where Judge Haley, three women jurors and a prosecutor were kidnapped to start the Aug. 7 shooting.

Judge Wilson's courtroom, freakishly, suffered little damage to the furnishings, although they were covered with powder from sound-proofing material.

Judge McGuire was to have presided this morning in the trial of Tommy Walker, a black convict accused of assaulting a San Quentin guard shortly before his scheduled release.

Marin Courtroom Bombed--Blasts in Two Other Cities

Terrorist

Plot Is

Suspected

By Robert Popp

The elegant Marin civic center in San Rafael was rocked early yesterday by a bomb that turned one courtroom into a shambles.

The explosion was one of three that went off on the Pacific Coast within an hour of each other.

The other two damaged an ROTC building in Seattle and a National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

A fourth dud bomb found outside a University of California building in Berkeley rounded out what police suspect was a connected series of terrorist acts.

TIME

Marin county Sheriff Louis Mountanos said the San Rafael blast occurred at 1:27 a.m. in the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center. Clocks in the building stopped at that moment. There were no injuries.

About 1:22 a.m., a San Francisco telephone operator called the sheriff's office and reported that she had just spoken to an excited young female who warned that a bomb would go off in the Marin courthouse in five minutes.

Deputies at the civic center had just begun a search when the blast shook the building.

Donald Frost, director of public works, estimated the damage at $25,000. He said the building was not, however structurally damaged, he said.

The explosion followed by only two months the civic center gun battle in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three other men were killed.

SECURITY

Marin supervisors, judges and lawmen held a series of conferences yesterday during which it was decided to tighten up on security for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building, which is located north of the main area of San Rafael.

More armed guards will be assigned to the hall. Persons entering certain courts will be searched and the Hall of Justice will be sealed off so that only one entrance will be available to the public.

Acting Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire, after meeting with the sheriff, declared:

"This action is not going to prevent the courts from functioning. We're going to have business as usual."

"If this was an attempt to intimidate or delay court action, it is not going to be successful."

Less than two hours after the judge made these remarks, a new bomb threat was telephoned to the sheriff's office.

A woman mumbled that there was "a bomb in a waste basket."

As a result, approximately 2000 persons at the civic center were hastily ordered out. They remained outside while the building was searched from 12:28 p.m. to 1:05 a.m.

Later, deputies arrested Patricia Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson drive, Mil Valley, on charges of making a false bomb report.

Mrs. Coy gave her name when placing the call, police said.

If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of three years in prison or one year in the county jail. She is being held in lieu of $5000 bond.

Adding to the day's tensions at the Hall of Justice was the start of the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25.

Walker, who is charged with assaulting two San Quentin guards before being released from prison, is free on $10,000 bail.

WITNESS

His attorney, Robert Birkie of San Rafael, has said that he will call George Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Three now being held at San Quentin, as a witness.

(Jackson and the two other convicts are charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad state prison. It was an apparent effort to force their release that led to the August gun battle at the civic center in which Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, was among those killed.)

The jury selection phase of Walker's trial began on schedule in Judge McGuire's court, which is two courtrooms removed from the site of the bomb blast.

DETECTOR

Unusual security precautions were taken. An electronic metal detecting device was used for the first time at a Marin courtroom doorway, and all persons entering the court were searched.

The bomb that exploded yesterday morning had been placed in a wall between a women's restroom and the court of Presiding Judge Joseph Wilson, who is on vacation.

The force of the blast sent the wall flying across Judge Wilson's courtroom. It slammed into the opposite wall and buckled it.

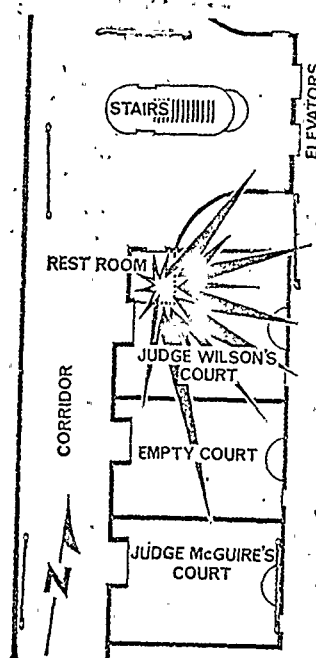

Lighting fixtures, chairs, tables, railings were tumbled and shattered.

FLOODING

The blast ripped through water pipes, causing some flooding, and sent two pieces of pipe flying 50 feet across a lobby into the men's room.

Investigators from the Sixth Army bomb squad and the State Division of Criminal identification and Investigation arrived and began sifting the rubble.

By the end of the day they had failed to identify the type of explosive substance used or the type of device that set it off.

Nixon Orders
FBI Action

By Hubert J. Bernhard

A group calling itself "The Weatherman Underground" claimed today it was responsible for the bombing of the Hall of Justice in the Marin County Civic Center yesterday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., meanwhile, President Nixon ordered the FBI to track down those responsible for the blast, and for other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

He also said he would sign immediately anti-bombing legislation that is expected to pass the Senate later today.

The bill would increase penalties for interstate transportation of explosives, and would permit the FBI to enter at once into the investigation of bombings on campuses that receive federal funds.

4 Letters

The "Weatherman" letter, typewritten and photo-statted white-on-black, was received by The Examiner this morning. It had been postmarked here last night.

A phone call that gave five minutes' warning of the bomb blast also came from San Francisco.

Three other letters, from different organizations claiming responsibility for the Seattle and Santa Barbara blasts and an abortive attempt at the University of California, were received by other agencies.

Those in Santa Barbara and Seattle noted that yesterday's attacks came on the third anniversary of the death of Che Guevara, Cuban revolutionary leader who was shot while trying to foment an uprising in Bolivia.

The "Weatherman" letter did not say this, directly, but above its Oct. 8 dateline was the phrase: "The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla."

'Dedicate —'

"Last night," it declared, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

"We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York, and to all black prisoners of war. Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika."

"We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of Q-Wing and the other inmates of Soledad Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air."

"And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters' — Jonathan Jackson and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela — still alive and free! — who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster."

Shootout Link

The final words were a plea for the freedom of "all political prisoners."

In the dedication to Jackson and the mention of Angela Davis, the letter linked yesterday's bombing to the shooting in the Marin Civic Center on Aug. 8 in which four persons were killed.

It was Jackson, one of those shot, who smuggled arms into the courtroom of Superior Judge Harold Haley, another of the victims. And Miss Davis is on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list, charged with having supplied him with the weapons.

Bandwagon

The Weatherman organization is a group of radical students that split off from the Students for a Democratic Society because they chose to follow a path of violence

greater than that of SDS.

In a New York press conference Tuesday, the tape-recorded voice of Bernardette Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, said the group was planning to launch a new "offensive."

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia of the Marin County Sheriff's office noted, however, that it was "strictly speculation as to whether this is valid or it's just someone jumping on the bandwagon."

"They're all looking for a vehicle — anything which appears to be a strike against the bastion of Establishment or law enforcement," he added.

Battaglia noted that the photostat technique would make it difficult, if not impossible, to identify the typewriter on which the note was written.

With a K

The other claims for the bombings came, in Seattle where a Naval ROTC at the University of Washington was hit, from "The Quarter Moon Tribe," and in Santa Barbara, where a National Guard Armory was blown up, from "The Perfect Park

Home Grown Garden Society."

Santa Barbara's group also mentioned the New York prison uprising and Soledad and dedicated the act to "Janice and Jimmy" — apparent references to Janice Joplin and Jimi Hendrix, rock singers who died recently of drug overdoses.

All the letters followed the revolutionary style of spelling America with a "k."

Another group calling itself "The Purple Sunshine Clan," claimed it had blown up a building at the University of California in Berkeley. That bomb, however, never exploded.

The special delivery letter to The Examiner arrived with 10 cents postage due. That received by the Associated Press in Seattle had 15 cents due.

By Stephen Cook

An angry Marin County judge says the courts have brought on an era of violent acts like yesterday's bombing of the Marin Hall of Justice by "pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice."

There were these other developments in the wake of the powerful early morning blast which caused an estimated $250,000 damage:

Marin Sheriff Louis Mountanos ordered his 61 patrolmen to begin immediately to work 12 hour shifts instead of the regular eight hours.

The sprawling Hall of Justice was emptied in a state of near panic yesterday afternoon after a new bomb threat. Deputies booked a Strawberry woman for making the threat.

The FBI and state criminal investigators joined Marin authorities in sitting the bomb wreckage in an attempt to determine what kind of bomb was used.

Superior Judge Samuel Gardiner said in a statement: "The courts brought this on themselves by pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice instead of maximizing the mass welfare and interests of the public."

Consequence

"As a consequence, rebellious elements feel they have a reasonably good license to do what they want to do. As a trial judge, I will nevertheless take the rules as they are given me by the rest of the democracy, including the higher courts."

Gardiner told attorney William Weissich in his courtroom, "If anybody throws any bombs in, we'll throw them right back out."

When Weissich replied he felt safe in Gardiner's court, the judge went on: "I am going to say out loud that the courts have produced this era of violence by their tolerance."

"I will indulge in the statement as often as I can for a while. The era of violence we have on us was brought on by the courts by their era of tolerance. That is my opinion. I am going to broadcast it."

'Better Security'

He said the courts would not be intimidated by the bombings. "We took a job and we'll do it. There's nothing that can happen that will change the courts except we'll get a little better security."

Deputies said the 12:28 p.m. bomb threat which sent employees and visitors screaming and running out of the Frank Lloyd Wright building came from Patricia L. Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry.

The woman, deputies said, announced on the phone, "My name is Patricia Coy. I have placed a bomb on the courtroom floor inside a wastepaper basket."

Deputies said the woman, who was booked on a felony count of making a false report of a bomb, makes daily calls to the sheriff's office. Her bail was set at $5000.

A search of the building was called off after it was determined it was she who had made the call.

Added Patrolmen

Lt. Thomas Lightfoot said the longer shifts ordered by Mountanos after meeting with county supervisors would have the effect of adding four additional patrolmen to each shift.

The bomb, placed in a women's restroom, wrecked a courtroom in the Hall of Justice that was being used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

No one was injured in the blast, one of three which hit West Coast facilities in a four-hour period early yesterday.

Marin Public Works Director Donald Frost, who estimated damage at a quarter million dollars, said the explosion did no structural damage to the building.

Weatherman LetterA Bomb About the Marin Court
Bomb*A Rash of
Others

By George Draper

A letter signed, "The Weatherman Underground" claimed credit yesterday for the bomb explosion that shattered a courtroom at the Marin Civic Center.

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m. Thursday, closely followed by other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

A fourth bomb, a dud, was found on the campus of the University of California in Berkeley.

LETTERS

Letters claiming responsibility for each of these bombs were received yesterday.

While investigators were analyzing the letters, a number of telephoned bomb threats were received in the Bay Area.

No bombs exploded, but authorities were sufficiently nervous to order evacuation for limited periods of time of the Marin Civic Center, Mills College and the Student Union on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NAMES

In addition to the Weatherman Underground, the letters were signed with such unusual names as The Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, The Purple Sunshine Clan and the Quarter Moon Tribe.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, chief of investigators for the Marin sheriff's office, said there was no way of knowing immediately whether the Weatherman Underground letter was authentic.

"It would be strictly speculation to say it is valid or it is not," he said.

Police elsewhere were cautious about accepting the validity of the letters.

A Santa Barbara investigator, referring to the letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, said: "A lot of people claim the credit after a bombing."

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a spokesman for President Nixon said the FBI has been instructed to investigate the bombings in California and Washington state.

Mr. Nixon, in addition, cited the bombings as additional evidence of the need for prompt enactment of the administration's anti-bombing legislation. (The measure now is in Senate-House conference.)

The letters are interesting from many standpoints.

UNSOLVED

Some groups took additional credit for previous bombings that have yet to be solved by police.

At least two of the groups boasted that Thursday's bombings were in honor of the memory of guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara, who was killed in Bolivia on October 8, 1937.

The Purple Sunshine Clan, which claimed credit for the bomb that failed to go off in Berkeley, noted that "last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots."

(Twelve Weatherman leaders are under Federal indictment for these riots and 11 of them are still being hunted.)

The Quarter Moon Tribe, which employs a quarter moon with an arrow through it as an insignia, took credit for the Seattle bombing and sent the only letter written by hand.

The writing, done with a fine point pen, reveals a curious style. Each letter is formed by straight lines. There are no curves.

All the letters received in the various cities were photostatic copies. There were no originals. This, according to police, is a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

Finally, each of the four letters revealed a certain similarity of rhetoric directed against the Establishment and in each letter the action was referred to as "Amerika."

In the Bay Area, at least, the letters carried post office

cancellations bearing different dates and times.

WEATHERMAN

The Weatherman Underground letters, for instance, were received by two newspapers and a radio station.

Two of these special delivery letters were postmarked: San Francisco, October 8. But one was received at the post office at 8:45 p.m. and the other at 11:30 p.m.

The Chronicle city desk received a copy of the same letter postmarked: San Francisco, October 9, 7 a.m.

HEADING

This letter begins with the heading:

"The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla, October 8, 1970."

The letter opens with a brief declarative sentence that — despite the $250,000 damage to the Marin courtroom — makes a tremendously exaggerated boast.

"Last night," it says, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

DEDICATION

The letter goes on to say that the bombing is dedicated to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York and "to all black prisoners of war."

"Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in Amerika (sic) into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika," the letter adds.

In conclusion, The Weatherman Underground letter salutes "a new breed of freedom fighters."

They are identified as Jonathan Jackson, who was killed along with three other persons in the August 7 shootout at the Marin Civic Center, and Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, a former philosophy teacher at the University of California in Los Angeles, is now wanted for murder for allegedly supplying four guns for the August 7 shootout.

CLAN

The Gazette in Berkeley received a letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan which, as it turned out, was somewhat presumptuous. The clan's bomb never went off.

In any event, the letter begins:

"This morning we blew up The Center for the Study of Law and Society, which has investigated black rebellion and Telegraph (avenue) riots."

"The power of youth in this country is emerging: dope and rock concerts; strikes and street riots; rocks and bombs."

"Last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots. Since then an underground has developed which is capable of bombing pig stations and liberating Tim Leary. Right on."

This letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan was ended: "From the folks who bombed the Oakland pig station."

PARK

Perfect Park is the name of a kind of People's Park at Isla Vista near the University of California campus at Santa Barbara.

The letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society was sent special delivery to the campus radio station — KCSB. It opens on a poetic note.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically with flaming napalm or gray-invisible pollution, mentally with televised, transistorized though control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually with smack (heroin) and with concentration camps called prisons."

MOVEMENT

The letter states that "everywhere the people are moving against Pig Amerika" and goes on to describe the success of this revolutionary movement.

"As the beast falls, a new culture of life arises: our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, their Bank of Amerika burling to the ground."

In Seattle, the letter mailed by the Quarter Moon Tribe took credit for Thursday's bombing of an OTC headquarters at the University of Washington.

"No longer will the death culture use campuses for bases of imperialism," the tribe warned. "We intend to disarm, dismantle, disable and destroy the military and pig might of Amerika, wherever we are, however we can."

The letter referred to "the crumbling Amerikan empire" surrounded by righteous guerrillas.

"As they tighten the noose," it proclaimed, "we tear up and trash from within."

SALUTE

The tribe concluded with a salute to "the energy of our sisters that pushed us beyond the music of Leila Khaled's laugh." She is the Arab female hijacker, recently released from a London jail.

Meanwhile, many bomb threats were reported but no more bombs exploded.

Some 950 students and teachers at Mills College hastily evacuated their homes and dormitories at 8:30 a.m. yesterday following a phoned bomb threat. The buildings returned to normal at 10 a.m.

At 2:23 p.m., the fire alarm sounded in the Marin Civic Center and 2000 nervous persons left the buildings there. A search revealed no bombs and the buildings were reopened at 4:15 p.m.

Another telephoned threat from a man identifying himself as a Weatherman forced the evacuation of the Student Union on Berkeley campus about 3:15 p.m.

OCTOBER 8, 1970

Sheriff Louis Mountanos, Marin County, California, advised October 8, 1970; that at 1:30 a.m., a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, doing extensive damage to courtroom number four, Superior Court and damaging the wall to an unused adjoining courtroom. He advised that a San Francisco telephone operator advised the Sheriff's Office that at approximately 1:25 a.m., October 8, 1970, she had received a telephone call from an extremely excited young woman who said that a bomb was set to go off at the Marin County Civic Center in approximately five minutes.

Sheriff Mountanos advised that the bomb had been in a restroom immediately adjacent to courtroom number four. Damage was estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. Type of device unknown and authorities continuing their efforts to determine the type of explosive utilized and type of device used to detonate this explosive. Authorities believe explosive was probably TNT. No injuries reported as result of explosion.

The letter received by UPI is signed "The Purple Sunshine Clan" and claims credit, prematurely, for bombing the Center For the Study of Law and Society and the Oakland Police Station.

The Laboratory is requested to make the following determinations:

1. Are there latent fingerprints on the letters and envelopes? If any, do they compare with known prints of Weatherman fugitives?
2. What is the type of chemically-treated paper used for the letters and for what type of copying machine is it manufactured?
3. Are the specimen communications on the same types of treated paper as samples of other Weatherman notes?
4. Are the typewriting on the specimen communications from the same typewriter? How do they compare with other notes received from radical elements?
5. What type of envelopes are the specimens submitted and where are they available?
6. What investigative or intelligence data can be obtained from the postage stamps? Could the postage stamps from both envelopes come from a single roll, sheet, or page and how do they compare with other stamps used in other letters from radical elements?
7. Does the reproduction process indicate that the specimens compare with others as to a particular copying machine being used?

"On October 6, 1967, Che Guevara was murdered by the U.S. in Bolivia. To commemorate the first Anniversary of Che's death, we have bombed the Santa Barbara National Guard Armory.

"We dedicate this attack on the domestic arm of U.S. military rule to all revolutionary people throughout the world wherever they fight for love and freedom and life itself.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically, with flaming napalm or gray invisible pollution; mentally controlled televised transistorized thought control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually smack and concentration camps called prisons. But everywhere the people are moving against capital PIG Amerika; Indochina, Palestine, the toms, soledad, east L.A. and Isla Vista are the battlegrounds on which the pig beast will be killed.

"As the beast falls, a new cultural way of life arises; our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, through Bank of Amerika burning to the ground. No phantom jets or M-16s can save the Amerikan death empire.

"Revolution grows in the soul and the arms of the people and the people are everywhere."

This Day of the Heroic Surrender
October 8, 1970

Last night we blew up the Hall of Unjustices, New York County Civil Center.

We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin,
Solomon, and New York, and to all black prisoners in New England
where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against the America.

We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of 10, 11 and the other inmates of Solomon Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air.

And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters -- [redacted] and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela -- still alive and free --
who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster.

Marin Security Steps

Marin Sheriff Louis Montanos was giving that county's Board of Supervisors a report on new security measures at the civic center yesterday when one of his deputies passed him a note saying that Angela Davis had been arrested.

Montanos was noticeably affected by the news that the woman accused of masterminding the fatal attempted escape at the civic center August 7 was in custody.

He halted only momentarily, however, before listing a new set of security measures around the sprawling county complex that includes weekend closing of both the Hall of Justice and the county administration building.

For the first time yesterday, bailiffs and matrons manned the three open entrances to the administration building and Hall of Justice, searching bags and briefcases and, in some cases, frisking visitors.

There were few objections from persons entering the building, and some were heard to comment that it was "about time."

Montanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce said deputies are working 12-hour shifts seven days a week guarding the complex designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Bruce said, however, that plans call for the development of a new security division in the sheriff's department, the cost of which has not yet been estimated.

Plans are also under way to issue identification cards to employees of the building.

Montanos said the weekend closing of the county administration building, which includes the county library, will be only temporary — possibly a matter of weeks.

The Hall of Justice was the target last week of a terrorist bomb that wrecked one courtroom.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, in charge of the inspectors division, urged yesterday that anyone who has noticed anything unusual — "however trivial" — before or after the bombing should contact the Marin sheriff's office.

2 More Bombings On West Coast

Time bombs exploded early yesterday at the University of Washington in Seattle and at the National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

Yet another bomb, placed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley failed to go off.

The timing of these three bombs, together with that of the one that exploded in San Rafael, indicated they had been set to explode at approximately one-hour intervals at four points along the West Coast.

FUGITIVE

The West Coast bombings came only two days after Bernardine Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, announced via a tape recording the launching of a "fall offensive."

"Now we are everywhere," her taped voice stated at a New York press conference held by the Youth International Party — Yippies — "and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country."

The Seattle explosion came at 2:45 a.m. in Clark Hall, where Air Force and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps offices are located.

WARNING

There was a telephone warning 25 minutes before the bomb exploded with the force of 15 to 20 sticks of dynamite. Officials estimated damage at $150,000.

Captain Marvin Webbs of the Seattle bomb squad said he believed two charges were placed 35 feet apart in a ground-level locker room and exploded almost simultaneously.

The blast ripped holes in the floor and ceiling of the room and smashed doors and windows throughout one wing of the three-story building.

At Berkeley, a woman called UC police at 3:03 a.m.

to say a bomb would go off in five minutes at the Center for the Study of Law and Society.

DISCOVERY

Officer Fred Hourel spotted the device in a heating duct on the outside and under the old two-story building.

It consisted of a two-inch-thick box filled with powder and rigged to go off with a time fuse. Bomb experts deactivated it at 4:15 a.m.

The Santa Barbara bomb exploded at 4:10 a.m. without prior warning.

It buckled part of the armory wall, broke some pipes and windows and rocked homes in the eastern part of the city.

LEADS

Santa Barbara Police Chief A. W. Trembly said last night that "we have some leads in which could conceivably lead to the arrest of the culprits" in that bombing, but offered no other details.

He added, however, that evidence found at the scene indicated the bomber was inept and more interested in getting away than in doing damage to the building.

The bomb, Trembly said, was placed on the ground outside the building and most of the force of the blast was absorbed by the building foundation. Had it been placed in some higher spot, he said, the damage would have been more severe.

ELECTRICAL

Investigators said the explosive substance was unknown but the charge, they said, was set off by an electrical device.

The Santa Barbara National Guard Armory serves as the base for the Headquarters Battery, 144th Field Artillery Battalion, which is attached to the 40th Armored Brigade.

Major H. G. Nichols, battalion executive officer, said no signs of ammunition were taken.

UNSUBS; BOMBING OF COURTROOM NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT, CIVIC CENTER, SAN RAFAEL,
BOMBING MATTER

On 10/8/70 (Thursday) at 1:30 AM, a bomb, which had been placed in the women's restroom adjacent to a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center, exploded causing extensive damage to the restroom, courtroom Number Four and the surrounding area. This bombing appeared to coincide with bombings occurring in the ROTC Building at the University of Washington in Seattle and the National Guard Armory at Santa Barbara. These bombings came two days after speaking for the Weatherman organization, warned of a "fall offensive" by that organization.

A member of the night maintenance crew at the Civic Center advised he noted a white male in his early twenties, cleancut, normal dress in the area at 10:20 PM. He also noted a white female in early twenties in the area on three occasions between 7:30 PM and 10:30 PM.

This case is receiving widespread publicity because it follows the recent kidnap and murder of Judge HALEY at the same Marin County Civic Center. President NIXON commented on these three bombings at a news conference indicating his interest in the matter and the Bureau has requested daily summary teletypes on the progress of the investigation.

All Agents are requested to contact security and racial informants for any knowledge regarding these bombings. Keeping in mind the general description of suspects, all Agents are requested to provide photographs to SA CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN of anyone meeting these general descriptions who have

In response to a telephone request from Inspector [REDACTED] the undersigned drove to San Rafael on October 8, 1970 and assisted in the investigation of the explosion which occurred in the Marin County Hall of Justice Building on October 8, 1970. At that time the explosion scene was examined and limited searching conducted for bomb parts and explosive residues. A few exhibits were recovered and brought back to the laboratory. This report will only cover preliminary studies since it is our understanding that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over this investigation and has independently studied the crime scene and will conduct complete laboratory studies. Since this report is based upon preliminary observations it should not be considered conclusive insofar as the explosive type and charge is concerned. FBI Laboratory analyses may definitely identify the explosive employed and the mechanism used for initiating the explosion.

From a study of the scene it is apparent that the explosive charge was placed in the wall between the women's toilet and the eastward side of courtroom #4. It appears that the charge was between 40 and 45 inches above the floor in the wall on the northern side of the toilet. This toilet was the third one from the southern end of the restroom which is opposite the public mall. The complete wall separating the restroom from courtroom #4 was demolished except for a few support beams. The location of the explosive charge could readily be determined by the bending of piping, metal stall partitions and other destruction which was plainly visible. The explosion was obviously a large one and it appears it required a relatively large charge. Considerable damage was also done to the wall between courtrooms 4 and 5 in an area opposite from the location of the explosive charge in the women's restroom. The wall separating the women's restroom from the elevator lobby was also extensively damaged. Further, the walls between the women's toilet and the vestibule and between the women's toilet and the holding cell were shifted out of alignment. A large piece of metal was found to have traveled completely across the planter bed in the elevator lobby and embedded itself in the wooden paneled wall in the area of the men's toilet. Another piece of similar metal had penetrated completely through this wall and was found inside the wall between the men's toilet and courtroom #3.

From the extensive distorted condition of various pieces of metal and the splitting of some of these pieces it is very apparent that a high velocity explosion occurred. Tests conducted on various pieces of metal recovered disclosed the presence of nitrates on most of them but such material would be found after the explosion of most commercial explosive preparations. In no case was I able to detect ammonium nitrate. This is a common ingredient in most types of dynamite and normally we can detect such residues when regular dynamite has been exploded. While extensive chemical analyses have not been carried out there are indications that the explosive employed was some type of plastic explosive such as C-4. This does not tend to imply that C-4 must have been used but the velocity of the explosion and the lack of residues certainly indicate this as being a strong possibility.

While at the explosion scene the following items were secured by the undersigned:

1. Metal door found embedded exterior wall of men's toilet adjacent to courtroom #3.
2. Metal door found on floor of women's toilet in handicap stall.
3. Bent metal found at various locations in women's toilet and courtroom #4.

On October 14, 1970, Inspector [] delivered to the laboratory the following two additional exhibits:

4. Metal door inside wall of courtroom #3 next to men's toilet.
5. Metal button found in women's toilet.

As previously mentioned, limited preliminary testing disclosed nitrates on most of the above except for Item 2 but no ammonium nitrate was detected. Examination of the bent metal door found on the floor in the toilet for handicapped persons in the women's restroom closest to the public mall showed this to be a 12x12 metal access door. The metal is approximately 1/16 inch thick. One side the door is painted blue and has a latching device screw head. The opposite or inner side of the door contained the lock catch itself and on the other end a hinge. In the center was a manufacturer's paper label. This particular door was apparently broken from the wall at the time of the explosion and it was bent but not extensively damaged. It is apparent that it was not close to the explosion itself. The pieces of metal which were found in the wall of the men's toilet and in the wall of courtroom #3 (Items 1 and 4) are two parts of a door identical to Item 2. They contain the same type of hinge, catch, manufacturer's paper label and painted surfaces. Together these weigh approximately the same as the metal door in Item 2 and correspond with the latter in all respects. They have been literally split apart and bent and twisted severely. In my opinion these two pieces of a metal door were very close to the explosive charge. While we have been unable to definitely prove the location of the access door into the wall behind the center toilet in the women's restroom, there was a type of pressure chamber connected to the piping at this location and there should have been an access door in the wall in front of this tank-type device. I, therefore, believe that it can be established that this door was opened and the explosive materials placed in the wall behind the third toilet in the women's restroom northward from the holding cell. It should also be pointed out that the small metal button found in the women's restroom (Item 5) is like the screwdriver notched button in the access door (Item 2) but missing from the metal door portion (Item 1). Further, a small piece of a spring was found inside the door of toilet stall #3. This door was bent almost in half and contained a large hole with a diameter of about 10 inches which had been blasted through the upper center of the door. The bottom edge of the hole was approximately 30 inches above the bottom of the door and these doors are mounted about 12-1/2 inches from the floor. The spring found in the toilet door is similar to springs used on the hinges in access doors mounted on restroom doors in the Hall of Justice Building. This spring apparently came from the hinge on the door in the wall which is represented by Items 1 and 4.

While in Marin County on October 8, Inspector [redacted] and the undersigned did search through the debris for clock or other bomb fragments. This search however was very limited and consisted primarily of a general observation of the scene and visual inspection of numerous buckets of debris picked up in the blast area. A further search was to be conducted the following day when the undersigned was not present and it is our understanding that this was carried out by the Marin County Sheriff's Office Identification Bureau personnel and Special Agents of the FBI. At that time other materials of significance were recovered.

The above-listed exhibits are being returned to Inspector [redacted]. If further studies by the CII Laboratory are desired, we will be most willing to carry them out but it appears presently unnecessary since the FBI is conducting independent studies and have in their possession additional recovered items.

Mr. [REDACTED], Identification Officer, Marin County Sheriff's Office, San Rafael, California, furnished enclosure to SA THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, 10/14/70.

[REDACTED] further advised he assisted [REDACTED] in conducting various examinations on two pieces of metal obtained from the scene of the bombing, on 10/14/70. It was noted both pieces of metal were 1/16" steel, with traces of blue paint similar to the color used on the utility panel access doors in all of the restrooms on the court floor level of the Hall of Justice. Both items also obtained portions of a manufacturer's label similar to labels on other panel doors. Both portions weighed out to about two pounds 12 ounces. They noted this weight to be within four ounces of a complete panel door.

Discrepancy in weight was attributed to the fact the screw button latch assembly was missing from the retrieved items, and they concluded both pieces were the panel door which had originally been blown from the restroom wall in the location of stall #4.

Further comparison of the two pieces indicated they had been ripped apart, vertically, midway between the two outer edges of the panel. Mr. [] advised this would seem to indicate the explosive device was probably placed directly behind this panel.

b7c

Mr. [] stated he is now in possession of both these pieces of metal and will make them available to the FBI Laboratory upon request. Residue examinations were made of both pieces of metal with only general nitrate reactions occurring. No ammonium nitrate was detected.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

On October 11, 1970, SA CHARLES L. KILLION, assisted by SAs THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN, [redacted] and [redacted]; and Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, conducted examinations of the scene of an explosion which occurred in the area of Superior Courtroom No. 4, Hall of Justice Building, Marin County Civic Center. Examinations continued on October 12, 1970, with SA KILLION being assisted by SAs RAYMOND N. BYERS and KENT Q. BRISBY, Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted].

A wall separates Superior Courtroom No.4 and a ladies restroom. The explosion completely destroyed this wall and extensive damage was caused throughout the courtroom and the restroom. The space within the wall was about 24 inches wide. Water pipes were within the wall.

Based upon the characteristics of the damage, a high explosive charge, such as dynamite, detonated in the wall between the courtroom and the ladies room.

Access to the restroom was from a public corridor. Six stalls were located on the common wall between the courtroom and the restroom. Other similar restrooms were examined and it was found that a hinged steel access door into the wall was located in one of the stalls. The access door was latched with one latch having a screw head slot which permitted opening the door with an object such as a screwdriver. The access door opening into the wall measured 10-3/4 inches high by 11-3/8 inches wide. The center of the opening was 63 inches from the floor.

Fragments of metal which appeared to be from clock parts, and numerous pieces of metal and debris were obtained for further laboratory examination. No identifiable blasting cap, battery or container parts were found.

Mrs. [] Santa Rosa, California, advised she is employed as a [] in the Marin County Public Defender's Office located on the north end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice wing of the Marin County Civic Center Building. Mrs. [] normal working hours are from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mrs. [] advised she was at work on October 7, 1970, but that she had noticed nothing suspicious or unusual on the courts' floor during that day. She stated she could furnish no information concerning the bombing of courtroom number 4 and has no idea as to who may have been responsible for it. Composite drawings by an artist of an unknown male and female were shown to Mrs. [] and she advised that neither of the individuals is known to her.

b7C

Mrs. [] advised that the only thing she had noticed unusual on the courts' floor during the week of October 5-9, 1970, was that on October 9, 1970, in the public corridor in the area of the courtroom where a Negro male named [] was on trial, a white female, who appeared to be with [], was making posters that concerned something about the Soledad Brothers defense. Mrs. [] stated the white female was sitting down at the time she saw her but that she appeared to be in her early 20s and approximately 5'6" tall. She said the white female was neatly dressed, believed to have been wearing a dress, and had blond or light brown hair which was piled on top of her head. Mrs. [] could furnish no further information concerning the identity of this female and did not know the full name of [], who was on trial.

Mrs. [redacted]
[redacted] Novato, California, advised she is employed by [redacted] San Francisco, California, as a janitor. She performs janitorial duties at the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and her normal working hours are from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday. Her main janitorial duty is to clean the restrooms on the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center. She cleans the private restrooms in the municipal and superior courtroom areas as well as the public restrooms located in the public corridor adjacent to the courtrooms. She also cleans the law library, which is located on the north end of the courts' floor.

Mrs. [redacted] stated she was at work on the night of October 7, 1970, in her usual area in the Civic Center. As is her normal procedure, she began work at 6 p.m. and the first area she cleaned was the private restrooms in the courtrooms. She completed the cleaning of those restrooms at approximately 8 p.m. at which time she began cleaning the restrooms located in the public corridor on the south end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building. She completed the cleaning of the two restrooms in that area approximately at 8:45 p.m. and she then went to the restrooms located on the north end of the courts' floor of the Hall of Justice. She first cleaned the ladies restroom located adjacent to courtroom number 4, superior court, and completed the cleaning of that restroom at approximately 9:15 p.m. She stated she emptied the trashcan in the restroom first, and as is usual procedure, she looked through the trash but saw nothing unusual in it. She stated she also emptied the container used for sanitary napkins and saw nothing unusual in that container. She then completed cleaning of the restroom and saw nothing of an unusual nature on the floor or in any area of the restroom. She said she did not particularly check to see if the plumbing inspection plate located in one of the stalls in the ladies restroom had been tampered with; however, she feels sure she would have noticed it if it had been open or loose. completion of the ladies restroom, she locked the door and proceeded to the mens restroom located on the other side of the elevator from the ladies room she had just cleaned.

After cleaning the mens restroom, Mrs. [] proceeded to the law library located on the north end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building, which she also cleaned. She left the courts' floor at approximately 11 p.m. on October 7, 1970.

Mrs. [] advised that she noticed nothing strange or unusual on the courts' floor on the night of October 7, 1970, and recalls only seeing one individual on that floor during the time she was there who was other than a member of the char force who was cleaning the building. She does not know the identity of the individual, does not recall if it was a male or female, but she does know that it was an employee of one of the courts located on the courts' floors.

Mrs. [] advised that the other persons working on the courts' floor at the same time she was there was a Mr. [], a Negro male who vacuums the carpets in the courtrooms and the carpets in the hallway to the employees' section of the courtroom; another Negro male whose name Mrs. [] does not know also came through the area at approximately 7 p.m. and emptied the trash in the judges' offices and the other offices located on the courts' floor. She stated a Mr. [] a white male, and another young white male, whose name she does not know, were buffing the public corridor adjacent to the courtrooms at the time she was cleaning the restrooms. The only other persons Mrs. [] saw on the night of October 7, 1970, were Mr. [] the night watchman, and the lady who operates the law library.

$200,000 for Marin Courts' Security

Security of public buildings costs money. buildings in the Marin County government center.

The bill is going to be at least $200,000 in Marin County, scene of the multiple death shootout and the bomb-blasting of a courtroom.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has approved in principle the employment of 17 new deputy sheriffs to staff a new security division of the sheriff's office.

Longer Shifts

Until the new officers are on duty, all deputies in the department are working 12 hour shifts, seven days a week.

The supervisors approved the increase in personnel after having added seven bailiffs to the security forces of the courts earlier.

The judge and three others were slain.

The supervisors also voted to curtail the use of public

Schedules

The Hall of Justice will close at 5 p.m. each day and be locked during the week-end. The administration building, which includes the county library and provides meeting rooms for numerous groups, also will be closed at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

Supervisors said the administration building closing would be only temporary.

Both of these individuals gave a composite description of this unknown girl as a WFA, age 25 to 27 years, 5'5", 130 pounds, long jet black hair braided, and they described the unknown man as a WMA, mid-20s to 30 years, 5'9", red hair, square face, full beard.

[redacted] told the inspectors that this individual looked like a person whose photograph appeared in the "San Francisco Chronicle" newspaper of 10/15/70,

These inspectors contacted [REDACTED], Manager, San Rafael Western Union Office, and he advised that a check with the girls in his office who paste up messages failed to disclose that they recalled any message containing the word Egypt. He stated that all other messages coming to Marin County via relay machines in San Francisco and suggested that if messages to other parts of Marin County were to be checked they should be checked through San Francisco Western Union.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was in the court room of Judge ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN, JR., at Municipal Court, Department 3, Marin County. He advised that during the afternoon, he observed a female in court who resembled the photograph of a composite drawing of a female who was seen by a janitorial employee around the court house on the day preceding the bombing. This composite drawing of the female is dated October 10. [redacted] stated that this female remained in court from 2:00 p.m., until 5:00 p.m., and that during this time, she frequently left the court room for short periods. [redacted] stated that he particularly remembered this female because she took her shoes off and that he had ordered her to replace the shoes. She replied, "No baby, my feet are swollen". He further recalled that during the afternoon, she sidled up to a 45-year-old Negro male who frequents court and stated in a loud voice, "You know, I was raised by Negroes". [redacted] stated that he checked the court calendar in an effort to determine this female's name, hoping that her case would soon be heard and she would leave. However, her name was not on the calendar. He stated that he has not seen her on previous occasions in court. Further, she had nothing to do with the defendants on trial in court that day. The following is a description of the unknown female provided by [redacted]:

Face	Round
Dress	Green knit suit
Complexion	Fair
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Unknown, wearing round, modern sunglasses
Appearance	Sloppy

He recalled that her outstanding feature was the lack of a bra and described her chest development as extremely ample. She carried a big purse, no briefcase or camera case.

He was uncertain but thought she might have been wearing a floppy-brimmed hat. Age estimate over 30 but due to appearance, difficult to estimate. [] stated that a janitorial employee later found a pair of alligator-type shoes with a brand name of J.C. Penny in them, which were abandoned in court. [] also recalled that in this court the cases of [] and [] were scheduled to be heard at 4:30 p.m. He described these two individuals as reported Black Panthers who had tried to disarm a California Highway Patrolman. He stated that due to delays, their case was not heard until 5:50 p.m. He recalled, however, that the above-described female had nothing to do with these two defendants.

[redacted], Court Floor Security Officer, Patrol Division, Marin County Sheriff's Office, was interviewed in the Bailiffs' Lounge at the Marin County Court House. Two photographs of a composite drawing of individuals observed at the Marin County Civic Center during the evening of October 7, 1970, were displayed to [redacted]. The information for these composite drawings was supplied by a maintenance employee.

[redacted] advised that the composite drawing dated October 10, 1970, of the male individual resembles one [redacted], who was a recent defendant in a case involving theft of explosives from Hutchinson Company, which is a quarry company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, California. [redacted] advised that [redacted] is due for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] advised that in his tour of duty on the day preceding the bombing, which occurred in the early morning of October 8, 1970, he observed nothing unusual and could suggest no suspects.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was on duty in Department 3 and Department 5 at various times during the day. He advised that he observed nothing unusual or outstanding during his tour of duty on that day. Composite photographs of a drawing furnished by a maintenance employee were displayed to [redacted]. [redacted] explained that he has had seven years of art training and stated that the photograph of the male, dated October 10, is an excellent likeness of an individual he has observed in court involving theft of explosives from the Hutchinson Company in Greenbrae, California. He recalled this individual as [redacted] who comes up for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] pointed out that the nose, the mouth and the eyes and eyebrows all closely resemble those of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that he could not recall seeing [redacted] at the court house on October 7, 1970, the day preceding the bombing. [redacted] pointed out that two individuals were on trial in Department 3, Municipal Court, Marin County, on October 7. These individuals were charged with violation of California Penal Code Section 242, Battery. Due to the length of the court calendar, these two individuals were at the Marin County Court House between 5:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m., and had with them three friends. He described them all as Negro except one male Caucasian. He named these individuals as [redacted] (phonetic) and [redacted] (phonetic). He stated that these two individuals were reported to have been Black Panthers. However, he had no personal knowledge of their affiliation.

Sergeant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed on October 13, 1970, at Police Headquarters, Fairfax. A composite photograph dated October 10, 1970, of an individual seen in the Marin County Court House during late evening on October 7, 1970, preceding the bombing which occurred in the early morning hours of October 8, was displayed to [redacted]. He immediately remarked, "Where did you get the picture of [redacted]?" Further questioning revealed that he actually believed this was a drawing of [redacted]. He was informed that this was a picture of an unknown individual who was observed in the Marin County Court House. He commented that except for the length of the hair, he actually believed that it was a drawing made of [redacted]. [redacted] recalled that he had arrested [redacted] in March, 1970, on a charge of burglary of various bombing materials from the Hutchinson Company, a quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California. [redacted] recalled that he observed a car parked near the quarry with Minnesota license plates and after examining the car, was prepared to leave when he was hailed by an individual who later turned out to be [redacted]. He requested [redacted] to allow a search of the automobile and its trunk. The trunk of this automobile revealed boxes of dynamite, blasting caps, fuses, and various other material used in blasting. Further, [redacted] pointed out various locations near the quarry where he had secreted other blasting material. [redacted] recalled that he was not prepared to handle these various explosive materials but that [redacted] assured him that they were safe to handle and that he, [redacted], knew how to deal with explosives. In spite of [redacted] statement that they were safe to handle, [redacted] secured professional help from the Presidio of the Army to recover the secreted explosive materials.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is presently awaiting sentencing on charges arising out of the arrest on that occasion and that his case was heard by the Marin County Court authorities. Upon further examination of the picture, [redacted] recalled that around July or August, 1970, [redacted] hair, while still fairly long, had been cut for his court

Lieutenant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed in conjunction with Sergeant [redacted] of the Fairfax Police Department. [redacted] advised that he lives two doors away from the [redacted] residence. He advised that in February, 1970, the Hutchinson Company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California, was burglarized and that the case has never been solved. Stolen at that time were various blasting material and explosives. Among the items taken were blasting caps used to set off dynamite explosions. These blasting caps were both electrical and fuse type. [redacted] stated that since the robbery, various explosions have been going off in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the [redacted] residence, both in a school yard and near a railroad track. [redacted] stated that he has recovered two copper blasting caps that were duds and displayed one of these blasting caps. He stated that the serial numbers on these caps corresponded with the series of those stolen from the Hutchinson Company in the unsolved burglary. It is [redacted] opinion that [redacted] was responsible for the prior burglary and may still have in his position an Atlas blasting machine which has not been recovered, as well as other blasting material which the company valued at $345.22.

Marin Trial Guarded

Despite the blast that destroyed a courtroom he had used, acting Presiding Superior Judge E. Warren McGuire went ahead with a scheduled trial in the Marin County Civic Center today.

McGuire used the bombed courtroom Monday in a calendar session at which he set the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25, to begin this morning — and it was that case at which he presided.

The courtroom was guarded by four uniformed and three plainclothes officers.

Walker, a black convict, is accused of assaulting a guard at San Quentin on Aug. 15, when he was to have been released.

Walker, who has two prior felony assault convictions and has been in state institutions since the age of 14, actually was discharged from prison, then re-arrested.

He was later released in $10,000 bail posted by North Beach Bonding, 369 Bryant St. here. Jeffrey L. Pollak, office manager, said the money was "fully secured" on Sept. 29, when the bail was arranged.

Two days later, he added, Walker himself came in and paid the bail premium of $1000. Pollack refused to say who had originally secured the loan.

Walker's attorney, Robert Birkie, announced in court this morning that one of his defense witnesses would be

George Jackson. Jackson is one of the three prisoners from Soledad Prison who are accused of murdering a guard there.

It was Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, who invaded Judge Haley's courtroom with guns August 7 in an attempt to free three convicts there. Judge Haley, Jonathan and two convicts died in the shootout that followed.

Santa Barbara, Seattle Hit, Too

By The Associated Press

Bombs exploded at three points along the Pacific Coast today, damaging an ROTC building at the University of Washington in Seattle, a National Guard armory at Santa Barbara, and the county courthouse in San Rafael. There were no injuries.

Damage at Seattle was estimated at $150,000. Authorities said it appeared that two bombs exploded with the force of 15 to 20 dynamite sticks. The blast at Santa Barbara blew a two-foot hole through a thick wall.

Santa Barbara police chief A. W. Trembly said:

"We certainly believe this bombing is connected with the Weatherman faction and other terrorist groups."

Seattle Police Capt. Marv Webbins said there apparently were two bombs, placed 35 feet apart in a ground-floor locker room.

The blast blew out windows, stripped plaster from the walls and tore off part of a locked exterior door and sparked a small fire in the building's basement.

"This has to be the work of a fanatic," said university Vice President Philip Cartwright. "I am shocked at such wanton destruction."

In Santa Barbara, Police Lt. Fred Baker said the blast and the two other bombings "would seem to indicate a conspiracy."

Trembly said detectives and FBI agents have several leads on the bomb, a large metal can containing an undetermined explosive.

"The person who planted the bomb was very inept and was probably more interested in getting away safely than doing any damage to the building," he said.

If the bomb had been placed higher on the wall, he said, it would have caused considerable damage, but, as it was, most of the blast's force was absorbed by the building's foundation.

"There are some odd things about the canister the bomb was placed in that may lead us to the bomber," he added.

Baker said there was no advance warning of the blast. Armory spokesmen estimated damage at about $2000. A spokesman said the blast didn't damage the arsenal's weapons, and apparently no attempt was made to steal them.

The explosions came just two days after the radical group Weatherman warned a "fall offensive" would soon be launched "from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The voice of the Weatherman warning—a tape recording—was identified as that of Bernardine Dohrn by her sister, Jennifer, a spokesman for the Youth International Party—Yippies—at whose New York headquarters the tape was played.

"Now we are everywhere, and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country," the tape said.

The recording, which generally attacked present American society, gave no specific plans.

Miss Dohrn and 11 other Weatherman members were indicted in April, charged with conspiracy to cross state lines to incite rioting.

Miss Dohrn dropped out of sight before March 16 when she failed to appear in court on charges of attacking three policemen during a Weatherman disturbance in Chicago in October 1969.

At 10:00 a.m., this date, Supv. [REDACTED], Bureau, Civil Rights Division, telephonically contacted this office and referred to our teletype of 10/8/70, in captioned matter in which we advised we were conducting no investigation. He stated that the Bureau had learned through sources that on this date President NIXON was making a statement to the public and in this statement was commenting that the FBI was conducting intense investigation of the three bombings on the West Coast, namely the one in Seattle, the one in Santa Barbara, and instant bombing.

Mr. [REDACTED] was advised we had answered earlier press inquiries that we were maintaining liaison only and offering coverage of out-of-state leads and facilities of the FBI Laboratory. He was also advised that Mr. [REDACTED] at present was with Attorney General MITCHELL and that it was not known whether the Attorney General had asked [REDACTED] if this office were investigating captioned bombing.

[REDACTED] requested we ascertain from [REDACTED] whether in fact he had so advised the Attorney General. After contacting you, I advised [REDACTED] that the Attorney General had not asked whether we were conducting investigation and as of now no comment has been made as to whether we are or are not investigating this case. He was further advised if the Attorney General asked if we were investigating this bombing in subsequent conversation, [REDACTED] would advise him we are investigating it, but otherwise would not volunteer information one way or the other.

Re Memo of Supervisor FLETCHER dated 10/9/70.

In addition to information provided in re memo, Supervisor [REDACTED] advised the writer this date that this office was not to attempt to take the case away from the Marin County Sheriff's Office and that our jurisdiction is derived from the presumption that the explosives utilized were transported interstate (Title 18, U.S. Code Section 837). Emphasis should be placed, however, on the prior kidnap and murder which took place at the same court house in which we are actively involved, as being the justification for actively investigating this particular bombing.

[REDACTED] further advised that this office was not being requested by the Bureau to actively investigate the attempted bombing of the Center for Study for Law and Society at the University of California, 10/8/70.

out that foiled the escape.

This morning's blast came after a San Francisco telephone operator received a call from an anonymous woman who said there was a "big bomb" in the courthouse and it would go off in five minutes.

Minutes after the operator relayed the information to the Marin County Sheriff's office, the explosion ripped the first floor level of the courthouse.

The courtrooms were closed at the time. There were no injuries. Sheriff's deputies were in the process of organizing a search of the building when the bomb went off.

Lt. Tom Lightfoot said it had been planted in a restroom adjacent to the courtroom of Judge Joseph Wilson. The blast ripped apart the wall separating the restroom from the courtroom.

A hole also was blown in the opposite wall of the restroom, damag ing a second courtroom. Lighting fixtures were shattered. Furnishings were in shambles.

Pipes were broken in toilets and water about an inch deep flowed through a hallway until repair crews turned off the flow.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, one of the first on the scene, speculated that the bomb was dynamite but gave no other details.

The operator who took the anonymous call described the voice as that of "an excited young woman."

The entire floor was sealed off to the press and public this morning while a team of state and county investigators made an inch by inch inspection and collected evidence.

Judge Wilson is the presiding officer of the Marin County Superior Court and has been conducting a number of hearings and preliminary examinations at San Quentin Prison in an effort to facilitate courtroom security as a result of the earlier shootout.

Just a week ago, however, Judge Wilson told the county board of supervisors his study panel had decided against holding criminal trials within San Quentin Prison walls. The proposal had been questioned in many legal circles.

"All of us have grave doubts as to whether it is possible for a fair trial to take place within the prison," Judge Wilson informed the board.

The supervisors held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss additional security measures for the civic center, temporary quarters for the bombed-out judges and repairs to the courthouse.

Marin Civic Center Blast Follows Phoned Warning

A powerful bomb early today wrecked a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center that was used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

It blew out two opposite walls of the room, damaged a courtroom next door, and caused spotty flooding of corridors in the new wing, opened last December.

No one was injured but a watchman had punched his timeclock at that location only six minutes before the bomb, believed to be dynamite, went off.

3 in West

The explosion was one of three that rocked West Coast facilities in about four hours.

The courtroom involved is officially assigned to Superior Judge Joseph Wilson, and was used on Monday by Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire during Wilson's vacation.

McGuire has conducted most of the preliminary stages of the trial of Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who survived the Aug. 7 Civic Center shootout in which Superior Judge Harold Haley was killed. Wilson also has sat on some of the Magee hearings.

Immediately after the explosion, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney Bruce Bales and four of the five members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors went into an emergency session.

McGuire and other superior court judges also went

Single Entry

It was McGuire who announced the conclusions, saying that the Marin courts would proceed with "business as usual" and that the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center would adopt a search-before-entrance policy.

"We're going to have to secure this Hall of Justice," he said. "We're going to need a security set-up which will allow entry only at a single point."

"Everyone is going to have to be checked in and out, searched, et cetera."

The new Hall of Justice wing is connected to the administrative complex of the Civic Center by pedestrian passageways on two levels. These, the judge said, will have to be sealed off.

"I assume this can be done rather expeditiously," He added:

"If the intent of this bombing was to intimidate or delay the courts, it is not going to be successful."

Phone Call

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m., roughly five minutes after an anonymous warning to a San Francisco phone operator.

Deputy Sheriff Ron Spurrell said the call was "from an anonymous, excited, young-sounding woman" who said:

"Listen, I won't repeat this. There's a big bomb in the courthouse in San Rafael going off in five minutes."

Spurrell alerted all men on duty to begin a search of the building — a routine procedure because there have been many recent bomb threats there — and the shakedown was just starting when the explosion shook the Civic Center.

The bomb had been planted in a women's room on the first level of the Frank Lloyd Wright architectural creation. The restroom is backed up against the wall of Judge Wilson's courtroom.

It exploded with such force that it blew the wall across the courtroom, blasting a hole in the opposite wall and exposing pipes and ventilation ducts there. The courtroom on the other side of Wilson's was also damaged.

Holes were ripped in the walls of a men's room about 50 yards across a lobby area, and plaster was shaken from the walls in corridors and courtrooms more than 100 yards away.

Water from broken pipes ran down the red-tiled corridors and gathered in puddles. Hours after the blast, water began dripping from other ruptured pipes so that it literally seemed to be raining beneath the graceful archway for auto entrance to the center.

Aug. 7 Violence

One puddle of water accumulated at the entrance to the courtroom, 70 yards down the corridor, where Judge Haley, three women jurors and a prosecutor were kidnapped to start the Aug. 7 shooting.

Judge Wilson's courtroom, freakishly, suffered little damage to the furnishings, although they were covered with powder from sound-proofing material.

Judge McGuire was to have presided this morning in the trial of Tommy Walker, a black convict accused of assaulting a San Quentin guard shortly before his scheduled release.

Marin Courtroom Bombed--Blasts in Two Other Cities

Terrorist

Plot Is

Suspected

By Robert Popp

The elegant Marin civic center in San Rafael was rocked early yesterday by a bomb that turned one courtroom into a shambles.

The explosion was one of three that went off on the Pacific Coast within an hour of each other.

The other two damaged an ROTC building in Seattle and a National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

A fourth dud bomb found outside a University of California building in Berkeley rounded out what police suspect was a connected series of terrorist acts.

TIME

Marin county Sheriff Louis Mountanos said the San Rafael blast occurred at 1:27 a.m. in the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center. Clocks in the building stopped at that moment. There were no injuries.

About 1:22 a.m., a San Francisco telephone operator called the sheriff's office and reported that she had just spoken to an excited young female who warned that a bomb would go off in the Marin courthouse in five minutes.

Deputies at the civic center had just begun a search when the blast shook the building.

Donald Frost, director of public works, estimated the damage at $25,000. He said the building was not, however structurally damaged, he said.

The explosion followed by only two months the civic center gun battle in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three other men were killed.

SECURITY

Marin supervisors, judges and lawmen held a series of conferences yesterday during which it was decided to tighten up on security for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building, which is located north of the main area of San Rafael.

More armed guards will be assigned to the hall. Persons entering certain courts will be searched and the Hall of Justice will be sealed off so that only one entrance will be available to the public.

Acting Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire, after meeting with the sheriff, declared:

"This action is not going to prevent the courts from functioning. We're going to have business as usual."

"If this was an attempt to intimidate or delay court action, it is not going to be successful."

Less than two hours after the judge made these remarks, a new bomb threat was telephoned to the sheriff's office.

A woman mumbled that there was "a bomb in a waste basket."

As a result, approximately 2000 persons at the civic center were hastily ordered out. They remained outside while the building was searched from 12:28 p.m. to 1:05 a.m.

Later, deputies arrested Patricia Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson drive, Mil Valley, on charges of making a false bomb report.

Mrs. Coy gave her name when placing the call, police said.

If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of three years in prison or one year in the county jail. She is being held in lieu of $5000 bond.

Adding to the day's tensions at the Hall of Justice was the start of the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25.

Walker, who is charged with assaulting two San Quentin guards before being released from prison, is free on $10,000 bail.

WITNESS

His attorney, Robert Birkie of San Rafael, has said that he will call George Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Three now being held at San Quentin, as a witness.

(Jackson and the two other convicts are charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad state prison. It was an apparent effort to force their release that led to the August gun battle at the civic center in which Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, was among those killed.)

The jury selection phase of Walker's trial began on schedule in Judge McGuire's court, which is two courtrooms removed from the site of the bomb blast.

DETECTOR

Unusual security precautions were taken. An electronic metal detecting device was used for the first time at a Marin courtroom doorway, and all persons entering the court were searched.

The bomb that exploded yesterday morning had been placed in a wall between a women's restroom and the court of Presiding Judge Joseph Wilson, who is on vacation.

The force of the blast sent the wall flying across Judge Wilson's courtroom. It slammed into the opposite wall and buckled it.

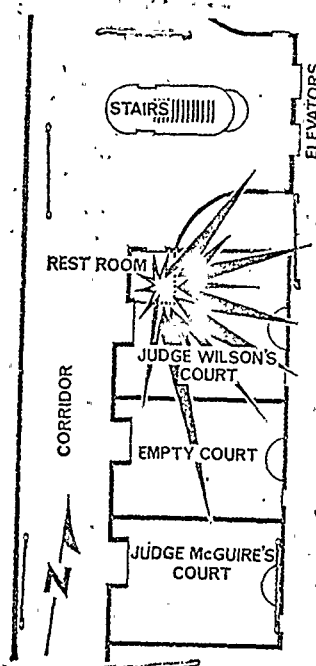

Lighting fixtures, chairs, tables, railings were tumbled and shattered.

FLOODING

The blast ripped through water pipes, causing some flooding, and sent two pieces of pipe flying 50 feet across a lobby into the men's room.

Investigators from the Sixth Army bomb squad and the State Division of Criminal identification and Investigation arrived and began sifting the rubble.

By the end of the day they had failed to identify the type of explosive substance used or the type of device that set it off.

Nixon Orders
FBI Action

By Hubert J. Bernhard

A group calling itself "The Weatherman Underground" claimed today it was responsible for the bombing of the Hall of Justice in the Marin County Civic Center yesterday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., meanwhile, President Nixon ordered the FBI to track down those responsible for the blast, and for other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

He also said he would sign immediately anti-bombing legislation that is expected to pass the Senate later today.

The bill would increase penalties for interstate transportation of explosives, and would permit the FBI to enter at once into the investigation of bombings on campuses that receive federal funds.

4 Letters

The "Weatherman" letter, typewritten and photo-statted white-on-black, was received by The Examiner this morning. It had been postmarked here last night.

A phone call that gave five minutes' warning of the bomb blast also came from San Francisco.

Three other letters, from different organizations claiming responsibility for the Seattle and Santa Barbara blasts and an abortive attempt at the University of California, were received by other agencies.

Those in Santa Barbara and Seattle noted that yesterday's attacks came on the third anniversary of the death of Che Guevara, Cuban revolutionary leader who was shot while trying to foment an uprising in Bolivia.

The "Weatherman" letter did not say this, directly, but above its Oct. 8 dateline was the phrase: "The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla."

'Dedicate —'

"Last night," it declared, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

"We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York, and to all black prisoners of war. Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika."

"We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of Q-Wing and the other inmates of Soledad Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air."

"And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters' — Jonathan Jackson and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela — still alive and free! — who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster."

Shootout Link

The final words were a plea for the freedom of "all political prisoners."

In the dedication to Jackson and the mention of Angela Davis, the letter linked yesterday's bombing to the shooting in the Marin Civic Center on Aug. 8 in which four persons were killed.

It was Jackson, one of those shot, who smuggled arms into the courtroom of Superior Judge Harold Haley, another of the victims. And Miss Davis is on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list, charged with having supplied him with the weapons.

Bandwagon

The Weatherman organization is a group of radical students that split off from the Students for a Democratic Society because they chose to follow a path of violence

greater than that of SDS.

In a New York press conference Tuesday, the tape-recorded voice of Bernardette Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, said the group was planning to launch a new "offensive."

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia of the Marin County Sheriff's office noted, however, that it was "strictly speculation as to whether this is valid or it's just someone jumping on the bandwagon."

"They're all looking for a vehicle — anything which appears to be a strike against the bastion of Establishment or law enforcement," he added.

Battaglia noted that the photostat technique would make it difficult, if not impossible, to identify the typewriter on which the note was written.

With a K

The other claims for the bombings came, in Seattle where a Naval ROTC at the University of Washington was hit, from "The Quarter Moon Tribe," and in Santa Barbara, where a National Guard Armory was blown up, from "The Perfect Park

Home Grown Garden Society."

Santa Barbara's group also mentioned the New York prison uprising and Soledad and dedicated the act to "Janice and Jimmy" — apparent references to Janice Joplin and Jimi Hendrix, rock singers who died recently of drug overdoses.

All the letters followed the revolutionary style of spelling America with a "k."

Another group calling itself "The Purple Sunshine Clan," claimed it had blown up a building at the University of California in Berkeley. That bomb, however, never exploded.

The special delivery letter to The Examiner arrived with 10 cents postage due. That received by the Associated Press in Seattle had 15 cents due.

By Stephen Cook

An angry Marin County judge says the courts have brought on an era of violent acts like yesterday's bombing of the Marin Hall of Justice by "pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice."

There were these other developments in the wake of the powerful early morning blast which caused an estimated $250,000 damage:

Marin Sheriff Louis Mountanos ordered his 61 patrolmen to begin immediately to work 12 hour shifts instead of the regular eight hours.

The sprawling Hall of Justice was emptied in a state of near panic yesterday afternoon after a new bomb threat. Deputies booked a Strawberry woman for making the threat.

The FBI and state criminal investigators joined Marin authorities in sitting the bomb wreckage in an attempt to determine what kind of bomb was used.

Superior Judge Samuel Gardiner said in a statement: "The courts brought this on themselves by pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice instead of maximizing the mass welfare and interests of the public."

Consequence

"As a consequence, rebellious elements feel they have a reasonably good license to do what they want to do. As a trial judge, I will nevertheless take the rules as they are given me by the rest of the democracy, including the higher courts."

Gardiner told attorney William Weissich in his courtroom, "If anybody throws any bombs in, we'll throw them right back out."

When Weissich replied he felt safe in Gardiner's court, the judge went on: "I am going to say out loud that the courts have produced this era of violence by their tolerance."

"I will indulge in the statement as often as I can for a while. The era of violence we have on us was brought on by the courts by their era of tolerance. That is my opinion. I am going to broadcast it."

'Better Security'

He said the courts would not be intimidated by the bombings. "We took a job and we'll do it. There's nothing that can happen that will change the courts except we'll get a little better security."

Deputies said the 12:28 p.m. bomb threat which sent employees and visitors screaming and running out of the Frank Lloyd Wright building came from Patricia L. Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry.

The woman, deputies said, announced on the phone, "My name is Patricia Coy. I have placed a bomb on the courtroom floor inside a wastepaper basket."

Deputies said the woman, who was booked on a felony count of making a false report of a bomb, makes daily calls to the sheriff's office. Her bail was set at $5000.

A search of the building was called off after it was determined it was she who had made the call.

Added Patrolmen

Lt. Thomas Lightfoot said the longer shifts ordered by Mountanos after meeting with county supervisors would have the effect of adding four additional patrolmen to each shift.

The bomb, placed in a women's restroom, wrecked a courtroom in the Hall of Justice that was being used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

No one was injured in the blast, one of three which hit West Coast facilities in a four-hour period early yesterday.

Marin Public Works Director Donald Frost, who estimated damage at a quarter million dollars, said the explosion did no structural damage to the building.

Weatherman LetterA Bomb About the
Marin County
Courthouse*Bombing*A Rush of
Others

By George Draper

A letter signed, "The Weatherman Underground" claimed credit yesterday for the bomb explosion that shattered a courtroom at the Marin Civic Center.

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m. Thursday, closely followed by other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

LETTERS

Letters claiming responsibility for each of these bombs were received yesterday.

While investigators were analyzing the letters, a number of telephoned bomb threats were received in the Bay Area.

No bombs exploded, but authorities were sufficiently nervous to order evacuation for limited periods of time of the Marin Civic Center, Mills College and the Student Union on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NAMES

In addition to the Weatherman Underground, the letters were signed with such unusual names as The Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, The Purple Sunshine Clan and the Quarter Moon Tribe.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, chief of investigators for the Marin sheriff's office, said there was no way of knowing immediately whether the Weatherman Underground letter was authentic.

"It would be strictly speculation to say it is valid or it is not," he said.

Police elsewhere were cautious about accepting the validity of the letters.

A Santa Barbara investigator, referring to the letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, said: "A lot of people claim the credit after a bombing."

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a spokesman for President Nixon said the FBI has been instructed to investigate the bombings in California and Washington state.

Mr. Nixon, in addition, cited the bombings as additional evidence of the need for prompt enactment of the administration's anti-bombing legislation. (The measure now is in Senate-House conference.)

The letters are interesting from many standpoints.

UNSOLVED

Some groups took additional credit for previous bombings that have yet to be solved by police.

At least two of the groups boasted that Thursday's bombings were in honor of the memory of guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara, who was killed in Bolivia on October 8, 1937.

The Purple Sunshine Clan, which claimed credit for the bomb that failed to go off in Berkeley, noted that "last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots."

(Twelve Weatherman leaders are under Federal indictment for these riots and 11 of them are still being hunted.)

The Quarter Moon Tribe, which employs a quarter moon with an arrow through it as an insignia, took credit for the Seattle bombing and sent the only letter written by hand.

The writing, done with a fine point pen, reveals a curious style. Each letter is formed by straight lines. There are no curves.

All the letters received in the various cities were photostatic copies. There were no originals. This, according to police, is a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

Finally, each of the four letters revealed a certain similarity of rhetoric directed against the Establishment and in each letter the action was referred to as "Amerika."

In the Bay Area, at least, the letters carried post office

cancellations bearing different dates and times.

WEATHERMAN

The Weatherman Underground letters, for instance, were received by two newspapers and a radio station.

Two of these special delivery letters were postmarked: San Francisco, October 8. But one was received at the post office at 8:45 p.m. and the other at 11:30 p.m.

The Chronicle city desk received a copy of the same letter postmarked: San Francisco, October 9, 7 a.m.

HEADING

This letter begins with the heading:

"The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla, October 8, 1970."

The letter opens with a brief declarative sentence that — despite the $250,000 damage to the Marin courtroom — makes a tremendously exaggerated boast.

"Last night," it says, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

DEDICATION

The letter goes on to say that the bombing is dedicated to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York and "to all black prisoners of war."

"Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in Amerika (sic) into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika," the letter adds.

In conclusion, The Weatherman Underground letter salutes "a new breed of freedom fighters."

They are identified as Jonathan Jackson, who was killed along with three other persons in the August 7 shootout at the Marin Civic Center, and Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, a former philosophy teacher at the University of California in Los Angeles, is now wanted for murder for allegedly supplying four guns for the August 7 shootout.

CLAN

The Gazette in Berkeley received a letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan which, as it turned out, was somewhat presumptuous. The clan's bomb never went off.

In any event, the letter begins:

"This morning we blew up The Center for the Study of Law and Society, which has investigated black rebellion and Telegraph (avenue) riots."

"The power of youth in this country is emerging: dope and rock concerts; strikes and street riots; rocks and bombs."

"Last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots. Since then an underground has developed which is capable of bombing pig stations and liberating Tim Leary. Right on."

This letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan was ended: "From the folks who bombed the Oakland pig station."

PARK

Perfect Park is the name of a kind of People's Park at Isla Vista near the University of California campus at Santa Barbara.

The letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society was sent special delivery to the campus radio station — KCSB. It opens on a poetic note.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically with flaming napalm or gray-invisible pollution, mentally with televised, transistorized though control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually with smack (heroin) and with concentration camps called prisons."

MOVEMENT

The letter states that "everywhere the people are moving against Pig Amerika" and goes on to describe the success of this revolutionary movement.

"As the beast falls, a new culture of life arises: our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, their Bank of Amerika bafn- ing to the ground."

In Seattle, the letter mailed by the Quarter Moon Tribe took credit for Thursday's bombing of an OTC headquarters at the University of Washington.

"No longer will the death culture use campuses for bases of imperialism," the tribe warned. "We intend to disarm, dismantle, disable and destroy the military and pig might of Amerika, wherever we are, however we can."

The letter referred to "the crumbling Amerikan empire" surrounded by righteous guerrillas.

"As they tighten the noose," it proclaimed, "we tear up and trash from within."

SALUTE

The tribe concluded with a salute to "the energy of our sisters that pushed us beyond the music of Leila Khaled's laugh." She is the Arab female hijacker, recently released from a London jail.

Meanwhile, many bomb threats were reported but no more bombs exploded.

Some 950 students and teachers at Mills College hastily evacuated their homes and dormitories at 8:30 a.m. yesterday following a phoned bomb threat. The buildings returned to normal at 10 a.m.

At 2:23 p.m., the fire alarm sounded in the Marin Civic Center and 2000 nervous persons left the buildings there. A search revealed no bombs and the buildings were reopened at 4:15 p.m.

Another telephoned threat from a man identifying himself as a Weatherman forced the evacuation of the Student Union on Berkeley campus about 3:15 p.m.

MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA
OCTOBER 8, 1970

Sheriff Louis Mountanos, Marin County, California, advised October 8, 1970; that at 1:30 a.m., a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, doing extensive damage to courtroom number four, Superior Court and damaging the wall to an unused adjoining courtroom. He advised that a San Francisco telephone operator advised the Sheriff's Office that at approximately 1:25 a.m., October 8, 1970, she had received a telephone call from an extremely excited young woman who said that a bomb was set to go off at the Marin County Civic Center in approximately five minutes.

Sheriff Mountanos advised that the bomb had been in a restroom immediately adjacent to courtroom number four. Damage was estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. Type of device unknown and authorities continuing their efforts to determine the type of explosive utilized and type of device used to detonate this explosive. Authorities believe explosive was probably TNT. No injuries reported as result of explosion.

The letter received by UPI is signed "The Purple Sunshine Clan" and claims credit, prematurely, for bombing the Center For the Study of Law and Society and the Oakland Police Station.

The Laboratory is requested to make the following determinations:

1. Are there latent fingerprints on the letters and envelopes? If any, do they compare with known prints of Weatherman fugitives?
2. What is the type of chemically-treated paper used for the letters and for what type of copying machine is it manufactured?
3. Are the specimen communications on the same types of treated paper as samples of other Weatherman notes?
4. Are the typewriting on the specimen communications from the same typewriter? How do they compare with other notes received from radical elements?
5. What type of envelopes are the specimens submitted and where are they available?
6. What investigative or intelligence data can be obtained from the postage stamps? Could the postage stamps from both envelopes come from a single roll, sheet, or page and how do they compare with other stamps used in other letters from radical elements?
7. Does the reproduction process indicate that the specimens compare with others as to a particular copying machine being used?

This Day of the Heroic Surrender
October 8, 1970

Last night we blew up the Hall of Unjustices, New York County Civil Center.

We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin,
Solomon, and New York, and to all black prisoners in New England where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against the America.

We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of 10, 11 and the other inmates of Solomon Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air.

And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters -- [redacted] and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela -- still alive and free -- who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster.

Marin Security Steps

Marin Sheriff Louis Montanos was giving that county's Board of Supervisors a report on new security measures at the civic center yesterday when one of his deputies passed him a note saying that Angela Davis had been arrested.

Montanos was noticeably affected by the news that the woman accused of masterminding the fatal attempted escape at the civic center August 7 was in custody.

He halted only momentarily, however, before listing a new set of security measures around the sprawling county complex that includes weekend closing of both the Hall of Justice and the county administration building.

For the first time yesterday, bailiffs and matrons manned the three open entrances to the administration building and Hall of Justice, searching bags and briefcases and, in some cases, frisking visitors.

There were few objections from persons entering the building, and some were heard to comment that it was "about time."

Montanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce said deputies are working 12-hour shifts seven days a week guarding the complex designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Bruce said, however, that plans call for the development of a new security division in the sheriff's department, the cost of which has not yet been estimated.

Plans are also under way to issue identification cards to employees of the building.

Montanos said the weekend closing of the county administration building, which includes the county library, will be only temporary — possibly a matter of weeks.

The Hall of Justice was the target last week of a terrorist bomb that wrecked one courtroom.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, in charge of the inspectors division, urged yesterday that anyone who has noticed anything unusual — "however trivial" — before or after the bombing should contact the Marin sheriff's office.

2 More Bombings On West Coast

Time bombs exploded early yesterday at the University of Washington in Seattle and at the National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

Yet another bomb, placed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley failed to go off.

The timing of these three bombs, together with that of the one that exploded in San Rafael, indicated they had been set to explode at approximately one-hour intervals at four points along the West Coast.

FUGITIVE

The West Coast bombings came only two days after Bernardine Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, announced via a tape recording the launching of a "fall offensive."

"Now we are everywhere," her taped voice stated at a New York press conference held by the Youth International Party — Yippies — "and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country."

The Seattle explosion came at 2:45 a.m. in Clark Hall, where Air Force and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps offices are located.

WARNING

There was a telephone warning 25 minutes before the bomb exploded with the force of 15 to 20 sticks of dynamite. Officials estimated damage at $150,000.

Captain Marvin Webbs of the Seattle bomb squad said he believed two charges were placed 35 feet apart in a ground-level locker room and exploded almost simultaneously.

The blast ripped holes in the floor and ceiling of the room and smashed doors and windows throughout one wing of the three-story building.

At Berkeley, a woman called UC police at 3:03 a.m.

to say a bomb would go off in five minutes at the Center for the Study of Law and Society.

DISCOVERY

Officer Fred Hourel spotted the device in a heating duct on the outside and under the old two-story building.

It consisted of a two-inch-thick box filled with powder and rigged to go off with a time fuse. Bomb experts deactivated it at 4:15 a.m.

The Santa Barbara bomb exploded at 4:10 a.m. without prior warning.

It buckled part of the armory wall, broke some pipes and windows and rocked homes in the eastern part of the city.

Santa Barbara Police Chief A. W. Trembly said last night that "we have some leads in which could conceivably lead to the arrest of the culprits" in that bombing, but offered no other details.

He added, however, that evidence found at the scene indicated the bomber was inept and more interested in getting away than in doing damage to the building.

The bomb, Trembly said, was placed on the ground outside the building and most of the force of the blast was absorbed by the building foundation. Had it been placed in some higher spot, he said, the damage would have been more severe.

ELECTRICAL

Investigators said the explosive substance was unknown but the charge, they said, was set off by an electrical device.

The Santa Barbara National Guard Armory serves as the base for the Headquarters Battery, 144th Field Artillery Battalion, which is attached to the 40th Armored Brigade.

Major H. G. Nichols, battalion executive officer, said no signs of ammunition were taken.

UNSUBS; BOMBING OF COURTROOM NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT, CIVIC CENTER, SAN RAFAEL,
BOMBING MATTER

On 10/8/70 (Thursday) at 1:30 AM, a bomb, which had been placed in the women's restroom adjacent to a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center, exploded causing extensive damage to the restroom, courtroom Number Four and the surrounding area. This bombing appeared to coincide with bombings occurring in the ROTC Building at the University of Washington in Seattle and the National Guard Armory at Santa Barbara. These bombings came two days after speaking for the Weatherman organization, warned of a "fall offensive" by that organization.

b7c

A member of the night maintenance crew at the Civic Center advised he noted a white male in his early twenties, cleancut, normal dress in the area at 10:20 PM. He also noted a white female in early twenties in the area on three occasions between 7:30 PM and 10:30 PM.

This case is receiving widespread publicity because it follows the recent kidnap and murder of Judge HALEY at the same Marin County Civic Center. President NIXON commented on these three bombings at a news conference indicating his interest in the matter and the Bureau has requested daily summary teletypes on the progress of the investigation.

All Agents are requested to contact security and racial informants for any knowledge regarding these bombings. Keeping in mind the general description of suspects, all Agents are requested to provide photographs to SA CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN of anyone meeting these general descriptions who have

In response to a telephone request from Inspector [REDACTED] the undersigned drove to San Rafael on October 8, 1970 and assisted in the investigation of the explosion which occurred in the Marin County Hall of Justice Building on October 8, 1970. At that time the explosion scene was examined and limited searching conducted for bomb parts and explosive residues. A few exhibits were recovered and brought back to the laboratory. This report will only cover preliminary studies since it is our understanding that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over this investigation and has independently studied the crime scene and will conduct complete laboratory studies. Since this report is based upon preliminary observations it should not be considered conclusive insofar as the explosive type and charge is concerned. FBI Laboratory analyses may definitely identify the explosive employed and the mechanism used for initiating the explosion.

From a study of the scene it is apparent that the explosive charge was placed in the wall between the women's toilet and the eastward side of courtroom #4. It appears that the charge was between 40 and 45 inches above the floor in the wall on the northern side of the toilet. This toilet was the third one from the southern end of the restroom which is opposite the public mall. The complete wall separating the restroom from courtroom #4 was demolished except for a few support beams. The location of the explosive charge could readily be determined by the bending of piping, metal stall partitions and other destruction which was plainly visible. The explosion was obviously a large one and it appears it required a relatively large charge. Considerable damage was also done to the wall between courtrooms 4 and 5 in an area opposite from the location of the explosive charge in the women's restroom. The wall separating the women's restroom from the elevator lobby was also extensively damaged. Further, the walls between the women's toilet and the vestibule and between the women's toilet and the holding cell were shifted out of alignment. A large piece of metal was found to have traveled completely across the planter bed in the elevator lobby and embedded itself in the wooden paneled wall in the area of the men's toilet. Another piece of similar metal had penetrated completely through this wall and was found inside the wall between the men's toilet and courtroom #3.

From the extensive distorted condition of various pieces of metal and the splitting of some of these pieces it is very apparent that a high velocity explosion occurred. Tests conducted on various pieces of metal recovered disclosed the presence of nitrates on most of them but such material would be found after the explosion of most commercial explosive preparations. In no case was I able to detect ammonium nitrate. This is a common ingredient in most types of dynamite and normally we can detect such residues when regular dynamite has been exploded. While extensive chemical analyses have not been carried out there are indications that the explosive employed was some type of plastic explosive such as C-4. This does not tend to imply that C-4 must have been used but the velocity of the explosion and the lack of residues certainly indicate this as being a strong possibility.

While at the explosion scene the following items were secured by the undersigned:

1. Metal door found embedded exterior wall of men's toilet adjacent to courtroom #3.
2. Metal door found on floor of women's toilet in handicap stall.
3. Bent metal found at various locations in women's toilet and courtroom #4.

On October 14, 1970, Inspector [] delivered to the laboratory the following two additional exhibits:

4. Metal door inside wall of courtroom #3 next to men's toilet.
5. Metal button found in women's toilet.

As previously mentioned, limited preliminary testing disclosed nitrates on most of the above except for Item 2 but no ammonium nitrate was detected. Examination of the bent metal door found on the floor in the toilet for handicapped persons in the women's restroom closest to the public mall showed this to be a 12x12 metal access door. The metal is approximately 1/16 inch thick. One side the door is painted blue and has a latching device screw head. The opposite or inner side of the door contained the lock catch itself and on the other end a hinge. In the center was a manufacturer's paper label. This particular door was apparently broken from the wall at the time of the explosion and it was bent but not extensively damaged. It is apparent that it was not close to the explosion itself. The pieces of metal which were found in the wall of the men's toilet and in the wall of courtroom #3 (Items 1 and 4) are two parts of a door identical to Item 2. They contain the same type of hinge, catch, manufacturer's paper label and painted surfaces. Together these weigh approximately the same as the metal door in Item 2 and correspond with the latter in all respects. They have been literally split apart and bent and twisted severely. In my opinion these two pieces of a metal door were very close to the explosive charge. While we have been unable to definitely prove the location of the access door into the wall behind the center toilet in the women's restroom, there was a type of pressure chamber connected to the piping at this location and there should have been an access door in the wall in front of this tank-type device. I, therefore, believe that it can be established that this door was opened and the explosive materials placed in the wall behind the third toilet in the women's restroom northward from the holding cell. It should also be pointed out that the small metal button found in the women's restroom (Item 5) is like the screwdriver notched button in the access door (Item 2) but missing from the metal door portion (Item 1). Further, a small piece of a spring was found inside the door of toilet stall #3. This door was bent almost in half and contained a large hole with a diameter of about 10 inches which had been blasted through the upper center of the door. The bottom edge of the hole was approximately 30 inches above the bottom of the door and these doors are mounted about 12-1/2 inches from the floor. The spring found in the toilet door is similar to springs used on the hinges in access doors mounted on restroom doors in the Hall of Justice Building. This spring apparently came from the hinge on the door in the wall which is represented by Items 1 and 4.

While in Marin County on October 8, Inspector [redacted] and the undersigned did search through the debris for clock or other bomb fragments. This search however was very limited and consisted primarily of a general observation of the scene and visual inspection of numerous buckets of debris picked up in the blast area. A further search was to be conducted the following day when the undersigned was not present and it is our understanding that this was carried out by the Marin County Sheriff's Office Identification Bureau personnel and Special Agents of the FBI. At that time other materials of significance were recovered.

The above-listed exhibits are being returned to Inspector [redacted]. If further studies by the CII Laboratory are desired, we will be most willing to carry them out but it appears presently unnecessary since the FBI is conducting independent studies and have in their possession additional recovered items.

Mr. [REDACTED], Identification Officer, Marin County Sheriff's Office, San Rafael, California, furnished enclosure to SA THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, 10/14/70.

[REDACTED] further advised he assisted [REDACTED] in conducting various examinations on two pieces of metal obtained from the scene of the bombing, on 10/14/70. It was noted both pieces of metal were 1/16" steel, with traces of blue paint similar to the color used on the utility panel access doors in all of the restrooms on the court floor level of the Hall of Justice. Both items also obtained portions of a manufacturer's label similar to labels on other panel doors. Both portions weighed out to about two pounds 12 ounces. They noted this weight to be within four ounces of a complete panel door.

Discrepancy in weight was attributed to the fact the screw button latch assembly was missing from the retrieved items, and they concluded both pieces were the panel door which had originally been blown from the restroom wall in the location of stall #4.

Further comparison of the two pieces indicated they had been ripped apart, vertically, midway between the two outer edges of the panel. Mr. [] advised this would seem to indicate the explosive device was probably placed directly behind this panel.

b7c

Mr. [] stated he is now in possession of both these pieces of metal and will make them available to the FBI Laboratory upon request. Residue examinations were made of both pieces of metal with only general nitrate reactions occurring. No ammonium nitrate was detected.

Date 10/13/70

On October 11, 1970, SA CHARLES L. KILLION, assisted by SAs THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN, [redacted] and [redacted]; and Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, conducted examinations of the scene of an explosion which occurred in the area of Superior Courtroom No. 4, Hall of Justice Building, Marin County Civic Center. Examinations continued on October 12, 1970, with SA KILLION being assisted by SAs RAYMOND N. BYERS and KENT Q. BRISBY, Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted].

b6
b7c

A wall separates Superior Courtroom No.4 and a ladies restroom. The explosion completely destroyed this wall and extensive damage was caused throughout the courtroom and the restroom. The space within the wall was about 24 inches wide. Water pipes were within the wall.

Based upon the characteristics of the damage, a high explosive charge, such as dynamite, detonated in the wall between the courtroom and the ladies room.

Access to the restroom was from a public corridor. Six stalls were located on the common wall between the courtroom and the restroom. Other similar restrooms were examined and it was found that a hinged steel access door into the wall was located in one of the stalls. The access door was latched with one latch having a screw head slot which permitted opening the door with an object such as a screwdriver. The access door opening into the wall measured 10-3/4 inches high by 11-3/8 inches wide. The center of the opening was 63 inches from the floor.

Fragments of metal which appeared to be from clock parts, and numerous pieces of metal and debris were obtained for further laboratory examination. No identifiable blasting cap, battery or container parts were found.

She performs janitorial duties at the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and her normal working hours are from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday. Her main janitorial duty is to clean the restrooms on the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center. She cleans the private restrooms in the municipal and superior courtroom areas as well as the public restrooms located in the public corridor adjacent to the courtrooms. She also cleans the law library, which is located on the north end of the courts' floor.

b7C

Mrs. [redacted] stated she was at work on the night of October 7, 1970, in her usual area in the Civic Center. As is her normal procedure, she began work at 6 p.m. and the first area she cleaned was the private restrooms in the courtrooms. She completed the cleaning of those restrooms at approximately 8 p.m. at which time she began cleaning the restrooms located in the public corridor on the south end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building. She completed the cleaning of the two restrooms in that area approximately at 8:45 p.m. and she then went to the restrooms located on the north end of the courts' floor of the Hall of Justice. She first cleaned the ladies restroom located adjacent to courtroom number 4, superior court, and completed the cleaning of that restroom at approximately 9:15 p.m. She stated she emptied the trashcan in the restroom first, and as is usual procedure, she looked through the trash but saw nothing unusual in it. She stated she also emptied the container used for sanitary napkins and saw nothing unusual in that container. She then completed cleaning of the restroom and saw nothing of an unusual nature on the floor or in any area of the restroom. $200,000 for Marin Courts' Security

Security of public buildings costs money.

The bill is going to be at least $200,000 in Marin County, scene of the multiple death shootout and the bomb-blasting of a courtroom.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has approved in principle the employment of 17 new deputy sheriffs to staff a new security division of the sheriff's office.

Longer Shifts

Until the new officers are on duty, all deputies in the department are working 12 hour shifts, seven days a week.

The supervisors approved the increase in personnel after having added seven bailiffs to the security forces of the courts earlier.

The judge and three others were slain.

The supervisors also voted to curtail the use of public buildings in the Marin County government center.

Schedules

The Hall of Justice will close at 5 p.m. each day and be locked during the week-end. The administration building, which includes the county library and provides meeting rooms for numerous groups, also will be closed at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

Supervisors said the administration building closing would be only temporary.

BOMBING MATTER

Rememo SA C.M. SULLIVAN, 10/12/70 with lead for SAN PABLO, CALIFORNIA.

On October 14, 1970 Mr. [redacted] San Pablo, California, advised that he sold his Volkswagen, California License [redacted] sometime last July, 1970 to Mr. [redacted], who is a part owner of Doug Cowan's Used Car Sales in San Rafael. [redacted] did not buy the car for the Used Car Company but bought it to give to his daughter. About two weeks after he bought the car the engine fell out. Mr. [redacted] also advised that he received a parking ticket in the mail about two weeks ago for this car, the charge being illegal parking in Sausalito. He sent the ticket back.

On 10/15/70, Inspectors [redacted] and [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, made available the following information:

They advised that they had been contacted by [redacted] home address [redacted] Mill Valley, California, telephone [redacted] Deaver's Restaurant, 1143 Fourth Street, San Rafael, California, telephone 454-5996, who advised she had some information which might be of interest about the recent San Rafael bombing.

b7C

These inspectors advised that at the restaurant they contacted [redacted] home address [redacted] [redacted] San Rafael, California, telephone [redacted] and she advised that on the morning of 10/8/70, the day of the bombing of the Marin County Civic Center, she had observed a girl and a man in the restaurant and overheard the girl say in essence "What are we going to do next now that we are through here?", and the unknown man answered "I got a telegram yesterday and we are going to Egypt for our next assignment."

b7C

Both of these individuals gave a composite description of this unknown girl as a WFA, age 25 to 27 years, 5'5", 130 pounds, long jet black hair braided, and they described the unknown man as a WMA, mid-20s to 30 years, 5'9", red hair, square face, full beard.

[redacted] told the inspectors that this individual looked like a person whose photograph appeared in the "San Francisco Chronicle" newspaper of 10/15/70,

These inspectors contacted [REDACTED], Manager, San Rafael Western Union Office, and he advised that a check with the girls in his office who paste up messages failed to disclose that they recalled any message containing the word Egypt. He stated that all other messages coming to Marin County via relay machines in San Francisco and suggested that if messages to other parts of Marin County were to be checked they should be checked through San Francisco Western Union.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was in the court room of Judge ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN, JR., at Municipal Court, Department 3, Marin County. He advised that during the afternoon, he observed a female in court who resembled the photograph of a composite drawing of a female who was seen by a janitorial employee around the court house on the day preceding the bombing. This composite drawing of the female is dated October 10. [redacted] stated that this female remained in court from 2:00 p.m., until 5:00 p.m., and that during this time, she frequently left the court room for short periods. [redacted] stated that he particularly remembered this female because she took her shoes off and that he had ordered her to replace the shoes. She replied, "No baby, my feet are swollen". He further recalled that during the afternoon, she sidled up to a 45-year-old Negro male who frequents court and stated in a loud voice, "You know, I was raised by Negroes". [redacted] stated that he checked the court calendar in an effort to determine this female's name, hoping that her case would soon be heard and she would leave. However, her name was not on the calendar. He stated that he has not seen her on previous occasions in court. Further, she had nothing to do with the defendants on trial in court that day. The following is a description of the unknown female provided by [redacted]:

b7c

Height	5'7"
Face	Round
Dress	Green knit suit
Complexion	Fair
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Unknown, wearing round, modern sunglasses
Appearance	Sloppy

He recalled that her outstanding feature was the lack of a bra and described her chest development as extremely ample. She carried a big purse, no briefcase or camera case.

He was uncertain but thought she might have been wearing a floppy-brimmed hat. Age estimate over 30 but due to appearance, difficult to estimate. [] stated that a janitorial employee later found a pair of alligator-type shoes with a brand name of J.C. Penny in them, which were abandoned in court. [] also recalled that in this court the cases of [] and [] were scheduled to be heard at 4:30 p.m. He described these two individuals as reported Black Panthers who had tried to disarm a California Highway Patrolman. He stated that due to delays, their case was not heard until 5:50 p.m. He recalled, however, that the above-described female had nothing to do with these two defendants.

[redacted], Court Floor Security Officer, Patrol Division, Marin County Sheriff's Office, was interviewed in the Bailiffs' Lounge at the Marin County Court House. Two photographs of a composite drawing of individuals observed at the Marin County Civic Center during the evening of October 7, 1970, were displayed to [redacted]. The information for these composite drawings was supplied by a maintenance employee.

[redacted] advised that the composite drawing dated October 10, 1970, of the male individual resembles one [redacted], who was a recent defendant in a case involving theft of explosives from Hutchinson Company, which is a quarry company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, California. [redacted] advised that [redacted] is due for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] advised that in his tour of duty on the day preceding the bombing, which occurred in the early morning of October 8, 1970, he observed nothing unusual and could suggest no suspects.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was on duty in Department 3 and Department 5 at various times during the day. He advised that he observed nothing unusual or outstanding during his tour of duty on that day. Composite photographs of a drawing furnished by a maintenance employee were displayed to [redacted]. [redacted] explained that he has had seven years of art training and stated that the photograph of the male, dated October 10, is an excellent likeness of an individual he has observed in court involving theft of explosives from the Hutchinson Company in Greenbrae, California. He recalled this individual as [redacted] who comes up for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] pointed out that the nose, the mouth and the eyes and eyebrows all closely resemble those of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that he could not recall seeing [redacted] at the court house on October 7, 1970, the day preceding the bombing. [redacted] pointed out that two individuals were on trial in Department 3, Municipal Court, Marin County, on October 7. These individuals were charged with violation of California Penal Code Section 242, Battery. Due to the length of the court calendar, these two individuals were at the Marin County Court House between 5:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m., and had with them three friends. He described them all as Negro except one male Caucasian. He named these individuals as [redacted] (phonetic) and [redacted] (phonetic). He stated that these two individuals were reported to have been Black Panthers. However, he had no personal knowledge of their affiliation.

Sergeant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed on October 13, 1970, at Police Headquarters, Fairfax. A composite photograph dated October 10, 1970, of an individual seen in the Marin County Court House during late evening on October 7, 1970, preceding the bombing which occurred in the early morning hours of October 8, was displayed to [redacted]. He immediately remarked, "Where did you get the picture of [redacted]?" Further questioning revealed that he actually believed this was a drawing of [redacted]. He was informed that this was a picture of an unknown individual who was observed in the Marin County Court House. He commented that except for the length of the hair, he actually believed that it was a drawing made of [redacted]. [redacted] recalled that he had arrested [redacted] in March, 1970, on a charge of burglary of various bombing materials from the Hutchinson Company, a quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California. [redacted] recalled that he observed a car parked near the quarry with Minnesota license plates and after examining the car, was prepared to leave when he was hailed by an individual who later turned out to be [redacted]. He requested [redacted] to allow a search of the automobile and its trunk. The trunk of this automobile revealed boxes of dynamite, blasting caps, fuses, and various other material used in blasting. Further, [redacted] pointed out various locations near the quarry where he had secreted other blasting material. [redacted] recalled that he was not prepared to handle these various explosive materials but that [redacted] assured him that they were safe to handle and that he, [redacted], knew how to deal with explosives. In spite of [redacted] statement that they were safe to handle, [redacted] secured professional help from the Presidio of the Army to recover the secreted explosive materials.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is presently awaiting sentencing on charges arising out of the arrest on that occasion and that his case was heard by the Marin County Court authorities. Upon further examination of the picture, [redacted] recalled that around July or August, 1970, [redacted] hair, while still fairly long, had been cut for his court

Lieutenant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed in conjunction with Sergeant [redacted] of the Fairfax Police Department. [redacted] advised that he lives two doors away from the [redacted] residence. He advised that in February, 1970, the Hutchinson Company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California, was burglarized and that the case has never been solved. Stolen at that time were various blasting material and explosives. Among the items taken were blasting caps used to set off dynamite explosions. These blasting caps were both electrical and fuse type. [redacted] stated that since the robbery, various explosions have been going off in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the [redacted] residence, both in a school yard and near a railroad track. [redacted] stated that he has recovered two copper blasting caps that were duds and displayed one of these blasting caps. He stated that the serial numbers on these caps corresponded with the series of those stolen from the Hutchinson Company in the unsolved burglary. It is [redacted] opinion that [redacted] was responsible for the prior burglary and may still have in his position an Atlas blasting machine which has not been recovered, as well as other blasting material which the company valued at $345.22.

Marin Trial Guarded

Despite the blast that destroyed a courtroom he had used, acting Presiding Superior Judge E. Warren McGuire went ahead with a scheduled trial in the Marin County Civic Center today.

McGuire used the bombed courtroom Monday in a calendar session at which he set the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25, to begin this morning — and it was that case at which he presided.

The courtroom was guarded by four uniformed and three plainclothes officers.

Walker, a black convict, is accused of assaulting a guard at San Quentin on Aug. 15, when he was to have been released.

Walker, who has two prior felony assault convictions and has been in state institutions since the age of 14, actually was discharged from prison, then re-arrested.

He was later released in $10,000 bail posted by North Beach Bonding, 369 Bryant St. here. Jeffrey L. Pollak, office manager, said the money was "fully secured" on Sept. 29, when the bail was arranged.

Two days later, he added, Walker himself came in and paid the bail premium of $1000. Pollack refused to say who had originally secured the loan.

Walker's attorney, Robert Birkie, announced in court this morning that one of his defense witnesses would be

George Jackson. Jackson is one of the three prisoners from Soledad Prison who are accused of murdering a guard there.

It was Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, who invaded Judge Haley's courtroom with guns August 7 in an attempt to free three convicts there. Judge Haley, Jonathan and two convicts died in the shootout that followed.

Santa Barbara, Seattle Hit, Too

By The Associated Press

Bombs exploded at three points along the Pacific Coast today, damaging an ROTC building at the University of Washington in Seattle, a National Guard armory at Santa Barbara, and the county courthouse in San Rafael. There were no injuries.

Damage at Seattle was estimated at $150,000. Authorities said it appeared that two bombs exploded with the force of 15 to 20 dynamite sticks. The blast at Santa Barbara blew a two-foot hole through a thick wall.

Santa Barbara police chief A. W. Trembly said:

"We certainly believe this bombing is connected with the Weatherman faction and other terrorist groups."

Seattle Police Capt. Marv Webbins said there apparently were two bombs, placed 35 feet apart in a ground-floor locker room.

The blast blew out windows, stripped plaster from the walls and tore off part of a locked exterior door and sparked a small fire in the building's basement.

"This has to be the work of a fanatic," said university Vice President Philip Cartwright. "I am shocked at such wanton destruction."

In Santa Barbara, Police Lt. Fred Baker said the blast and the two other bombings "would seem to indicate a conspiracy."

Trembly said detectives and FBI agents have several leads on the bomb, a large metal can containing an undetermined explosive.

"The person who planted the bomb was very inept and was probably more interested in getting away safely than doing any damage to the building," he said.

If the bomb had been placed higher on the wall, he said, it would have caused considerable damage, but, as it was, most of the blast's force was absorbed by the building's foundation.

"There are some odd things about the canister the bomb was placed in that may lead us to the bomber," he added.

Baker said there was no advance warning of the blast. Armory spokesmen estimated damage at about $2000. A spokesman said the blast didn't damage the arsenal's weapons, and apparently no attempt was made to steal them.

The explosions came just two days after the radical group Weatherman warned a "fall offensive" would soon be launched "from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The voice of the Weatherman warning—a tape recording—was identified as that of Bernardine Dohrn by her sister, Jennifer, a spokesman for the Youth International Party—Yippies—at whose New York headquarters the tape was played.

"Now we are everywhere, and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country," the tape said.

The recording, which generally attacked present American society, gave no specific plans.

Miss Dohrn and 11 other Weatherman members were indicted in April, charged with conspiracy to cross state lines to incite rioting.

Miss Dohrn dropped out of sight before March 16 when she failed to appear in court on charges of attacking three policemen during a Weatherman disturbance in Chicago in October 1969.

At 10:00 a.m., this date, Supv. [REDACTED], Bureau, Civil Rights Division, telephonically contacted this office and referred to our teletype of 10/8/70, in captioned matter in which we advised we were conducting no investigation. He stated that the Bureau had learned through sources that on this date President NIXON was making a statement to the public and in this statement was commenting that the FBI was conducting intense investigation of the three bombings on the West Coast, namely the one in Seattle, the one in Santa Barbara, and instant bombing.

Mr. [REDACTED] was advised we had answered earlier press inquiries that we were maintaining liaison only and offering coverage of out-of-state leads and facilities of the FBI Laboratory. He was also advised that Mr. [REDACTED] at present was with Attorney General MITCHELL and that it was not known whether the Attorney General had asked [REDACTED] if this office were investigating captioned bombing.

[REDACTED] requested we ascertain from [REDACTED] whether in fact he had so advised the Attorney General. After contacting you, I advised [REDACTED] that the Attorney General had not asked whether we were conducting investigation and as of now no comment has been made as to whether we are or are not investigating this case. He was further advised if the Attorney General asked if we were investigating this bombing in subsequent conversation, [REDACTED] would advise him we are investigating it, but otherwise would not volunteer information one way or the other.

Re Memo of Supervisor FLETCHER dated 10/9/70.

In addition to information provided in re memo, Supervisor [REDACTED] advised the writer this date that this office was not to attempt to take the case away from the Marin County Sheriff's Office and that our jurisdiction is derived from the presumption that the explosives utilized were transported interstate (Title 18, U.S. Code Section 837). Emphasis should be placed, however, on the prior kidnap and murder which took place at the same court house in which we are actively involved, as being the justification for actively investigating this particular bombing.

out that foiled the escape.

This morning's blast came after a San Francisco telephone operator received a call from an anonymous woman who said there was a "big bomb" in the courthouse and it would go off in five minutes.

Minutes after the operator relayed the information to the Marin County Sheriff's office, the explosion ripped the first floor level of the courthouse.

The courtrooms were closed at the time. There were no injuries. Sheriff's deputies were in the process of organizing a search of the building when the bomb went off.

Lt. Tom Lightfoot said it had been planted in a restroom adjacent to the courtroom of Judge Joseph Wilson. The blast ripped apart the wall separating the restroom from the courtroom.

A hole also was blown in the opposite wall of the restroom, damag ing a second courtroom. Lighting fixtures were shattered. Furnishings were in shambles.

Pipes were broken in toilets and water about an inch deep flowed through a hallway until repair crews turned off the flow.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, one of the first on the scene, speculated that the bomb was dynamite but gave no other details.

The operator who took the anonymous call described the voice as that of "an excited young woman."

The entire floor was sealed off to the press and public this morning while a team of state and county investigators made an inch by inch inspection and collected evidence.

Judge Wilson is the presiding officer of the Marin County Superior Court and has been conducting a number of hearings and preliminary examinations at San Quentin Prison in an effort to facilitate courtroom security as a result of the earlier shootout.

Just a week ago, however, Judge Wilson told the county board of supervisors his study panel had decided against holding criminal trials within San Quentin Prison walls. The proposal had been questioned in many legal circles.

"All of us have grave doubts as to whether it is possible for a fair trial to take place within the prison," Judge Wilson informed the board.

The supervisors held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss additional security measures for the civic center, temporary quarters for the bombed-out judges and repairs to the courthouse.

Marin Civic Center Blast Follows Phoned Warning

A powerful bomb early today wrecked a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center that was used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

It blew out two opposite walls of the room, damaged a courtroom next door, and caused spotty flooding of corridors in the new wing, opened last December.

No one was injured but a watchman had punched his timeclock at that location only six minutes before the bomb, believed to be dynamite, went off.

3 in West

The explosion was one of three that rocked West Coast facilities in about four hours.

The courtroom involved is officially assigned to Superior Judge Joseph Wilson, and was used on Monday by Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire during Wilson's vacation.

McGuire has conducted most of the preliminary stages of the trial of Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who survived the Aug. 7 Civic Center shootout in which Superior Judge Harold Haley was killed. Wilson also has sat on some of the Magee hearings.

Immediately after the explosion, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney Bruce Bales and four of the five members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors went into an emergency session.

McGuire and other superior court judges also went into session with Mountanos afterward. Both meetings were concerned with security measures for the courthouse.

Single Entry

It was McGuire who announced the conclusions, saying that the Marin courts would proceed with "business as usual" and that the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center would adopt a search-before-entrance policy.

"We're going to have to secure this Hall of Justice," he said. "We're going to need a security set-up which will allow entry only at a single point."

"Everyone is going to have to be checked in and out, searched, et cetera."

The new Hall of Justice wing is connected to the administrative complex of the Civic Center by pedestrian passageways on two levels. These, the judge said, will have to be sealed off.

"I assume this can be done rather expeditiously," He added:

"If the intent of this bombing was to intimidate or delay the courts, it is not going to be successful."

Phone Call

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m., roughly five minutes after an anonymous warning to a San Francisco phone operator.

Deputy Sheriff Ron Spurrell said the call was "from an anonymous, excited, young-sounding woman" who said:

"Listen, I won't repeat this. There's a big bomb in the courthouse in San Rafael going off in five minutes."

Spurrell alerted all men on duty to begin a search of the building — a routine procedure because there have been many recent bomb threats there — and the shakedown was just starting when the explosion shook the Civic Center.

The bomb had been planted in a women's room on the first level of the Frank Lloyd Wright architectural creation. The restroom is backed up against the wall of Judge Wilson's courtroom.

It exploded with such force that it blew the wall across the courtroom, blasting a hole in the opposite wall and exposing pipes and ventilation ducts there. The courtroom on the other side of Wilson's was also damaged.

Holes were ripped in the walls of a men's room about 50 yards across a lobby area, and plaster was shaken from the walls in corridors and courtrooms more than 100 yards away.

Water from broken pipes ran down the red-tiled corridors and gathered in puddles. Hours after the blast, water began dripping from other ruptured pipes so that it literally seemed to be raining beneath the graceful archway for auto entrance to the center.

Aug. 7 Violence

One puddle of water accumulated at the entrance to the courtroom, 70 yards down the corridor, where Judge Haley, three women jurors and a prosecutor were kidnapped to start the Aug. 7 shooting.

Judge Wilson's courtroom, freakishly, suffered little damage to the furnishings, although they were covered with powder from sound-proofing material.

Judge McGuire was to have presided this morning in the trial of Tommy Walker, a black convict accused of assaulting a San Quentin guard shortly before his scheduled release.

Marin Courtroom Bombed--Blasts in Two Other Cities

Terrorist

Plot Is

Suspected

By Robert Popp

The elegant Marin civic center in San Rafael was rocked early yesterday by a bomb that turned one courtroom into a shambles.

The explosion was one of three that went off on the Pacific Coast within an hour of each other.

The other two damaged an ROTC building in Seattle and a National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

A fourth dud bomb found outside a University of California building in Berkeley rounded out what police suspect was a connected series of terrorist acts.

TIME

Marin county Sheriff Louis Mountanos said the San Rafael blast occurred at 1:27 a.m. in the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center. Clocks in the building stopped at that moment. There were no injuries.

About 1:22 a.m., a San Francisco telephone operator called the sheriff's office and reported that she had just spoken to an excited young female who warned that a bomb would go off in the Marin courthouse in five minutes.

Deputies at the civic center had just begun a search when the blast shook the building.

Donald Frost, director of public works, estimated the damage at $25,000. He said the building was not, however structurally damaged, he said.

The explosion followed by only two months the civic center gun battle in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three other men were killed.

SECURITY

Marin supervisors, judges and lawmen held a series of conferences yesterday during which it was decided to tighten up on security for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building, which is located north of the main area of San Rafael.

More armed guards will be assigned to the hall. Persons entering certain courts will be searched and the Hall of Justice will be sealed off so that only one entrance will be available to the public.

Acting Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire, after meeting with the sheriff, declared:

"This action is not going to prevent the courts from functioning. We're going to have business as usual."

"If this was an attempt to intimidate or delay court action, it is not going to be successful."

Less than two hours after the judge made these remarks, a new bomb threat was telephoned to the sheriff's office.

A woman mumbled that there was "a bomb in a waste basket."

As a result, approximately 2000 persons at the civic center were hastily ordered out. They remained outside while the building was searched from 12:28 p.m. to 1:05 a.m.

Later, deputies arrested Patricia Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson drive, Mil Valley, on charges of making a false bomb report.

Mrs. Coy gave her name when placing the call, police said.

If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of three years in prison or one year in the county jail. She is being held in lieu of $5000 bond.

Adding to the day's tensions at the Hall of Justice was the start of the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25.

Walker, who is charged with assaulting two San Quentin guards before being released from prison, is free on $10,000 bail.

WITNESS

His attorney, Robert Birkie of San Rafael, has said that he will call George Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Three now being held at San Quentin, as a witness.

(Jackson and the two other convicts are charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad state prison. It was an apparent effort to force their release that led to the August gun battle at the civic center in which Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, was among those killed.)

The jury selection phase of Walker's trial began on schedule in Judge McGuire's court, which is two courtrooms removed from the site of the bomb blast.

DETECTOR

Unusual security precautions were taken. An electronic metal detecting device was used for the first time at a Marin courtroom doorway, and all persons entering the court were searched.

The bomb that exploded yesterday morning had been placed in a wall between a women's restroom and the court of Presiding Judge Joseph Wilson, who is on vacation.

The force of the blast sent the wall flying across Judge Wilson's courtroom. It slammed into the opposite wall and buckled it.

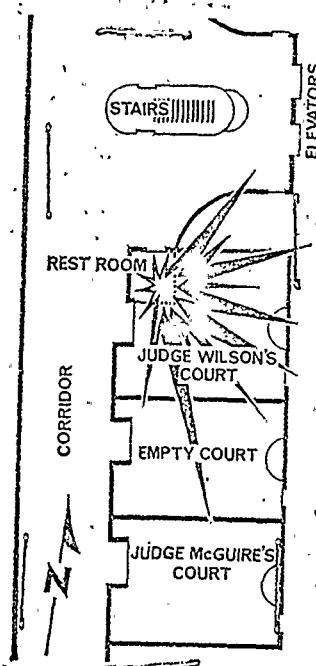

Lighting fixtures, chairs, tables, railings were tumbled and shattered.

FLOODING

The blast ripped through water pipes, causing some flooding, and sent two pieces of pipe flying 50 feet across a lobby into the men's room.

Investigators from the Sixth Army bomb squad and the State Division of Criminal identification and Investigation arrived and began sifting the rubble.

By the end of the day they had failed to identify the type of explosive substance used or the type of device that set it off.

Nixon Orders
FBI Action

By Hubert J. Bernhard

A group calling itself "The Weatherman Underground" claimed today it was responsible for the bombing of the Hall of Justice in the Marin County Civic Center yesterday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., meanwhile, President Nixon ordered the FBI to track down those responsible for the blast, and for other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

He also said he would sign immediately anti-bombing legislation that is expected to pass the Senate later today.

The bill would increase penalties for interstate transportation of explosives, and would permit the FBI to enter at once into the investigation of bombings on campuses that receive federal funds.

4 Letters

The "Weatherman" letter, typewritten and photo-statted white-on-black, was received by The Examiner this morning. It had been postmarked here last night.

A phone call that gave five minutes' warning of the bomb blast also came from San Francisco.

Three other letters, from different organizations claiming responsibility for the Seattle and Santa Barbara blasts and an abortive attempt at the University of California, were received by other agencies.

Those in Santa Barbara and Seattle noted that yesterday's attacks came on the third anniversary of the death of Che Guevara, Cuban revolutionary leader who was shot while trying to foment an uprising in Bolivia.

The "Weatherman" letter did not say this, directly, but above its Oct. 8 dateline was the phrase: "The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla."

'Dedicate —'

"Last night," it declared, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

"We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York, and to all black prisoners of war. Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika."

"We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of Q-Wing and the other inmates of Soledad Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air."

"And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters' — Jonathan Jackson and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela — still alive and free! — who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster."

Shootout Link

The final words were a plea for the freedom of "all political prisoners."

In the dedication to Jackson and the mention of Angela Davis, the letter linked yesterday's bombing to the shooting in the Marin Civic Center on Aug. 8 in which four persons were killed.

It was Jackson, one of those shot, who smuggled arms into the courtroom of Superior Judge Harold Haley, another of the victims. And Miss Davis is on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list, charged with having supplied him with the weapons.

Bandwagon

The Weatherman organization is a group of radical students that split off from the Students for a Democratic Society because they chose to follow a path of violence

greater than that of SDS.

In a New York press conference Tuesday, the tape-recorded voice of Bernardette Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, said the group was planning to launch a new "offensive."

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia of the Marin County Sheriff's office noted, however, that it was "strictly speculation as to whether this is valid or it's just someone jumping on the bandwagon."

"They're all looking for a vehicle — anything which appears to be a strike against the bastion of Establishment or law enforcement," he added.

Battaglia noted that the photostat technique would make it difficult, if not impossible, to identify the typewriter on which the note was written.

With a K

The other claims for the bombings came, in Seattle where a Naval ROTC at the University of Washington was hit, from "The Quarter Moon Tribe," and in Santa Barbara, where a National Guard Armory was blown up, from "The Perfect Park

Home Grown Garden Society."

Santa Barbara's group also mentioned the New York prison uprising and Soledad and dedicated the act to "Janice and Jimmy" — apparent references to Janice Joplin and Jimi Hendrix, rock singers who died recently of drug overdoses.

All the letters followed the revolutionary style of spelling America with a "k."

Another group calling itself "The Purple Sunshine Clan," claimed it had blown up a building at the University of California in Berkeley. That bomb, however, never exploded.

The special delivery letter to The Examiner arrived with 10 cents postage due. That received by the Associated Press in Seattle had 15 cents due.

By Stephen Cook

An angry Marin County judge says the courts have brought on an era of violent acts like yesterday's bombing of the Marin Hall of Justice by "pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice."

There were these other developments in the wake of the powerful early morning blast which caused an estimated $250,000 damage:

Marin Sheriff Louis Mountanos ordered his 61 patrolmen to begin immediately to work 12 hour shifts instead of the regular eight hours.

The sprawling Hall of Justice was emptied in a state of near panic yesterday afternoon after a new bomb threat. Deputies booked a Strawberry woman for making the threat.

The FBI and state criminal investigators joined Marin authorities in sitting the bomb wreckage in an attempt to determine what kind of bomb was used.

Superior Judge Samuel Gardiner said in a statement: "The courts brought this on themselves by pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice instead of maximizing the mass welfare and interests of the public."

Consequence

"As a consequence, rebellious elements feel they have a reasonably good license to do what they want to do. As a trial judge, I will nevertheless take the rules as they are given me by the rest of the democracy, including the higher courts."

Gardiner told attorney William Weissich in his courtroom, "If anybody throws any bombs in, we'll throw them right back out."

When Weissich replied he felt safe in Gardiner's court, the judge went on: "I am going to say out loud that the courts have produced this era of violence by their tolerance."

"I will indulge in the statement as often as I can for a while. The era of violence we have on us was brought on by the courts by their era of tolerance. That is my opinion. I am going to broadcast it."

'Better Security'

He said the courts would not be intimidated by the bombings. "We took a job and we'll do it. There's nothing that can happen that will change the courts except we'll get a little better security."

Deputies said the 12:28 p.m. bomb threat which sent employees and visitors screaming and running out of the Frank Lloyd Wright building came from Patricia L. Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry.

The woman, deputies said, announced on the phone, "My name is Patricia Coy. I have placed a bomb on the courtroom floor inside a wastepaper basket."

Deputies said the woman, who was booked on a felony count of making a false report of a bomb, makes daily calls to the sheriff's office. Her bail was set at $5000.

A search of the building was called off after it was determined it was she who had made the call.

Added Patrolmen

Lt. Thomas Lightfoot said the longer shifts ordered by Mountanos after meeting with county supervisors would have the effect of adding four additional patrolmen to each shift.

The bomb, placed in a women's restroom, wrecked a courtroom in the Hall of Justice that was being used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

No one was injured in the blast, one of three which hit West Coast facilities in a four-hour period early yesterday.

Marin Public Works Director Donald Frost, who estimated damage at a quarter million dollars, said the explosion did no structural damage to the building.

Weatherman LetterA Bomb About the Marin Court
Bombs*A Rash of
Others

By George Draper

A letter signed, "The Weatherman Underground" claimed credit yesterday for the bomb explosion that shattered a courtroom at the Marin Civic Center.

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m. Thursday, closely followed by other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

A fourth bomb, a dud, was found on the campus of the University of California in Berkeley.

LETTERS

Letters claiming responsibility for each of these bombs were received yesterday.

While investigators were analyzing the letters, a number of telephoned bomb threats were received in the Bay Area.

No bombs exploded, but authorities were sufficiently nervous to order evacuation for limited periods of time of the Marin Civic Center, Mills College and the Student Union on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NAMES

In addition to the Weatherman Underground, the letters were signed with such unusual names as The Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, The Purple Sunshine Clan and the Quarter Moon Tribe.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, chief of investigators for the Marin sheriff's office, said there was no way of knowing immediately whether the Weatherman Underground letter was authentic.

"It would be strictly speculation to say it is valid or it is not," he said.

Police elsewhere were cautious about accepting the validity of the letters.

A Santa Barbara investigator, referring to the letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, said: "A lot of people claim the credit after a bombing."

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a spokesman for President Nixon said the FBI has been instructed to investigate the bombings in California and Washington state.

Mr. Nixon, in addition, cited the bombings as additional evidence of the need for prompt enactment of the administration's anti-bombing legislation. (The measure now is in Senate-House conference.)

The letters are interesting from many standpoints.

UNSOLVED

Some groups took additional credit for previous bombings that have yet to be solved by police.

At least two of the groups boasted that Thursday's bombings were in honor of the memory of guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara, who was killed in Bolivia on October 8, 1937.

The Purple Sunshine Clan, which claimed credit for the bomb that failed to go off in Berkeley, noted that "last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots."

(Twelve Weatherman leaders are under Federal indictment for these riots and 11 of them are still being hunted.)

The Quarter Moon Tribe, which employs a quarter moon with an arrow through it as an insignia, took credit for the Seattle bombing and sent the only letter written by hand.

The writing, done with a fine point pen, reveals a curious style. Each letter is formed by straight lines. There are no curves.

All the letters received in the various cities were photostatic copies. There were no originals. This, according to police, is a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

Finally, each of the four letters revealed a certain similarity of rhetoric directed against the Establishment and in each letter the action was referred to as "Amerika."

In the Bay Area, at least, the letters carried post office

cancellations bearing different dates and times.

WEATHERMAN

The Weatherman Underground letters, for instance, were received by two newspapers and a radio station.

Two of these special delivery letters were postmarked: San Francisco, October 8. But one was received at the post office at 6:45 p.m. and the other at 11:30 p.m.

The Chronicle city desk received a copy of the same letter postmarked: San Francisco, October 9, 7 a.m.

HEADING

This letter begins with the heading:

"The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla, October 8, 1970."

The letter opens with a brief declarative sentence that — despite the $250,000 damage to the Marin courtroom — makes a tremendously exaggerated boast.

"Last night," it says, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

DEDICATION

The letter goes on to say that the bombing is dedicated to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York and "to all black prisoners of war."

"Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in Amerika (sic) into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika," the letter adds.

In conclusion, The Weatherman Underground letter salutes "a new breed of freedom fighters."

They are identified as Jonathan Jackson, who was killed along with three other persons in the August 7 shootout at the Marin Civic Center, and Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, a former philosophy teacher at the University of California in Los Angeles, is now wanted for murder for allegedly supplying four guns for the August 7 shootout.

CLAN

The Gazette in Berkeley received a letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan which, as it turned out, was somewhat presumptuous. The clan's bomb never went off.

In any event, the letter begins:

"This morning we blew up The Center for the Study of Law and Society, which has investigated black rebellion and Telegraph (avenue) riots."

"The power of youth in this country is emerging: dope and rock concerts; strikes and street riots; rocks and bombs."

"Last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots. Since then an underground has developed which is capable of bombing pig stations and liberating Tim Leary. Right on."

This letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan was ended: "From the folks who bombed the Oakland pig station."

PARK

Perfect Park is the name of a kind of People's Park at Isla Vista near the University of California campus at Santa Barbara.

The letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society was sent special delivery to the campus radio station — KCSB. It opens on a poetic note.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically with flaming napalm or gray-invisible pollution, mentally with televised, transistorized though control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually with smack (heroin) and with concentration camps called prisons."

MOVEMENT

The letter states that "everywhere the people are moving against Pig Amerika" and goes on to describe the success of this revolutionary movement.

"As the beast falls, a new culture of life arises: our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, their Bank of Amerika burling to the ground."

In Seattle, the letter mailed by the Quarter Moon Tribe took credit for Thursday's bombing of an OTC headquarters at the University of Washington.

"No longer will the death culture use campuses for bases of imperialism," the tribe warned. "We intend to disarm, dismantle, disable and destroy the military and pig might of Amerika, wherever we are, however we can."

The letter referred to "the crumbling Amerikan empire" surrounded by righteous guerrillas.

"As they tighten the noose," it proclaimed, "we tear up and trash from within."

SALUTE

The tribe concluded with a salute to "the energy of our sisters that pushed us beyond the music of Leila Khaled's laugh." She is the Arab female hijacker, recently released from a London jail.

Meanwhile, many bomb threats were reported but no more bombs exploded.

Some 950 students and teachers at Mills College hastily evacuated their homes and dormitories at 8:30 a.m. yesterday following a phoned bomb threat. The buildings returned to normal at 10 a.m.

At 2:23 p.m., the fire alarm sounded in the Marin Civic Center and 2000 nervous persons left the buildings there. A search revealed no bombs and the buildings were reopened at 4:15 p.m.

Another telephoned threat from a man identifying himself as a Weatherman forced the evacuation of the Student Union on Berkeley campus about 3:15 p.m.

UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT,

SAN RAFAEL,
MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA
OCTOBER 8, 1970

Sheriff Louis Mountanos, Marin County, California, advised October 8, 1970; that at 1:30 a.m., a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, doing extensive damage to courtroom number four, Superior Court and damaging the wall to an unused adjoining courtroom. He advised that a San Francisco telephone operator advised the Sheriff's Office that at approximately 1:25 a.m., October 8, 1970, she had received a telephone call from an extremely excited young woman who said that a bomb was set to go off at the Marin County Civic Center in approximately five minutes.

Sheriff Mountanos advised that the bomb had been in a restroom immediately adjacent to courtroom number four. Damage was estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. Type of device unknown and authorities continuing their efforts to determine the type of explosive utilized and type of device used to detonate this explosive. Authorities believe explosive was probably TNT. No injuries reported as result of explosion.

The letter received by UPI is signed "The Purple Sunshine Clan" and claims credit, prematurely, for bombing the Center For the Study of Law and Society and the Oakland Police Station.

The Laboratory is requested to make the following determinations:

1. Are there latent fingerprints on the letters and envelopes? If any, do they compare with known prints of Weatherman fugitives?
2. What is the type of chemically-treated paper used for the letters and for what type of copying machine is it manufactured?
3. Are the specimen communications on the same types of treated paper as samples of other Weatherman notes?
4. Are the typewriting on the specimen communications from the same typewriter? How do they compare with other notes received from radical elements?
5. What type of envelopes are the specimens submitted and where are they available?
6. What investigative or intelligence data can be obtained from the postage stamps? Could the postage stamps from both envelopes come from a single roll, sheet, or page and how do they compare with other stamps used in other letters from radical elements?
7. Does the reproduction process indicate that the specimens compare with others as to a particular copying machine being used?

This Day of the Heroic Surrender
October 8, 1970

Last night we blew up the Hall of Unjustices, New York County Civil Center.

We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin,
Solomon, and New York, and to all black prisoners in New England where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against the America.

We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of 10, 11 and the other inmates of Solomon Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air.

And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters -- [redacted] and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela -- still alive and free -- who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster.

Marin Security Steps

Marin Sheriff Louis Montanos was giving that county's Board of Supervisors a report on new security measures at the civic center yesterday when one of his deputies passed him a note saying that Angela Davis had been arrested.

Montanos was noticeably affected by the news that the woman accused of masterminding the fatal attempted escape at the civic center August 7 was in custody.

He halted only momentarily, however, before listing a new set of security measures around the sprawling county complex that includes weekend closing of both the Hall of Justice and the county administration building.

For the first time yesterday, bailiffs and matrons manned the three open entrances to the administration building and Hall of Justice, searching bags and briefcases and, in some cases, frisking visitors.

There were few objections from persons entering the building, and some were heard to comment that it was "about time."

Montanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce said deputies are working 12-hour shifts seven days a week guarding the complex designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Bruce said, however, that plans call for the development of a new security division in the sheriff's department, the cost of which has not yet been estimated.

Plans are also under way to issue identification cards to employees of the building.

Montanos said the weekend closing of the county administration building, which includes the county library, will be only temporary — possibly a matter of weeks.

The Hall of Justice was the target last week of a terrorist bomb that wrecked one courtroom.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, in charge of the inspectors division, urged yesterday that anyone who has noticed anything unusual — "however trivial" — before or after the bombing should contact the Marin sheriff's office.

2 More Bombings On West Coast

Time bombs exploded early yesterday at the University of Washington in Seattle and at the National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

Yet another bomb, placed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley failed to go off.

The timing of these three bombs, together with that of the one that exploded in San Rafael, indicated they had been set to explode at approximately one-hour intervals at four points along the West Coast.

FUGITIVE

The West Coast bombings came only two days after Bernardine Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, announced via a tape recording the launching of a "fall offensive."

"Now we are everywhere," her taped voice stated at a New York press conference held by the Youth International Party — Yippies — "and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country."

The Seattle explosion came at 2:45 a.m. in Clark Hall, where Air Force and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps offices are located.

WARNING

There was a telephone warning 25 minutes before the bomb exploded with the force of 15 to 20 sticks of dynamite. Officials estimated damage at $150,000.

Captain Marvin Webbs of the Seattle bomb squad said he believed two charges were placed 35 feet apart in a ground-level locker room and exploded almost simultaneously.

The blast ripped holes in the floor and ceiling of the room and smashed doors and windows throughout one wing of the three-story building.

At Berkeley, a woman called UC police at 3:03 a.m.

to say a bomb would go off in five minutes at the Center for the Study of Law and Society.

DISCOVERY

Officer Fred Hourel spotted the device in a heating duct on the outside and under the old two-story building.

It consisted of a two-inch-thick box filled with powder and rigged to go off with a time fuse. Bomb experts deactivated it at 4:15 a.m.

The Santa Barbara bomb exploded at 4:10 a.m. without prior warning.

It buckled part of the armory wall, broke some pipes and windows and rocked homes in the eastern part of the city.

LEADS

Santa Barbara Police Chief A. W. Trembly said last night that "we have some leads in which could conceivably lead to the arrest of the culprits" in that bombing, but offered no other details.

He added, however, that evidence found at the scene indicated the bomber was inept and more interested in getting away than in doing damage to the building.

The bomb, Trembly said, was placed on the ground outside the building and most of the force of the blast was absorbed by the building foundation. Had it been placed in some higher spot, he said, the damage would have been more severe.

ELECTRICAL

Investigators said the explosive substance was unknown but the charge, they said, was set off by an electrical device.

The Santa Barbara National Guard Armory serves as the base for the Headquarters Battery, 144th Field Artillery Battalion, which is attached to the 40th Armored Brigade.

Major H. G. Nichols, battalion executive officer, said no signs of ammunition were taken.

UNSUBS; BOMBING OF COURTROOM NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT, CIVIC CENTER, SAN RAFAEL,
BOMBING MATTER

On 10/8/70 (Thursday) at 1:30 AM, a bomb, which had been placed in the women's restroom adjacent to a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center, exploded causing extensive damage to the restroom, courtroom Number Four and the surrounding area. This bombing appeared to coincide with bombings occurring in the ROTC Building at the University of Washington in Seattle and the National Guard Armory at Santa Barbara. These bombings came two days after speaking for the Weatherman organization, warned of a "fall offensive" by that organization.

A member of the night maintenance crew at the Civic Center advised he noted a white male in his early twenties, cleancut, normal dress in the area at 10:20 PM. He also noted a white female in early twenties in the area on three occasions between 7:30 PM and 10:30 PM.

This case is receiving widespread publicity because it follows the recent kidnap and murder of Judge HALEY at the same Marin County Civic Center. President NIXON commented on these three bombings at a news conference indicating his interest in the matter and the Bureau has requested daily summary teletypes on the progress of the investigation.

All Agents are requested to contact security and racial informants for any knowledge regarding these bombings. Keeping in mind the general description of suspects, all Agents are requested to provide photographs to SA CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN of anyone meeting these general descriptions who have

In response to a telephone request from Inspector [REDACTED] the undersigned drove to San Rafael on October 8, 1970 and assisted in the investigation of the explosion which occurred in the Marin County Hall of Justice Building on October 8, 1970. At that time the explosion scene was examined and limited searching conducted for bomb parts and explosive residues. A few exhibits were recovered and brought back to the laboratory. This report will only cover preliminary studies since it is our understanding that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over this investigation and has independently studied the crime scene and will conduct complete laboratory studies. Since this report is based upon preliminary observations it should not be considered conclusive insofar as the explosive type and charge is concerned. FBI Laboratory analyses may definitely identify the explosive employed and the mechanism used for initiating the explosion.

From a study of the scene it is apparent that the explosive charge was placed in the wall between the women's toilet and the eastward side of courtroom #4. It appears that the charge was between 40 and 45 inches above the floor in the wall on the northern side of the toilet. This toilet was the third one from the southern end of the restroom which is opposite the public mall. The complete wall separating the restroom from courtroom #4 was demolished except for a few support beams. The location of the explosive charge could readily be determined by the bending of piping, metal stall partitions and other destruction which was plainly visible. The explosion was obviously a large one and it appears it required a relatively large charge. Considerable damage was also done to the wall between courtrooms 4 and 5 in an area opposite from the location of the explosive charge in the women's restroom. The wall separating the women's restroom from the elevator lobby was also extensively damaged. Further, the walls between the women's toilet and the vestibule and between the women's toilet and the holding cell were shifted out of alignment. A large piece of metal was found to have traveled completely across the planter bed in the elevator lobby and embedded itself in the wooden paneled wall in the area of the men's toilet. Another piece of similar metal had penetrated completely through this wall and was found inside the wall between the men's toilet and courtroom #3.

From the extensive distorted condition of various pieces of metal and the splitting of some of these pieces it is very apparent that a high velocity explosion occurred. Tests conducted on various pieces of metal recovered disclosed the presence of nitrates on most of them but such material would be found after the explosion of most commercial explosive preparations. In no case was I able to detect ammonium nitrate. This is a common ingredient in most types of dynamite and normally we can detect such residues when regular dynamite has been exploded. While extensive chemical analyses have not been carried out there are indications that the explosive employed was some type of plastic explosive such as C-4. This does not tend to imply that C-4 must have been used but the velocity of the explosion and the lack of residues certainly indicate this as being a strong possibility.

While at the explosion scene the following items were secured by the undersigned:

1. Metal door found embedded exterior wall of men's toilet adjacent to courtroom #3.
2. Metal door found on floor of women's toilet in handicap stall.
3. Bent metal found at various locations in women's toilet and courtroom #4.

On October 14, 1970, Inspector [] delivered to the laboratory the following two additional exhibits:

4. Metal door inside wall of courtroom #3 next to men's toilet.
5. Metal button found in women's toilet.

As previously mentioned, limited preliminary testing disclosed nitrates on most of the above except for Item 2 but no ammonium nitrate was detected. Examination of the bent metal door found on the floor in the toilet for handicapped persons in the women's restroom closest to the public mall showed this to be a 12x12 metal access door. The metal is approximately 1/16 inch thick. One side the door is painted blue and has a latching device screw head. The opposite or inner side of the door contained the lock catch itself and on the other end a hinge. In the center was a manufacturer's paper label. This particular door was apparently broken from the wall at the time of the explosion and it was bent but not extensively damaged. It is apparent that it was not close to the explosion itself. The pieces of metal which were found in the wall of the men's toilet and in the wall of courtroom #3 (Items 1 and 4) are two parts of a door identical to Item 2. They contain the same type of hinge, catch, manufacturer's paper label and painted surfaces. Together these weigh approximately the same as the metal door in Item 2 and correspond with the latter in all respects. They have been literally split apart and bent and twisted severely. In my opinion these two pieces of a metal door were very close to the explosive charge. While we have been unable to definitely prove the location of the access door into the wall behind the center toilet in the women's restroom, there was a type of pressure chamber connected to the piping at this location and there should have been an access door in the wall in front of this tank-type device. I, therefore, believe that it can be established that this door was opened and the explosive materials placed in the wall behind the third toilet in the women's restroom northward from the holding cell. It should also be pointed out that the small metal button found in the women's restroom (Item 5) is like the screwdriver notched button in the access door (Item 2) but missing from the metal door portion (Item 1). Further, a small piece of a spring was found inside the door of toilet stall #3. This door was bent almost in half and contained a large hole with a diameter of about 10 inches which had been blasted through the upper center of the door. The bottom edge of the hole was approximately 30 inches above the bottom of the door and these doors are mounted about 12-1/2 inches from the floor. The spring found in the toilet door is similar to springs used on the hinges in access doors mounted on restroom doors in the Hall of Justice Building. This spring apparently came from the hinge on the door in the wall which is represented by Items 1 and 4.

While in Marin County on October 8, Inspector [redacted] and the undersigned did search through the debris for clock or other bomb fragments. This search however was very limited and consisted primarily of a general observation of the scene and visual inspection of numerous buckets of debris picked up in the blast area. A further search was to be conducted the following day when the undersigned was not present and it is our understanding that this was carried out by the Marin County Sheriff's Office Identification Bureau personnel and Special Agents of the FBI. At that time other materials of significance were recovered.

The above-listed exhibits are being returned to Inspector [redacted]. If further studies by the CII Laboratory are desired, we will be most willing to carry them out but it appears presently unnecessary since the FBI is conducting independent studies and have in their possession additional recovered items.

Mr. [REDACTED], Identification Officer, Marin County Sheriff's Office, San Rafael, California, furnished enclosure to SA THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, 10/14/70.

[REDACTED] further advised he assisted [REDACTED] in conducting various examinations on two pieces of metal obtained from the scene of the bombing, on 10/14/70. It was noted both pieces of metal were 1/16" steel, with traces of blue paint similar to the color used on the utility panel access doors in all of the restrooms on the court floor level of the Hall of Justice. Both items also obtained portions of a manufacturer's label similar to labels on other panel doors. Both portions weighed out to about two pounds 12 ounces. They noted this weight to be within four ounces of a complete panel door.

Discrepancy in weight was attributed to the fact the screw button latch assembly was missing from the retrieved items, and they concluded both pieces were the panel door which had originally been blown from the restroom wall in the location of stall #4.

Further comparison of the two pieces indicated they had been ripped apart, vertically, midway between the two outer edges of the panel. Mr. [] advised this would seem to indicate the explosive device was probably placed directly behind this panel.

Mr. [] stated he is now in possession of both these pieces of metal and will make them available to the FBI Laboratory upon request. Residue examinations were made of both pieces of metal with only general nitrate reactions occurring. No ammonium nitrate was detected.

On October 11, 1970, SA CHARLES L. KILLION, assisted by SAs THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN, [redacted] and [redacted]; and Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, conducted examinations of the scene of an explosion which occurred in the area of Superior Courtroom No. 4, Hall of Justice Building, Marin County Civic Center. Examinations continued on October 12, 1970, with SA KILLION being assisted by SAs RAYMOND N. BYERS and KENT Q. BRISBY, Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted].

A wall separates Superior Courtroom No.4 and a ladies restroom. The explosion completely destroyed this wall and extensive damage was caused throughout the courtroom and the restroom. The space within the wall was about 24 inches wide. Water pipes were within the wall.

Based upon the characteristics of the damage, a high explosive charge, such as dynamite, detonated in the wall between the courtroom and the ladies room.

Access to the restroom was from a public corridor. Six stalls were located on the common wall between the courtroom and the restroom. Other similar restrooms were examined and it was found that a hinged steel access door into the wall was located in one of the stalls. The access door was latched with one latch having a screw head slot which permitted opening the door with an object such as a screwdriver. The access door opening into the wall measured 10-3/4 inches high by 11-3/8 inches wide. The center of the opening was 63 inches from the floor.

Fragments of metal which appeared to be from clock parts, and numerous pieces of metal and debris were obtained for further laboratory examination. No identifiable blasting cap, battery or container parts were found.

[redacted] Hamilton Air Force Base, California, advised he was a member of the custodial staff and worked on the court room floor of the Hall of Justice between the hours of 5:00 and 8:15 p.m. He stated on the evening of Wednesday, October 7, 1970, he recalled having seen a girl whom he described as 5 feet, 4 inches tall, 110-115 pounds, blonde hair, wearing an orange or red dress and appearing foreign in a way he could not describe. She was accompanied by a male, whom he described as having a dark complexion, clean shaven, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, slight build.

This pair had in their possession a camera, and had asked [redacted] directions to an area in the building he could not specifically recall. The only thing of a suspicious nature about this couple apparent to [redacted] was the fact that they were carrying a camera.

He stated this meant nothing to him that night, and he only thought about it later as the possibility occurred to him that a camera case could be used to carry explosives. He stated he had never seen this couple before, and has not seen them since. He advised he paid very little attention to their description, and seriously doubted that he could identify them if shown photographs of them now.

[redacted] thought the composite drawing resembled an individual he had seen at some time, but could not be certain of the location or time he had seen this person.

These slides were taken by [] within a few hours after a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, on October 8, 1970. The slides were numbered 1 through 38 and depict the following scenes:

1. The main corridor of the Marin County Civic Center showing the water in the hallway. A spectator entrance to the court room is off of this hallway, the court room being situated on the left.
2. An outside view of the women's washroom which is adjacent to the court room. This washroom would be to the judge's right as he would sit in the court room facing the corridor in slide 1.
3. Outside women's washroom.
4. Debris on floor.
5. Where wall stood between the court room and women's washroom.
6. Scene from judge's bench toward jury box.
7. Bomb site.
8. Scene from judge's bench to women's washroom. Door lying on table placed there after the explosion, as it was dangling from door frame at right center of slide. This door leads to the holding cell.
9. Bomb site.
10. Scene from court room into women's washroom.
11. Scene as No. 10, photograph made ten feet to rear.

$200,000 for Marin Courts' Security

Security of public buildings costs money.

The bill is going to be at least $200,000 in Marin County, scene of the multiple death shootout and the bomb-blasting of a courtroom.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has approved in principle the employment of 17 new deputy sheriffs to staff a new security division of the sheriff's office.

Longer Shifts

Until the new officers are on duty, all deputies in the department are working 12 hour shifts, seven days a week.

The supervisors approved the increase in personnel after having added seven bailiffs to the security forces of the courts earlier.

The judge and three others were slain.

The supervisors also voted to curtail the use of public buildings in the Marin County government center.

Schedules

The Hall of Justice will close at 5 p.m. each day and be locked during the week-end. The administration building, which includes the county library and provides meeting rooms for numerous groups, also will be closed at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

Supervisors said the administration building closing would be only temporary.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was in the court room of Judge ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN, JR., at Municipal Court, Department 3, Marin County. He advised that during the afternoon, he observed a female in court who resembled the photograph of a composite drawing of a female who was seen by a janitorial employee around the court house on the day preceding the bombing. This composite drawing of the female is dated October 10. [redacted] stated that this female remained in court from 2:00 p.m., until 5:00 p.m., and that during this time, she frequently left the court room for short periods. [redacted] stated that he particularly remembered this female because she took her shoes off and that he had ordered her to replace the shoes. She replied, "No baby, my feet are swollen". He further recalled that during the afternoon, she sidled up to a 45-year-old Negro male who frequents court and stated in a loud voice, "You know, I was raised by Negroes". [redacted] stated that he checked the court calendar in an effort to determine this female's name, hoping that her case would soon be heard and she would leave. However, her name was not on the calendar. He stated that he has not seen her on previous occasions in court. Further, she had nothing to do with the defendants on trial in court that day. The following is a description of the unknown female provided by [redacted]:

Height	5'7"
Face	Round
Dress	Green knit suit
Complexion	Fair
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Unknown, wearing round, modern sunglasses
Appearance	Sloppy

He recalled that her outstanding feature was the lack of a bra and described her chest development as extremely ample. She carried a big purse, no briefcase or camera case.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was on duty in Department 3 and Department 5 at various times during the day. He advised that he observed nothing unusual or outstanding during his tour of duty on that day. Composite photographs of a drawing furnished by a maintenance employee were displayed to [redacted]. [redacted] explained that he has had seven years of art training and stated that the photograph of the male, dated October 10, is an excellent likeness of an individual he has observed in court involving theft of explosives from the Hutchinson Company in Greenbrae, California. He recalled this individual as [redacted] who comes up for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] pointed out that the nose, the mouth and the eyes and eyebrows all closely resemble those of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that he could not recall seeing [redacted] at the court house on October 7, 1970, the day preceding the bombing. [redacted] pointed out that two individuals were on trial in Department 3, Municipal Court, Marin County, on October 7. These individuals were charged with violation of California Penal Code Section 242, Battery. Due to the length of the court calendar, these two individuals were at the Marin County Court House between 5:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m., and had with them three friends. He described them all as Negro except one male Caucasian. He named these individuals as [redacted] (phonetic) and [redacted] (phonetic). He stated that these two individuals were reported to have been Black Panthers. However, he had no personal knowledge of their affiliation.

Sergeant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed on October 13, 1970, at Police Headquarters, Fairfax. A composite photograph dated October 10, 1970, of an individual seen in the Marin County Court House during late evening on October 7, 1970, preceding the bombing which occurred in the early morning hours of October 8, was displayed to [redacted]. He immediately remarked, "Where did you get the picture of [redacted]?" Further questioning revealed that he actually believed this was a drawing of [redacted]. He was informed that this was a picture of an unknown individual who was observed in the Marin County Court House. He commented that except for the length of the hair, he actually believed that it was a drawing made of [redacted]. [redacted] recalled that he had arrested [redacted] in March, 1970, on a charge of burglary of various bombing materials from the Hutchinson Company, a quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California. [redacted] recalled that he observed a car parked near the quarry with Minnesota license plates and after examining the car, was prepared to leave when he was hailed by an individual who later turned out to be [redacted]. He requested [redacted] to allow a search of the automobile and its trunk. The trunk of this automobile revealed boxes of dynamite, blasting caps, fuses, and various other material used in blasting. Further, [redacted] pointed out various locations near the quarry where he had secreted other blasting material. [redacted] recalled that he was not prepared to handle these various explosive materials but that [redacted] assured him that they were safe to handle and that he, [redacted], knew how to deal with explosives. In spite of [redacted] statement that they were safe to handle, [redacted] secured professional help from the Presidio of the Army to recover the secreted explosive materials.

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is presently awaiting sentencing on charges arising out of the arrest on that occasion and that his case was heard by the Marin County Court authorities. Lieutenant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed in conjunction with Sergeant [redacted] of the Fairfax Police Department. [redacted] advised that he lives two doors away from the [redacted] residence. He advised that in February, 1970, the Hutchinson Company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California, was burglarized and that the case has never been solved. Stolen at that time were various blasting material and explosives. Among the items taken were blasting caps used to set off dynamite explosions. These blasting caps were both electrical and fuse type. [redacted] stated that since the robbery, various explosions have been going off in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the [redacted] residence, both in a school yard and near a railroad track. [redacted] stated that he has recovered two copper blasting caps that were duds and displayed one of these blasting caps. He stated that the serial numbers on these caps corresponded with the series of those stolen from the Hutchinson Company in the unsolved burglary. It is [redacted] opinion that [redacted] was responsible for the prior burglary and may still have in his position an Atlas blasting machine which has not been recovered, as well as other blasting material which the company valued at $345.22.

Marin Trial Guarded

Despite the blast that destroyed a courtroom he had used, acting Presiding Superior Judge E. Warren McGuire went ahead with a scheduled trial in the Marin County Civic Center today.

McGuire used the bombed courtroom Monday in a calendar session at which he set the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25, to begin this morning — and it was that case at which he presided.

The courtroom was guarded by four uniformed and three plainclothes officers.

Walker, a black convict, is accused of assaulting a guard at San Quentin on Aug. 15, when he was to have been released.

Walker, who has two prior felony assault convictions and has been in state institutions since the age of 14, actually was discharged from prison, then re-arrested.

He was later released in $10,000 bail posted by North Beach Bonding, 369 Bryant St. here. Jeffrey L. Pollak, office manager, said the money was "fully secured" on Sept. 29, when the bail was arranged.

Two days later, he added, Walker himself came in and paid the bail premium of $1000. Pollack refused to say who had originally secured the loan.

Walker's attorney, Robert Birkie, announced in court this morning that one of his defense witnesses would be

George Jackson. Jackson is one of the three prisoners from Soledad Prison who are accused of murdering a guard there.

It was Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, who invaded Judge Haley's courtroom with guns August 7 in an attempt to free three convicts there. Judge Haley, Jonathan and two convicts died in the shootout that followed.

Santa Barbara, Seattle Hit, Too

By The Associated Press

Bombs exploded at three points along the Pacific Coast today, damaging an ROTC building at the University of Washington in Seattle, a National Guard armory at Santa Barbara, and the county courthouse in San Rafael. There were no injuries.

Damage at Seattle was estimated at $150,000. Authorities said it appeared that two bombs exploded with the force of 15 to 20 dynamite sticks. The blast at Santa Barbara blew a two-foot hole through a thick wall.

Santa Barbara police chief A. W. Trembly said:

"We certainly believe this bombing is connected with the Weatherman faction and other terrorist groups."

Seattle Police Capt. Marv Webbins said there apparently were two bombs, placed 35 feet apart in a ground-floor locker room.

The blast blew out windows, stripped plaster from the walls and tore off part of a locked exterior door and sparked a small fire in the building's basement.

"This has to be the work of a fanatic," said university Vice President Philip Cartwright. "I am shocked at such wanton destruction."

In Santa Barbara, Police Lt. Fred Baker said the blast and the two other bombings "would seem to indicate a conspiracy."

Trembly said detectives and FBI agents have several leads on the bomb, a large metal can containing an undetermined explosive.

"The person who planted the bomb was very inept and was probably more interested in getting away safely than doing any damage to the building," he said.

If the bomb had been placed higher on the wall, he said, it would have caused considerable damage, but, as it was, most of the blast's force was absorbed by the building's foundation.

"There are some odd things about the canister the bomb was placed in that may lead us to the bomber," he added.

Baker said there was no advance warning of the blast. Armory spokesmen estimated damage at about $2000. A spokesman said the blast didn't damage the arsenal's weapons, and apparently no attempt was made to steal them.

The explosions came just two days after the radical group Weatherman warned a "fall offensive" would soon be launched "from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The voice of the Weatherman warning—a tape recording—was identified as that of Bernardine Dohrn by her sister, Jennifer, a spokesman for the Youth International Party—Yippies—at whose New York headquarters the tape was played.

"Now we are everywhere, and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country," the tape said.

The recording, which generally attacked present American society, gave no specific plans.

Miss Dohrn and 11 other Weatherman members were indicted in April, charged with conspiracy to cross state lines to incite rioting.

Miss Dohrn dropped out of sight before March 16 when she failed to appear in court on charges of attacking three policemen during a Weatherman disturbance in Chicago in October 1969.

At 10:00 a.m., this date, Supv. [REDACTED], Bureau, Civil Rights Division, telephonically contacted this office and referred to our teletype of 10/8/70, in captioned matter in which we advised we were conducting no investigation. He stated that the Bureau had learned through sources that on this date President NIXON was making a statement to the public and in this statement was commenting that the FBI was conducting intense investigation of the three bombings on the West Coast, namely the one in Seattle, the one in Santa Barbara, and instant bombing.

Mr. [REDACTED] was advised we had answered earlier press inquiries that we were maintaining liaison only and offering coverage of out-of-state leads and facilities of the FBI Laboratory. He was also advised that Mr. [REDACTED] at present was with Attorney General MITCHELL and that it was not known whether the Attorney General had asked [REDACTED] if this office were investigating captioned bombing.

[REDACTED] requested we ascertain from [REDACTED] whether in fact he had so advised the Attorney General. After contacting you, I advised [REDACTED] that the Attorney General had not asked whether we were conducting investigation and as of now no comment has been made as to whether we are or are not investigating this case. He was further advised if the Attorney General asked if we were investigating this bombing in subsequent conversation, [REDACTED] would advise him we are investigating it, but otherwise would not volunteer information one way or the other.

Re Memo of Supervisor FLETCHER dated 10/9/70.

In addition to information provided in re memo, Supervisor [REDACTED] advised the writer this date that this office was not to attempt to take the case away from the Marin County Sheriff's Office and that our jurisdiction is derived from the presumption that the explosives utilized were transported interstate (Title 18, U.S. Code Section 837). Emphasis should be placed, however, on the prior kidnap and murder which took place at the same court house in which we are actively involved, as being the justification for actively investigating this particular bombing.

SUBJECT: UNSUBS; BOMBING, MARIN COUNTY COURTHOUSE, SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA,
10/8/70
BM

On 10/12/70, Lt. [redacted] made available information that a woman by the name of [redacted] [redacted] California, at approximately 6:00 PM on the evening of 10/7/70, reported to the Sheriff's Office that she had lost her wallet in the administration wing of the Civic Center around 3:30 PM. She stated that this wallet was a brown woman's leather wallet containing about $180.00 in currency, a New York driver's license, a California registration slip and a charge card for Lord and Taylor Department Store, New York City.

Placer

J.R.

This individual telephonically called back to the Sheriff's Office on 10/9/70, inquiring whether her wallet had been returned, which had not, and she indicated she was going back up to Lake Tahoe.

Undersheriff [redacted] and Sgt. [redacted], both of whom observed this woman on 10/7/70, advised that she looks like a composite drawing drawn up from a description given by Sgt. [redacted] USAF, who was in charge of the night janitorial staff on the evening of 10/7/70, at the Civic Center. Undersheriff [redacted] indicated that this woman was accompanied by an unknown WMA whom he described as a white creep who had long shoulder length, fuzzy brown hair, was thin faced and approximately 5'9" tall.

Lt. [redacted] also made available information that on 10/8/70, at around 9:00 PM the following three individuals were found on the outside balcony of the first floor of the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center and these individuals were described as hippie types who stated that they were curious about the bombing that had taken place at the Civic Center.

out that foiled the escape.

This morning's blast came after a San Francisco telephone operator received a call from an anonymous woman who said there was a "big bomb" in the courthouse and it would go off in five minutes.

Minutes after the operator relayed the information to the Marin County Sheriff's office, the explosion ripped the first floor level of the courthouse.

The courtrooms were closed at the time. There were no injuries. Sheriff's deputies were in the process of organizing a search of the building when the bomb went off.

Lt. Tom Lightfoot said it had been planted in a restroom adjacent to the courtroom of Judge Joseph Wilson. The blast ripped apart the wall separating the restroom from the courtroom.

A hole also was blown in the opposite wall of the restroom, damag ing a second courtroom. Lighting fixtures were shattered. Furnishings were in shambles.

Pipes were broken in toilets and water about an inch deep flowed through a hallway until repair crews turned off the flow.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, one of the first on the scene, speculated that the bomb was dynamite but gave no other details.

The operator who took the anonymous call described the voice as that of "an excited young woman."

The entire floor was sealed off to the press and public this morning while a team of state and county investigators made an inch by inch inspection and collected evidence.

Judge Wilson is the presiding officer of the Marin County Superior Court and has been conducting a number of hearings and preliminary examinations at San Quentin Prison in an effort to facilitate courtroom security as a result of the earlier shootout.

Just a week ago, however, Judge Wilson told the county board of supervisors his study panel had decided against holding criminal trials within San Quentin Prison walls. The proposal had been questioned in many legal circles.

"All of us have grave doubts as to whether it is possible for a fair trial to take place within the prison," Judge Wilson informed the board.

The supervisors held an emergency meeting this morning to discuss additional security measures for the civic center, temporary quarters for the bombed-out judges and repairs to the courthouse.

Marin Civic Center Blast Follows Phoned Warning

A powerful bomb early today wrecked a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center that was used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

It blew out two opposite walls of the room, damaged a courtroom next door, and caused spotty flooding of corridors in the new wing, opened last December.

No one was injured but a watchman had punched his timeclock at that location only six minutes before the bomb, believed to be dynamite, went off.

3 in West

The explosion was one of three that rocked West Coast facilities in about four hours.

The courtroom involved is officially assigned to Superior Judge Joseph Wilson, and was used on Monday by Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire during Wilson's vacation.

McGuire has conducted most of the preliminary stages of the trial of Ruchell Magee, the San Quentin convict who survived the Aug. 7 Civic Center shootout in which Superior Judge Harold Haley was killed. Wilson also has sat on some of the Magee hearings.

Immediately after the explosion, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney Bruce Bales and four of the five members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors went into an emergency session.

McGuire and other superior court judges also went

Single Entry

It was McGuire who announced the conclusions, saying that the Marin courts would proceed with "business as usual" and that the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center would adopt a search-before-entrance policy.

"We're going to have to secure this Hall of Justice," he said. "We're going to need a security set-up which will allow entry only at a single point."

"Everyone is going to have to be checked in and out, searched, et cetera."

The new Hall of Justice wing is connected to the administrative complex of the Civic Center by pedestrian passageways on two levels. These, the judge said, will have to be sealed off.

"I assume this can be done rather expeditiously," He added:

"If the intent of this bombing was to intimidate or delay the courts, it is not going to be successful."

Phone Call

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m., roughly five minutes after an anonymous warning to a San Francisco phone operator.

Deputy Sheriff Ron Spurrell said the call was "from an anonymous, excited, young-sounding woman" who said:

"Listen, I won't repeat this. There's a big bomb in the courthouse in San Rafael going off in five minutes."

Spurrell alerted all men on duty to begin a search of the building — a routine procedure because there have been many recent bomb threats there — and the shakedown was just starting when the explosion shook the Civic Center.

The bomb had been planted in a women's room on the first level of the Frank Lloyd Wright architectural creation. The restroom is backed up against the wall of Judge Wilson's courtroom.

It exploded with such force that it blew the wall across the courtroom, blasting a hole in the opposite wall and exposing pipes and ventilation ducts there. The courtroom on the other side of Wilson's was also damaged.

Holes were ripped in the walls of a men's room about 50 yards across a lobby area, and plaster was shaken from the walls in corridors and courtrooms more than 100 yards away.

Water from broken pipes ran down the red-tiled corridors and gathered in puddles. Hours after the blast, water began dripping from other ruptured pipes so that it literally seemed to be raining beneath the graceful archway for auto entrance to the center.

Aug. 7 Violence

One puddle of water accumulated at the entrance to the courtroom, 70 yards down the corridor, where Judge Haley, three women jurors and a prosecutor were kidnapped to start the Aug. 7 shooting.

Judge Wilson's courtroom, freakishly, suffered little damage to the furnishings, although they were covered with powder from sound-proofing material.

Judge McGuire was to have presided this morning in the trial of Tommy Walker, a black convict accused of assaulting a San Quentin guard shortly before his scheduled release.

Marin Courtroom Bombed--Blasts in Two Other Cities

Terrorist

Plot Is

Suspected

By Robert Popp

The elegant Marin civic center in San Rafael was rocked early yesterday by a bomb that turned one courtroom into a shambles.

The explosion was one of three that went off on the Pacific Coast within an hour of each other.

The other two damaged an ROTC building in Seattle and a National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

TIME

Marin county Sheriff Louis Mountanos said the San Rafael blast occurred at 1:27 a.m. in the Hall of Justice at the Civic Center. Clocks in the building stopped at that moment. There were no injuries.

About 1:22 a.m., a San Francisco telephone operator called the sheriff's office and reported that she had just spoken to an excited young female who warned that a bomb would go off in the Marin courthouse in five minutes.

Deputies at the civic center had just begun a search when the blast shook the building.

Donald Frost, director of public works, estimated the damage at $25,000. He said the building was not, however structurally damaged, he said.

The explosion followed by only two months the civic center gun battle in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three other men were killed.

SECURITY

Marin supervisors, judges and lawmen held a series of conferences yesterday during which it was decided to tighten up on security for the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building, which is located north of the main area of San Rafael.

More armed guards will be assigned to the hall. Persons entering certain courts will be searched and the Hall of Justice will be sealed off so that only one entrance will be available to the public.

Acting Presiding Judge E. Warren McGuire, after meeting with the sheriff, declared:

"This action is not going to prevent the courts from functioning. We're going to have business as usual."

"If this was an attempt to intimidate or delay court action, it is not going to be successful."

Less than two hours after the judge made these remarks, a new bomb threat was telephoned to the sheriff's office.

A woman mumbled that there was "a bomb in a waste basket."

As a result, approximately 2000 persons at the civic center were hastily ordered out. They remained outside while the building was searched from 12:28 p.m. to 1:05 a.m.

Later, deputies arrested Patricia Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson drive, Mil Valley, on charges of making a false bomb report.

Mrs. Coy gave her name when placing the call, police said.

If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of three years in prison or one year in the county jail. She is being held in lieu of $5000 bond.

Adding to the day's tensions at the Hall of Justice was the start of the trial of Tommy Lee Walker, 25.

Walker, who is charged with assaulting two San Quentin guards before being released from prison, is free on $10,000 bail.

WITNESS

His attorney, Robert Birkie of San Rafael, has said that he will call George Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Three now being held at San Quentin, as a witness.

(Jackson and the two other convicts are charged with the murder of a guard at Soledad state prison. It was an apparent effort to force their release that led to the August gun battle at the civic center in which Jackson's younger brother, Jonathan, was among those killed.)

The jury selection phase of Walker's trial began on schedule in Judge McGuire's court, which is two courtrooms removed from the site of the bomb blast.

DETECTOR

Unusual security precautions were taken. An electronic metal detecting device was used for the first time at a Marin courtroom doorway, and all persons entering the court were searched.

The bomb that exploded yesterday morning had been placed in a wall between a women's restroom and the court of Presiding Judge Joseph Wilson, who is on vacation.

The force of the blast sent the wall flying across Judge Wilson's courtroom. It slammed into the opposite wall and buckled it.

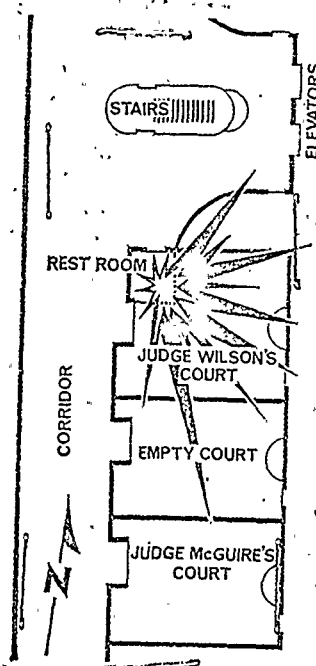

Lighting fixtures, chairs, tables, railings were tumbled and shattered.

FLOODING

The blast ripped through water pipes, causing some flooding, and sent two pieces of pipe flying 50 feet across a lobby into the men's room.

Investigators from the Sixth Army bomb squad and the State Division of Criminal identification and Investigation arrived and began sifting the rubble.

By the end of the day they had failed to identify the type of explosive substance used or the type of device that set it off.

Nixon Orders
FBI Action

By Hubert J. Bernhard

A group calling itself "The Weatherman Underground" claimed today it was responsible for the bombing of the Hall of Justice in the Marin County Civic Center yesterday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., meanwhile, President Nixon ordered the FBI to track down those responsible for the blast, and for other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

He also said he would sign immediately anti-bombing legislation that is expected to pass the Senate later today.

The bill would increase penalties for interstate transportation of explosives, and would permit the FBI to enter at once into the investigation of bombings on campuses that receive federal funds.

4 Letters

The "Weatherman" letter, typewritten and photo-statted white-on-black, was received by The Examiner this morning. It had been postmarked here last night.

A phone call that gave five minutes' warning of the bomb blast also came from San Francisco.

Three other letters, from different organizations claiming responsibility for the Seattle and Santa Barbara blasts and an abortive attempt at the University of California, were received by other agencies.

Those in Santa Barbara and Seattle noted that yesterday's attacks came on the third anniversary of the death of Che Guevara, Cuban revolutionary leader who was shot while trying to foment an uprising in Bolivia.

The "Weatherman" letter did not say this, directly, but above its Oct. 8 dateline was the phrase: "The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla."

'Dedicate —'

"Last night," it declared, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

"We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York, and to all black prisoners of war. Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika."

"We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of Q-Wing and the other inmates of Soledad Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air."

"And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters' — Jonathan Jackson and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela — still alive and free! — who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster."

Shootout Link

The final words were a plea for the freedom of "all political prisoners."

In the dedication to Jackson and the mention of Angela Davis, the letter linked yesterday's bombing to the shooting in the Marin Civic Center on Aug. 8 in which four persons were killed.

It was Jackson, one of those shot, who smuggled arms into the courtroom of Superior Judge Harold Haley, another of the victims. And Miss Davis is on the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list, charged with having supplied him with the weapons.

Bandwagon

The Weatherman organization is a group of radical students that split off from the Students for a Democratic Society because they chose to follow a path of violence

greater than that of SDS.

In a New York press conference Tuesday, the tape-recorded voice of Bernardette Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, said the group was planning to launch a new "offensive."

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia of the Marin County Sheriff's office noted, however, that it was "strictly speculation as to whether this is valid or it's just someone jumping on the bandwagon."

"They're all looking for a vehicle — anything which appears to be a strike against the bastion of Establishment or law enforcement," he added.

Battaglia noted that the photostat technique would make it difficult, if not impossible, to identify the typewriter on which the note was written.

With a K

The other claims for the bombings came, in Seattle where a Naval ROTC at the University of Washington was hit, from "The Quarter Moon Tribe," and in Santa Barbara, where a National Guard Armory was blown up, from "The Perfect Park

Home Grown Garden Society."

Santa Barbara's group also mentioned the New York prison uprising and Soledad and dedicated the act to "Janice and Jimmy" — apparent references to Janice Joplin and Jimi Hendrix' rock singers who died recently of drug overdoses.

All the letters followed the revolutionary style of spelling America with a "k."

Another group calling itself "The Purple Sunshine Clan," claimed it had blown up a building at the University of California in Berkeley. That bomb, however, never exploded.

The special delivery letter to The Examiner arrived with 10 cents postage due. That received by the Associated Press in Seattle had 15 cents due.

By Stephen Cook

An angry Marin County judge says the courts have brought on an era of violent acts like yesterday's bombing of the Marin Hall of Justice by "pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice."

There were these other developments in the wake of the powerful early morning blast which caused an estimated $250,000 damage:

Marin Sheriff Louis Mountanos ordered his 61 patrolmen to begin immediately to work 12 hour shifts instead of the regular eight hours.

The sprawling Hall of Justice was emptied in a state of near panic yesterday afternoon after a new bomb threat. Deputies booked a Strawberry woman for making the threat.

The FBI and state criminal investigators joined Marin authorities in sitting the bomb wreckage in an attempt to determine what kind of bomb was used.

Superior Judge Samuel Gardiner said in a statement: "The courts brought this on themselves by pampering criminals and maximizing the opportunities to escape from justice instead of maximizing the mass welfare and interests of the public."

Consequence

"As a consequence, rebellious elements feel they have a reasonably good license to do what they want to do. As a trial judge, I will nevertheless take the rules as they are given me by the rest of the democracy, including the higher courts."

Gardiner told attorney William Weissich in his courtroom, "If anybody throws any bombs in, we'll throw them right back out."

When Weissich replied he felt safe in Gardiner's court, the judge went on: "I am going to say out loud that the courts have produced this era of violence by their tolerance."

"I will indulge in the statement as often as I can for a while. The era of violence we have on us was brought on by the courts by their era of tolerance. That is my opinion. I am going to broadcast it."

'Better Security'

He said the courts would not be intimidated by the bombings. "We took a job and we'll do it. There's nothing that can happen that will change the courts except we'll get a little better security."

Deputies said the 12:28 p.m. bomb threat which sent employees and visitors screaming and running out of the Frank Lloyd Wright building came from Patricia L. Coy, 46, of 251 Richardson Drive, Strawberry.

The woman, deputies said, announced on the phone, "My name is Patricia Coy. I have placed a bomb on the courtroom floor inside a wastepaper basket."

Deputies said the woman, who was booked on a felony count of making a false report of a bomb, makes daily calls to the sheriff's office. Her bail was set at $5000.

A search of the building was called off after it was determined it was she who had made the call.

Added Patrolmen

Lt. Thomas Lightfoot said the longer shifts ordered by Mountanos after meeting with county supervisors would have the effect of adding four additional patrolmen to each shift.

The bomb, placed in a women's restroom, wrecked a courtroom in the Hall of Justice that was being used by two judges hearing cases at San Quentin prison.

No one was injured in the blast, one of three which hit West Coast facilities in a four-hour period early yesterday.

Marin Public Works Director Donald Frost, who estimated damage at a quarter million dollars, said the explosion did no structural damage to the building.

Weatherman LetterA Bomb About the
Marin County
Courthouse*Bombing*A Rush of
Others

By George Draper

A letter signed, "The Weatherman Underground" claimed credit yesterday for the bomb explosion that shattered a courtroom at the Marin Civic Center.

The bomb went off at 1:27 a.m. Thursday, closely followed by other bombings in Seattle and Santa Barbara.

A fourth bomb, a dud, was found on the campus of the University of California in Berkeley.

LETTERS

Letters claiming responsibility for each of these bombs were received yesterday.

While investigators were analyzing the letters, a number of telephoned bomb threats were received in the Bay Area.

No bombs exploded, but authorities were sufficiently nervous to order evacuation for limited periods of time of the Marin Civic Center, Mills College and the Student Union on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

NAMES

In addition to the Weatherman Underground, the letters were signed with such unusual names as The Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, The Purple Sunshine Clan and the Quarter Moon Tribe.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, chief of investigators for the Marin sheriff's office, said there was no way of knowing immediately whether the Weatherman Underground letter was authentic.

"It would be strictly speculation to say it is valid or it is not," he said.

Police elsewhere were cautious about accepting the validity of the letters.

A Santa Barbara investigator, referring to the letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society, said: "A lot of people claim the credit after a bombing."

In Key Biscayne, Fla., a spokesman for President Nixon said the FBI has been instructed to investigate the bombings in California and Washington state.

Mr. Nixon, in addition, cited the bombings as additional evidence of the need for prompt enactment of the administration's anti-bombing legislation. (The measure now is in Senate-House conference.)

The letters are interesting from many standpoints.

UNSOLVED

Some groups took additional credit for previous bombings that have yet to be solved by police.

At least two of the groups boasted that Thursday's bombings were in honor of the memory of guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara, who was killed in Bolivia on October 8, 1937.

The Purple Sunshine Clan, which claimed credit for the bomb that failed to go off in Berkeley, noted that "last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots."

(Twelve Weatherman leaders are under Federal indictment for these riots and 11 of them are still being hunted.)

The Quarter Moon Tribe, which employs a quarter moon with an arrow through it as an insignia, took credit for the Seattle bombing and sent the only letter written by hand.

The writing, done with a fine point pen, reveals a curious style. Each letter is formed by straight lines. There are no curves.

All the letters received in the various cities were photostatic copies. There were no originals. This, according to police, is a device to prevent tracing of the documents to a particular typewriter.

Finally, each of the four letters revealed a certain similarity of rhetoric directed against the Establishment and in each letter the action was referred to as "Amerika."

In the Bay Area, at least, the letters carried post office

cancellations bearing different dates and times.

WEATHERMAN

The Weatherman Underground letters, for instance, were received by two newspapers and a radio station.

Two of these special delivery letters were postmarked: San Francisco, October 8. But one was received at the post office at 8:45 p.m. and the other at 11:30 p.m.

The Chronicle city desk received a copy of the same letter postmarked: San Francisco, October 9, 7 a.m.

HEADING

This letter begins with the heading:

"The Day of the Heroic Guerrilla, October 8, 1970."

The letter opens with a brief declarative sentence that — despite the $250,000 damage to the Marin courtroom — makes a tremendously exaggerated boast.

"Last night," it says, "we blew up the Hall of Injustice, Marin County Civic Center."

DEDICATION

The letter goes on to say that the bombing is dedicated to the prisoners of San Quentin, Soledad, and New York and "to all black prisoners of war."

"Fighting where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in Amerika (sic) into an advance guerrilla post of the war against pig Amerika," the letter adds.

In conclusion, The Weatherman Underground letter salutes "a new breed of freedom fighters."

They are identified as Jonathan Jackson, who was killed along with three other persons in the August 7 shootout at the Marin Civic Center, and Angela Davis.

Miss Davis, a former philosophy teacher at the University of California in Los Angeles, is now wanted for murder for allegedly supplying four guns for the August 7 shootout.

CLAN

The Gazette in Berkeley received a letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan which, as it turned out, was somewhat presumptuous. The clan's bomb never went off.

In any event, the letter begins:

"This morning we blew up The Center for the Study of Law and Society, which has investigated black rebellion and Telegraph (avenue) riots."

"The power of youth in this country is emerging: dope and rock concerts; strikes and street riots; rocks and bombs."

"Last October 8 began the Weatherman Chicago riots. Since then an underground has developed which is capable of bombing pig stations and liberating Tim Leary. Right on."

This letter from The Purple Sunshine Clan was ended: "From the folks who bombed the Oakland pig station."

PARK

Perfect Park is the name of a kind of People's Park at Isla Vista near the University of California campus at Santa Barbara.

The letter from the Perfect Park Home Grown Garden Society was sent special delivery to the campus radio station — KCSB. It opens on a poetic note.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically with flaming napalm or gray-invisible pollution, mentally with televised, transistorized though control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually with smack (heroin) and with concentration camps called prisons."

MOVEMENT

The letter states that "everywhere the people are moving against Pig Amerika" and goes on to describe the success of this revolutionary movement.

"As the beast falls, a new culture of life arises: our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, their Bank of Amerika burling to the ground."

In Seattle, the letter mailed by the Quarter Moon Tribe took credit for Thursday's bombing of an OTC headquarters at the University of Washington.

"No longer will the death culture use campuses for bases of imperialism," the tribe warned. "We intend to disarm, dismantle, disable and destroy the military and pig might of Amerika, wherever we are, however we can."

The letter referred to "the crumbling Amerikan empire" surrounded by righteous guerrillas.

"As they tighten the noose," it proclaimed, "we tear up and trash from within."

SALUTE

The tribe concluded with a salute to "the energy of our sisters that pushed us beyond the music of Leila Khaled's laugh." She is the Arab female hijacker, recently released from a London jail.

Meanwhile, many bomb threats were reported but no more bombs exploded.

Some 950 students and teachers at Mills College hastily evacuated their homes and dormitories at 8:30 a.m. yesterday following a phoned bomb threat. The buildings returned to normal at 10 a.m.

At 2:23 p.m., the fire alarm sounded in the Marin Civic Center and 2000 nervous persons left the buildings there. A search revealed no bombs and the buildings were reopened at 4:15 p.m.

Another telephoned threat from a man identifying himself as a Weatherman forced the evacuation of the Student Union on Berkeley campus about 3:15 p.m.

On 10/9/70, the above subject was interviewed in the Marin County Jail by SA [redacted] and the writer. This individual had been arrested at approximately 1:15 a.m. on the morning of 10/8/70 by the San Rafael Police Department in a telephone booth approximately one half mile from the Marin County Civic Center because of suspicious activity. [redacted] when interviewed stated that he has not worked for a year but that he is generally employed as a fry cook and came to Marin County on Tuesday afternoon 10/6/70 and was staying at the Marin Motel. He stated at around midnight he got hungry and was looking for some food at a restaurant which was closed and was observed by the San Rafael Police Department who told him to go home and later he got hungry and went to the phone booth where he was eventually picked up. He stated that he was in this phone booth about fifteen minutes attempting to locate a Chinese restaurant in order to have some food sent to his motel. He stated that he was picked up by the San Rafael Police about 1:15 a.m. and taken to the Marin County Jail at the Civic Center.

During interview [redacted] stated that he had previously lived at [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted], both in San Francisco, that he is on welfare and that he has not worked for a year. He is described as a WIA, 5' 5", 130 pounds, born [redacted] East Orange, New Jersey,

BOMBING MATTER

[REDACTED], San Rafael, California, was reported by Lt. [REDACTED] on 10/9/70 as having been involved in a courtroom disruption in the court of Judge JOSEPH WILSON a couple of weeks prior and had been removed from the courtroom. [REDACTED] was interviewed by the writer and SA [REDACTED] on 10/9/70 and it is to be noted that he is the subject of a [REDACTED] in the San Francisco Office and has an extensive record and is epileptic and has a past history of having been a powder monkey. [REDACTED] has been a frequent caller at the San Rafael RA in connection with the APACS investigation conducted on him in the past and is also a frequenter of the Sheriff's Office. He, in his interview, denied any connection with the bombing and accounted for his day on October 7, 1970, as follows:

b7C

He advised that in the morning at about 11:00 a.m. on 10/7/70 he filed a writ of habeas corpus in the Federal District Court Clerk's Office, Federal Building, San Francisco, and took a copy of this to the office of AUSA [REDACTED]. He advised that during the noon hour of that day, he had gone to the San Francisco City Hall and the office of [REDACTED] and talked to her secretary and gave her some information for Chief [REDACTED]. He stated that in the afternoon approximately between 1:00 and 2:00 p.m. he was at the San Francisco PD, Hall of Justice, and talking to supervising Captain [REDACTED] for some time. He advised that he then took the bus back to Marin County for an appointment at the office of Dr. [REDACTED] Kentfield, California. He advised that he has to go to Dr. [REDACTED] as he is an epileptic. He stated that his appointment lasted from 4:00 to 4:30 p.m.

OCTOBER 8, 1970

Sheriff Louis Mountanos, Marin County, California, advised October 8, 1970; that at 1:30 a.m., a bomb exploded in the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, doing extensive damage to courtroom number four, Superior Court and damaging the wall to an unused adjoining courtroom. He advised that a San Francisco telephone operator advised the Sheriff's Office that at approximately 1:25 a.m., October 8, 1970, she had received a telephone call from an extremely excited young woman who said that a bomb was set to go off at the Marin County Civic Center in approximately five minutes.

Sheriff Mountanos advised that the bomb had been in a restroom immediately adjacent to courtroom number four. Damage was estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. Type of device unknown and authorities continuing their efforts to determine the type of explosive utilized and type of device used to detonate this explosive. Authorities believe explosive was probably TNT. No injuries reported as result of explosion.

The letter received by UPI is signed "The Purple Sunshine Clan" and claims credit, prematurely, for bombing the Center For the Study of Law and Society and the Oakland Police Station.

The Laboratory is requested to make the following determinations:

1. Are there latent fingerprints on the letters and envelopes? If any, do they compare with known prints of Weatherman fugitives?
2. What is the type of chemically-treated paper used for the letters and for what type of copying machine is it manufactured?
3. Are the specimen communications on the same types of treated paper as samples of other Weatherman notes?
4. Are the typewriting on the specimen communications from the same typewriter? How do they compare with other notes received from radical elements?
5. What type of envelopes are the specimens submitted and where are they available?
6. What investigative or intelligence data can be obtained from the postage stamps? Could the postage stamps from both envelopes come from a single roll, sheet, or page and how do they compare with other stamps used in other letters from radical elements?
7. Does the reproduction process indicate that the specimens compare with others as to a particular copying machine being used?

contents were as follows:

"On October 6, 1967, Che Guevara was murdered by the U.S. in Bolivia. To commemorate the first Anniversary of Che's death, we have bombed the Santa Barbara National Guard Armory.

"We dedicate this attack on the domestic arm of U.S. military rule to all revolutionary people throughout the world wherever they fight for love and freedom and life itself.

"The forces of death are trying to kill us; physically, with flaming napalm or gray invisible pollution; mentally controlled televised transistorized thought control and gray desked jails called schools, and spiritually smack and concentration camps called prisons. But everywhere the people are moving against capital PIG Amerika; Indochina, Palestine, the toms, soledad, east L.A. and Isla Vista are the battlegrounds on which the pig beast will be killed.

"As the beast falls, a new cultural way of life arises; our families and gardens, our music and acid and weed, through Bank of Amerika burning to the ground. No phantom jets or M-16s can save the Amerikan death empire.

"Revolution grows in the soul and the arms of the people and the people are everywhere."

The rest of the letter continues with slogans such as, "Avenge Che", "Avenge Jonathan Jackson - Victory to the Indochinese People - fuck Nixon, Agnew, Reagan."

This Day of the Heroic Surrender
October 8, 1970

Last night we blew up the Hall of Wreckage, Weather Society (Civil Center).

We dedicate this act to the prisoners of San Quentin,
Solomon, and New York, and to all black prisoners in New England where there is no place to hide, they have turned every prison in America into an advance guerrilla post of the war against the America.

We dedicate it to the heroic prisoners of 10, 11, and the other inmates of Solomon Prison, who retaliated for the murder of three of their leaders by executing two pig guards, and to the incredible courage of the brothers who seized and held the prisons of New York, and who faced the most vicious reprisals with their fists in the air.

And we dedicate it to the first of a new breed of freedom fighters -- [redacted] and his comrades who were killed and captured, and to Angela -- still alive and free -- who together began a new offensive in our struggle inside the belly of the monster.

Marin Security Steps

Marin Sheriff Louis Montanos was giving that county's Board of Supervisors a report on new security measures at the civic center yesterday when one of his deputies passed him a note saying that Angela Davis had been arrested.

Montanos was noticeably affected by the news that the woman accused of masterminding the fatal attempted escape at the civic center August 7 was in custody.

He halted only momentarily, however, before listing a new set of security measures around the sprawling county complex that includes weekend closing of both the Hall of Justice and the county administration building.

For the first time yesterday, bailiffs and matrons manned the three open entrances to the administration building and Hall of Justice, searching bags and briefcases and, in some cases, frisking visitors.

There were few objections from persons entering the building, and some were heard to comment that it was "about time."

Montanos and County Administrator Alan Bruce said deputies are working 12-hour shifts seven days a week guarding the complex designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Bruce said, however, that plans call for the development of a new security division in the sheriff's department, the cost of which has not yet been estimated.

Plans are also under way to issue identification cards to employees of the building.

Montanos said the weekend closing of the county administration building, which includes the county library, will be only temporary — possibly a matter of weeks.

The Hall of Justice was the target last week of a terrorist bomb that wrecked one courtroom.

Lieutenant Guido Battaglia, in charge of the inspectors division, urged yesterday that anyone who has noticed anything unusual — "however trivial" — before or after the bombing should contact the Marin sheriff's office.

2 More Bombings On West Coast

Time bombs exploded early yesterday at the University of Washington in Seattle and at the National Guard Armory in Santa Barbara.

Yet another bomb, placed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society at the University of California at Berkeley failed to go off.

The timing of these three bombs, together with that of the one that exploded in San Rafael, indicated they had been set to explode at approximately one-hour intervals at four points along the West Coast.

FUGITIVE

The West Coast bombings came only two days after Bernardine Dohrn, a fugitive Weatherman leader, announced via a tape recording the launching of a "fall offensive."

"Now we are everywhere," her taped voice stated at a New York press conference held by the Youth International Party — Yippies — "and next week families and tribes will attack the enemy around the country."

The Seattle explosion came at 2:45 a.m. in Clark Hall, where Air Force and Navy Reserve Officer Training Corps offices are located.

WARNING

There was a telephone warning 25 minutes before the bomb exploded with the force of 15 to 20 sticks of dynamite. Officials estimated damage at $150,000.

Captain Marvin Webbing of the Seattle bomb squad said he believed two charges were placed 35 feet apart in a ground-level locker room and exploded almost simultaneously.

The blast ripped holes in the floor and ceiling of the room and smashed doors and windows throughout one wing of the three-story building.

At Berkeley, a woman called UC police at 3:03 a.m.

to say a bomb would go off in five minutes at the Center for the Study of Law and Society.

DISCOVERY

Officer Fred Hourel spotted the device in a heating duct on the outside and under the old two-story building.

It consisted of a two-inch-thick box filled with powder and rigged to go off with a time fuse. Bomb experts deactivated it at 4:15 a.m.

The Santa Barbara bomb exploded at 4:10 a.m. without prior warning.

It buckled part of the armory wall, broke some pipes and windows and rocked homes in the eastern part of the city.

LEADS

Santa Barbara Police Chief A. W. Trembly said last night that "we have some leads in which could conceivably lead to the arrest of the culprits" in that bombing, but offered no other details.

He added, however, that evidence found at the scene indicated the bomber was inept and more interested in getting away than in doing damage to the building.

The bomb, Trembly said, was placed on the ground outside the building and most of the force of the blast was absorbed by the building foundation. Had it been placed in some higher spot, he said, the damage would have been more severe.

ELECTRICAL

Investigators said the explosive substance was unknown but the charge, they said, was set off by an electrical device.

The Santa Barbara National Guard Armory serves as the base for the Headquarters Battery, 144th Field Artillery Battalion, which is attached to the 40th Armored Brigade.

Major H. G. Nichols, battalion executive officer, said no signs of ammunition were taken.

UNSUBS; BOMBING OF COURTROOM NUMBER FOUR,
SUPERIOR COURT, CIVIC CENTER, SAN RAFAEL,
MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, 10/8/70
BOMBING MATTER

On 10/8/70 (Thursday) at 1:30 AM, a bomb, which had been placed in the women's restroom adjacent to a courtroom in the Marin County Civic Center, exploded causing extensive damage to the restroom, courtroom Number Four and the surrounding area. This bombing appeared to coincide with bombings occurring in the ROTC Building at the University of Washington in Seattle and the National Guard Armory at Santa Barbara. These bombings came two days after speaking for the Weatherman organization, warned of a "fall offensive" by that organization.

b6

A member of the night maintenance crew at the Civic Center advised he noted a white male in his early twenties, cleancut, normal dress in the area at 10:20 PM. He also noted a white female in early twenties in the area on three occasions between 7:30 PM and 10:30 PM.

This case is receiving widespread publicity because it follows the recent kidnap and murder of Judge HALEY at the same Marin County Civic Center. President NIXON commented on these three bombings at a news conference indicating his interest in the matter and the Bureau has requested daily summary teletypes on the progress of the investigation.

All Agents are requested to contact security and racial informants for any knowledge regarding these bombings. Keeping in mind the general description of suspects, all Agents are requested to provide photographs to SA CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN of anyone meeting these general descriptions who have

In response to a telephone request from Inspector [REDACTED] the undersigned drove to San Rafael on October 8, 1970 and assisted in the investigation of the explosion which occurred in the Marin County Hall of Justice Building on October 8, 1970. At that time the explosion scene was examined and limited searching conducted for bomb parts and explosive residues. A few exhibits were recovered and brought back to the laboratory. This report will only cover preliminary studies since it is our understanding that the Federal Bureau of Investigation has taken over this investigation and has independently studied the crime scene and will conduct complete laboratory studies. Since this report is based upon preliminary observations it should not be considered conclusive insofar as the explosive type and charge is concerned. FBI Laboratory analyses may definitely identify the explosive employed and the mechanism used for initiating the explosion.

From a study of the scene it is apparent that the explosive charge was placed in the wall between the women's toilet and the eastward side of courtroom #4. It appears that the charge was between 40 and 45 inches above the floor in the wall on the northern side of the toilet. This toilet was the third one from the southern end of the restroom which is opposite the public mall. The complete wall separating the restroom from courtroom #4 was demolished except for a few support beams. The location of the explosive charge could readily be determined by the bending of piping, metal stall partitions and other destruction which was plainly visible. The explosion was obviously a large one and it appears it required a relatively large charge. Considerable damage was also done to the wall between courtrooms 4 and 5 in an area opposite from the location of the explosive charge in the women's restroom. The wall separating the women's restroom from the elevator lobby was also extensively damaged. Further, the walls between the women's toilet and the vestibule and between the women's toilet and the holding cell were shifted out of alignment. A large piece of metal was found to have traveled completely across the planter bed in the elevator lobby and embedded itself in the wooden paneled wall in the area of the men's toilet. Another piece of similar metal had penetrated completely through this wall and was found inside the wall between the men's toilet and courtroom #3.

From the extensive distorted condition of various pieces of metal and the splitting of some of these pieces it is very apparent that a high velocity explosion occurred. Tests conducted on various pieces of metal recovered disclosed the presence of nitrates on most of them but such material would be found after the explosion of most commercial explosive preparations. In no case was I able to detect ammonium nitrate. This is a common ingredient in most types of dynamite and normally we can detect such residues when regular dynamite has been exploded. While extensive chemical analyses have not been carried out there are indications that the explosive employed was some type of plastic explosive such as C-4. This does not tend to imply that C-4 must have been used but the velocity of the explosion and the lack of residues certainly indicate this as being a strong possibility.

While at the explosion scene the following items were secured by the undersigned:

1. Metal door found embedded exterior wall of men's toilet adjacent to courtroom #3.
2. Metal door found on floor of women's toilet in handicap stall.
3. Bent metal found at various locations in women's toilet and courtroom #4.

On October 14, 1970, Inspector [] delivered to the laboratory the following two additional exhibits:

4. Metal door inside wall of courtroom #3 next to men's toilet.
5. Metal button found in women's toilet.

As previously mentioned, limited preliminary testing disclosed nitrates on most of the above except for Item 2 but no ammonium nitrate was detected. Examination of the bent metal door found on the floor in the toilet for handicapped persons in the women's restroom closest to the public mall showed this to be a 12x12 metal access door. The metal is approximately 1/16 inch thick. One side the door is painted blue and has a latching device screw head. The opposite or inner side of the door contained the lock catch itself and on the other end a hinge. In the center was a manufacturer's paper label. This particular door was apparently broken from the wall at the time of the explosion and it was bent but not extensively damaged. It is apparent that it was not close to the explosion itself. The pieces of metal which were found in the wall of the men's toilet and in the wall of courtroom #3 (Items 1 and 4) are two parts of a door identical to Item 2. They contain the same type of hinge, catch, manufacturer's paper label and painted surfaces. Together these weigh approximately the same as the metal door in Item 2 and correspond with the latter in all respects. They have been literally split apart and bent and twisted severely. In my opinion these two pieces of a metal door were very close to the explosive charge. While we have been unable to definitely prove the location of the access door into the wall behind the center toilet in the women's restroom, there was a type of pressure chamber connected to the piping at this location and there should have been an access door in the wall in front of this tank-type device. I, therefore, believe that it can be established that this door was opened and the explosive materials placed in the wall behind the third toilet in the women's restroom northward from the holding cell. It should also be pointed out that the small metal button found in the women's restroom (Item 5) is like the screwdriver notched button in the access door (Item 2) but missing from the metal door portion (Item 1). Further, a small piece of a spring was found inside the door of toilet stall #3. This door was bent almost in half and contained a large hole with a diameter of about 10 inches which had been blasted through the upper center of the door. The bottom edge of the hole was approximately 30 inches above the bottom of the door and these doors are mounted about 12-1/2 inches from the floor. The spring found in the toilet door is similar to springs used on the hinges in access doors mounted on restroom doors in the Hall of Justice Building. This spring apparently came from the hinge on the door in the wall which is represented by Items 1 and 4.

While in Marin County on October 8, Inspector [redacted] and the undersigned did search through the debris for clock or other bomb fragments. This search however was very limited and consisted primarily of a general observation of the scene and visual inspection of numerous buckets of debris picked up in the blast area. A further search was to be conducted the following day when the undersigned was not present and it is our understanding that this was carried out by the Marin County Sheriff's Office Identification Bureau personnel and Special Agents of the FBI. At that time other materials of significance were recovered.

The above-listed exhibits are being returned to Inspector [redacted]. If further studies by the CII Laboratory are desired, we will be most willing to carry them out but it appears presently unnecessary since the FBI is conducting independent studies and have in their possession additional recovered items.

Mr. [REDACTED], Identification Officer, Marin County Sheriff's Office, San Rafael, California, furnished enclosure to SA THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, 10/14/70.

[REDACTED] further advised he assisted [REDACTED] in conducting various examinations on two pieces of metal obtained from the scene of the bombing, on 10/14/70. It was noted both pieces of metal were 1/16" steel, with traces of blue paint similar to the color used on the utility panel access doors in all of the restrooms on the court floor level of the Hall of Justice. Both items also obtained portions of a manufacturer's label similar to labels on other panel doors. Both portions weighed out to about two pounds 12 ounces. They noted this weight to be within four ounces of a complete panel door.

Discrepancy in weight was attributed to the fact the screw button latch assembly was missing from the retrieved items, and they concluded both pieces were the panel door which had originally been blown from the restroom wall in the location of stall #4.

Further comparison of the two pieces indicated they had been ripped apart, vertically, midway between the two outer edges of the panel. Mr. [] advised this would seem to indicate the explosive device was probably placed directly behind this panel.

b7c

Mr. [] stated he is now in possession of both these pieces of metal and will make them available to the FBI Laboratory upon request. Residue examinations were made of both pieces of metal with only general nitrate reactions occurring. No ammonium nitrate was detected.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

On October 11, 1970, SA CHARLES L. KILLION, assisted by SAs THOMAS FRANK HOWARD, CORNELIUS M. SULLIVAN, [redacted] and [redacted]; and Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted], Marin County Sheriff's Office, conducted examinations of the scene of an explosion which occurred in the area of Superior Courtroom No. 4, Hall of Justice Building, Marin County Civic Center. Examinations continued on October 12, 1970, with SA KILLION being assisted by SAs RAYMOND N. BYERS and KENT Q. BRISBY, Lt. [redacted] and Mr. [redacted].

b6

A wall separates Superior Courtroom No.4 and a ladies restroom. The explosion completely destroyed this wall and extensive damage was caused throughout the courtroom and the restroom. The space within the wall was about 24 inches wide. Water pipes were within the wall.

Based upon the characteristics of the damage, a high explosive charge, such as dynamite, detonated in the wall between the courtroom and the ladies room.

Access to the restroom was from a public corridor. Six stalls were located on the common wall between the courtroom and the restroom. Other similar restrooms were examined and it was found that a hinged steel access door into the wall was located in one of the stalls. The access door was latched with one latch having a screw head slot which permitted opening the door with an object such as a screwdriver. The access door opening into the wall measured 10-3/4 inches high by 11-3/8 inches wide. The center of the opening was 63 inches from the floor.

Fragments of metal which appeared to be from clock parts, and numerous pieces of metal and debris were obtained for further laboratory examination. No identifiable blasting cap, battery or container parts were found.

Mrs. [] advised that the only thing she had noticed unusual on the courts' floor during the week of October 5-9, 1970, was that on October 9, 1970, in the public corridor in the area of the courtroom where a Negro male named [] was on trial, a white female, who appeared to be with [], was making posters that concerned something about the Soledad Brothers defense. Mrs. [] stated the white female was sitting down at the time she saw her but that she appeared to be in her early 20s and approximately 5'6" tall. She said the white female was neatly dressed, believed to have been wearing a dress, and had blond or light brown hair which was piled on top of her head. Mrs. [] could furnish no further information concerning the identity of this female and did not know the full name of [], who was on trial.

Mrs. [redacted]
[redacted] Novato, California, advised she is employed by [redacted] San Francisco, California, as a janitor. She performs janitorial duties at the Marin County Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and her normal working hours are from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday. Her main janitorial duty is to clean the restrooms on the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice wing of the Civic Center. She cleans the private restrooms in the municipal and superior courtroom areas as well as the public restrooms located in the public corridor adjacent to the courtrooms. She also cleans the law library, which is located on the north end of the courts' floor.

Mrs. [redacted] stated she was at work on the night of October 7, 1970, in her usual area in the Civic Center. As is her normal procedure, she began work at 6 p.m. and the first area she cleaned was the private restrooms in the courtrooms. She completed the cleaning of those restrooms at approximately 8 p.m. at which time she began cleaning the restrooms located in the public corridor on the south end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building. She completed the cleaning of the two restrooms in that area approximately at 8:45 p.m. and she then went to the restrooms located on the north end of the courts' floor of the Hall of Justice. She first cleaned the ladies restroom located adjacent to courtroom number 4, superior court, and completed the cleaning of that restroom at approximately 9:15 p.m. She stated she emptied the trashcan in the restroom first, and as is usual procedure, she looked through the trash but saw nothing unusual in it. She stated she also emptied the container used for sanitary napkins and saw nothing unusual in that container. She then completed cleaning of the restroom and saw nothing of an unusual nature on the floor or in any area of the restroom. She said she did not particularly check to see if the plumbing inspection plate located in one of the stalls in the ladies restroom had been tampered with; however, she feels sure she would have noticed it if it had been open or loose. completion of the ladies restroom, she locked the door and proceeded to the mens restroom located on the other side of the elevator from the ladies room she had just cleaned.

After cleaning the mens restroom, Mrs. [] proceeded to the law library located on the north end of the courts' floor in the Hall of Justice Building, which she also cleaned. She left the courts' floor at approximately 11 p.m. on October 7, 1970.

Mrs. [] advised that she noticed nothing strange or unusual on the courts' floor on the night of October 7, 1970, and recalls only seeing one individual on that floor during the time she was there who was other than a member of the char force who was cleaning the building. She does not know the identity of the individual, does not recall if it was a male or female, but she does know that it was an employee of one of the courts located on the courts' floors.

Mrs. [] advised that the other persons working on the courts' floor at the same time she was there was a Mr. [], a Negro male who vacuums the carpets in the courtrooms and the carpets in the hallway to the employees' section of the courtroom; another Negro male whose name Mrs. [] does not know also came through the area at approximately 7 p.m. and emptied the trash in the judges' offices and the other offices located on the courts' floor. She stated a Mr. [] a white male, and another young white male, whose name she does not know, were buffing the public corridor adjacent to the courtrooms at the time she was cleaning the restrooms. The only other persons Mrs. [] saw on the night of October 7, 1970, were Mr. [] the night watchman, and the lady who operates the law library.

Mrs. [] stated that on the night of October 7, 1970, she did not notice anyone on the courts' floor who was carrying any type of package and noted no one who appeared to be suspicious in the area. She stated she could furnish no information concerning the bombing of courtroom number 4 and has no idea as to who may be responsible for the bombing.

[redacted] Hamilton Air Force Base, California, advised he was a member of the custodial staff and worked on the court room floor of the Hall of Justice between the hours of 5:00 and 8:15 p.m. He stated on the evening of Wednesday, October 7, 1970, he recalled having seen a girl whom he described as 5 feet, 4 inches tall, 110-115 pounds, blonde hair, wearing an orange or red dress and appearing foreign in a way he could not describe. She was accompanied by a male, whom he described as having a dark complexion, clean shaven, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, slight build.

This pair had in their possession a camera, and had asked [redacted] directions to an area in the building he could not specifically recall. The only thing of a suspicious nature about this couple apparent to [redacted] was the fact that they were carrying a camera.

He stated this meant nothing to him that night, and he only thought about it later as the possibility occurred to him that a camera case could be used to carry explosives. $200,000 for Marin Courts' Security

Security of public buildings costs money. buildings in the Marin County government center.

The bill is going to be at least $200,000 in Marin County, scene of the multiple death shootout and the bomb-blasting of a courtroom.

The Marin Board of Supervisors has approved in principle the employment of 17 new deputy sheriffs to staff a new security division of the sheriff's office.

Longer Shifts

Until the new officers are on duty, all deputies in the department are working 12 hour shifts, seven days a week.

The supervisors approved the increase in personnel after having added seven bailiffs to the security forces of the courts earlier.

The judge and three others were slain.

The supervisors also voted to curtail the use of public

Schedules

The Hall of Justice will close at 5 p.m. each day and be locked during the week-end. The administration building, which includes the county library and provides meeting rooms for numerous groups, also will be closed at 5 p.m. and during weekends.

Supervisors said the administration building closing would be only temporary.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was in the court room of Judge ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN, JR., at Municipal Court, Department 3, Marin County. He advised that during the afternoon, he observed a female in court who resembled the photograph of a composite drawing of a female who was seen by a janitorial employee around the court house on the day preceding the bombing. This composite drawing of the female is dated October 10. [redacted] stated that this female remained in court from 2:00 p.m., until 5:00 p.m., and that during this time, she frequently left the court room for short periods. [redacted] stated that he particularly remembered this female because she took her shoes off and that he had ordered her to replace the shoes. She replied, "No baby, my feet are swollen". He further recalled that during the afternoon, she sidled up to a 45-year-old Negro male who frequents court and stated in a loud voice, "You know, I was raised by Negroes". [redacted] stated that he checked the court calendar in an effort to determine this female's name, hoping that her case would soon be heard and she would leave. However, her name was not on the calendar. He stated that he has not seen her on previous occasions in court. Further, she had nothing to do with the defendants on trial in court that day. He was uncertain but thought she might have been wearing a floppy-brimmed hat. Age estimate over 30 but due to appearance, difficult to estimate. [] stated that a janitorial employee later found a pair of alligator-type shoes with a brand name of J.C. Penny in them, which were abandoned in court. [] also recalled that in this court the cases of [] and [] were scheduled to be heard at 4:30 p.m. He described these two individuals as reported Black Panthers who had tried to disarm a California Highway Patrolman. He stated that due to delays, their case was not heard until 5:50 p.m. He recalled, however, that the above-described female had nothing to do with these two defendants.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 10/16/70

[redacted], Court Floor Security Officer, Patrol Division, Marin County Sheriff's Office, was interviewed in the Bailiffs' Lounge at the Marin County Court House. Two photographs of a composite drawing of individuals observed at the Marin County Civic Center during the evening of October 7, 1970, were displayed to [redacted]. The information for these composite drawings was supplied by a maintenance employee.

[redacted] advised that the composite drawing dated October 10, 1970, of the male individual resembles one [redacted], who was a recent defendant in a case involving theft of explosives from Hutchinson Company, which is a quarry company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Greenbrae, California. [redacted] advised that [redacted] is due for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] advised that in his tour of duty on the day preceding the bombing, which occurred in the early morning of October 8, 1970, he observed nothing unusual and could suggest no suspects.

[redacted], Deputy Bailiff, Marin County Sheriff's Office, advised that on the day preceding the bombing, October 7, 1970, he was on duty in Department 3 and Department 5 at various times during the day. He advised that he observed nothing unusual or outstanding during his tour of duty on that day. Composite photographs of a drawing furnished by a maintenance employee were displayed to [redacted]. [redacted] explained that he has had seven years of art training and stated that the photograph of the male, dated October 10, is an excellent likeness of an individual he has observed in court involving theft of explosives from the Hutchinson Company in Greenbrae, California. He recalled this individual as [redacted] who comes up for sentencing in approximately two weeks. [redacted] pointed out that the nose, the mouth and the eyes and eyebrows all closely resemble those of [redacted]. [redacted] advised that he could not recall seeing [redacted] at the court house on October 7, 1970, the day preceding the bombing. [redacted] pointed out that two individuals were on trial in Department 3, Municipal Court, Marin County, on October 7. These individuals were charged with violation of California Penal Code Section 242, Battery. Due to the length of the court calendar, these two individuals were at the Marin County Court House between 5:00 p.m., and 6:00 p.m., and had with them three friends. He described them all as Negro except one male Caucasian. He named these individuals as [redacted] (phonetic) and [redacted] (phonetic). He stated that these two individuals were reported to have been Black Panthers. However, he had no personal knowledge of their affiliation.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 10/16/70

Sergeant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed on October 13, 1970, at Police Headquarters, Fairfax. A composite photograph dated October 10, 1970, of an individual seen in the Marin County Court House during late evening on October 7, 1970, preceding the bombing which occurred in the early morning hours of October 8, was displayed to [redacted]. He immediately remarked, "Where did you get the picture of [redacted]?" Further questioning revealed that he actually believed this was a drawing of [redacted]. He was informed that this was a picture of an unknown individual who was observed in the Marin County Court House. He commented that except for the length of the hair, he actually believed that it was a drawing made of [redacted]. [redacted] recalled that he had arrested [redacted] in March, 1970, on a charge of burglary of various bombing materials from the Hutchinson Company, a quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California. [redacted] recalled that he observed a car parked near the quarry with Minnesota license plates and after examining the car, was prepared to leave when he was hailed by an individual who later turned out to be [redacted]. He requested [redacted] to allow a search of the automobile and its trunk. The trunk of this automobile revealed boxes of dynamite, blasting caps, fuses, and various other material used in blasting. Further, [redacted] pointed out various locations near the quarry where he had secreted other blasting material. [redacted] recalled that he was not prepared to handle these various explosive materials but that [redacted] assured him that they were safe to handle and that he, [redacted], knew how to deal with explosives. In spite of [redacted] statement that they were safe to handle, [redacted] secured professional help from the Presidio of the Army to recover the secreted explosive materials.

b6

[redacted] stated that [redacted] is presently awaiting sentencing on charges arising out of the arrest on that occasion and that his case was heard by the Marin County Court authorities. Upon further examination of the picture, [redacted] recalled that around July or August, 1970, [redacted] hair, while still fairly long, had been cut for his court

Date 10/16/70

Lieutenant [redacted], Fairfax Police Department, was interviewed in conjunction with Sergeant [redacted] of the Fairfax Police Department. [redacted] advised that he lives two doors away from the [redacted] residence. He advised that in February, 1970, the Hutchinson Company, 65 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, California, was burglarized and that the case has never been solved. Stolen at that time were various blasting material and explosives. Among the items taken were blasting caps used to set off dynamite explosions. These blasting caps were both electrical and fuse type. [redacted] stated that since the robbery, various explosions have been going off in the vicinity of his residence, which is near the [redacted] residence, both in a school yard and near a railroad track. [redacted] stated that he has recovered two copper blasting caps that were duds and displayed one of these blasting caps. He stated that the serial numbers on these caps corresponded with the series of those stolen from the Hutchinson Company in the unsolved burglary. It is [redacted] opinion that [redacted] was responsible for the prior burglary and may still have in his position an Atlas blasting machine which has not been recovered, as well as other blasting material which the company valued at $345.22.
